

JURY DECLARES CLARENCE DARROW NOT GUILTY OF CHARGES BROUGHT THAT HE BRIBED THE JURYMEN

SENSATIONAL ENDING OF THE LONG TRIAL IN LOS ANGELES CAME WHEN JURY MADE ITS DECISION TODAY.

VETERAN LAWYER FREE

Had Been Charged With Bribing Jurymen and Witnesses in the Famous McNamara Trial Last Year.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 17.—Clarence S. Darrow, the noted Chicago lawyer, was found not guilty today on the charge of bribing a juror in the McNamara case. The jury was out 34 minutes.

The case went to the jury at 9:20 this morning after instructions were read by Judge Geo. H. Hutton. The reading occupied just an hour.

Judge Hutton eliminated the first count in the indictment that Darrow had bribed Geo. N. Lockwood, a regular drawn juror in the case of J. B. McNamara.

The evidence Judge Hutton instructed did not justify a verdict of guilty on the first count.

The second count charged Darrow with attempting to influence a man about to be drawn as a juror.

The court also instructed that the verdict of guilty could not be found on the corroborated evidence of accomplices. "If you had no evidence independent of accomplices you must find not guilty," said the judge. Admission made to accomplices by

TAFT TO CONTINUE FIGHT FOR COURT

President Says He Will Battle For Retention of Commerce Court All Summer If Necessary.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Washington, Aug. 17.—President Taft today told callers at the White House that he intended to fight Congress for the retention of the commerce court if he had to stay in Washington all summer. He said he would veto the legislative and judicial appropriation bill if it came to him containing the provision to abolish the court, as reported by the House today. Two Republican senators, Smoot and Sanders, assured the President today the Senate might pass the bill as reported to their house yesterday, but they were confident it would not pass over second veto.

Senator Newlands today offered a resolution endorsing a committee to confer with President Taft for an agreement on the tariff legislation. It finally went over with Mr. Newlands stating that he would present it for a vote later. Senator Lodge objected on the ground that it was unconstitutional. He referred to a message to the Senate in 1913 when President Madison declined to confer with the committee appointed by the senate to discuss the appointment of an ambassador to Sweden. Senator Root said the question of the appointment of a committee between the executive and Congress was one of importance and recommended that the entire subject be taken and general reform instituted to bring executive and leg-

PRESIDENT SIGNED THE PENSION BILL

Measure Appropriating Money For Payment of Pensions Received Taft's Signature Today.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Washington, Aug. 17.—President Taft's first official action today was to sign the sixteen million pension appropriation bill. The pension officials immediately made notification by telegraph to the outgoing agents to make payment of the money so long held up by the delay in Congress.

When the House today again takes up the vetoed legislative executive judicial appropriation bill, that measure still will contain one of the features for which President Taft vetoed it. It is that section in regard to abolishing the commerce court. There is no doubt as to whether the bill can again appear before the Senate with that provision contained in it. President Taft probably will again disapprove of the measure if it carries such a provision and Congress is anxious to adjourn and get away. The bill was reported on by the committee too late for action yesterday.

Paymaster Smith today allowed the payment of enlisted men of the regular army for the month of July leaving June to be paid later on. The officers have already received their pay for the month of June but the pay of the regulars has been held up in the general deficiency bill.

WEEK'S CELEBRATION AT MINNESOTA TOWN

New Uim Will Commemorate Defense of City Against Sioux Uprising in 1862.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

New Uim, Minn., Aug. 17.—The citizens of this prosperous city have made extensive preparations for the celebration, next week, in commemoration of the defense of New Uim and Fort Ridgely against the uprising of the Sioux Indians in 1862, known in history as "The New Uim Massacre," in which more than 2,000 men, women and children were brutally butchered or tortured to death by the blood-thirsty savages. Today it is exactly fifty years since four young Indians, out for sport and game in the woods near Acton, Meeker county, to prove their courage, shot and killed three men, two women and a young girl, which women act precipitated the uprising of the Indians of that locality and the subsequent massacre.

The celebration, however, will not begin until tomorrow and will be largely in the nature of a "homecoming" week, to include Sunday, Aug. 25. One of the principal features of the celebration will be the re-assembling in this city, of the one hundred and fifty or so surviving defenders of New Uim and Fort Ridgely, some of whom came from Nicollet, St. Peter, Mankato, Le Sueur and other places in Minnesota. Several hundred former citizens of New Uim, now living in various other parts of the country, have also expressed their willingness to visit their former home town on the occasion of this semi-centennial celebration.

Tomorrow there will be memorial services in all the churches of this city, and special programs have been arranged for these services. Monday will be devoted to the welcoming of visiting pioneers. Tuesday afternoon there will be a general reunion of old settlers and their descendants and in the evening the surviving defenders and pioneers will be the guests of honor at a banquet at Turner hall, of the "Junior Pioneers of New Uim and Vicinity," an organization composed of the sons and daughters of those who settled about New Uim prior to or immediately following the massacre. This organization, which was mainly instrumental in arranging this celebration, now numbers two hundred members.

The big day of the week, so far as New Uim is concerned, will be Wednesday. The program for that day includes addresses by Governor Eberhart and Congressmen Hammond and Davis, selections by choruses of a hundred voices, under the direction of Professor Reuter and A. J. Alwin, ball games and airplane flights, band concerts by four bands, picnics in all parks, a grand ball at Turner hall, and a big parade of a historical character in which the militia of this district and the regular troops from Fort Snelling will take part.

On Thursday there will be a great memorial celebration at Fort Ridgely, eighteen miles up the river. Friday will be devoted to the dedication of monuments erected to mark spots of historical interest in connection with the massacre, and to an automobile parade and band concert in the evening. On Saturday the visiting pioneers will be taken on sight-seeing trips and on Sunday will be "German day" under the auspices of the State German Alliance.

Clarence Darrow.

the defendant should not be regarded as corroborated.

The test of a signed accomplice does not require corroboration. This instruction applied to Lockwood.

Only one ballot was taken by the jury.

At the reading of the verdict by the bailiff there was an outburst of applause from E. R. Williams in reply to the court's query that the jury had found the verdict not guilty.

The rushing to the side of Darrow which was stopped by the bailiff was renewed a few moments later. Then ensued a remarkable scene.

Darrow approached the jurors still in the box to thank them and two of them, Jurors Golding and Dunbar, threw their arms around him and patted him on the back.

Other jurors reached over and clasped his hands.

This was followed by a reception by Darrow of those in the court room.

AMERICAN KILLED BY AN AVALANCHE

W. Hunter Workman, Explorer, Lost Life While Climbing In The Himalaya Mountains, India.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Bombay, India, Aug. 17.—W. Hunter Workman, the American explorer, is reported to have been killed by the falling of an avalanche while he was climbing in the Himalaya mountains range in the northern part of India. The coolies attending the expedition report that an avalanche overwhelmed the mountain side and killed one member of the party. Both W. Hunter Workman and his wife of Worcester, Mass., have been engaged in mountain climbing for many years.

TYPOGRAPHERS CONSIDERED REPORT ON DISCHARGES.

Cleveland, Ohio, August 17.—At the typographical union session today the report of the committee on appeals was considered. Cases in violation of rules in discharge of members were taken up and discharges upheld. President Lynch said that the union could not uphold roddysism.

LADY DECIES ANNOUNCES THE ARRIVAL OF DAUGHTER.

London, August 17.—Lady Decies, wife of Baron Decies and daughter of George J. Gould, gave birth to a daughter this morning. Both mother and daughter are reported as doing well.

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT WILL PROBE POLICE GRAFTING

General Investigation Will Be Made Into All Phases of Grafting and Gamblers and Owners of Dives Will Be Made to Testify.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

New York, Aug. 17.—A general investigation into the police graft in all its phases is to be the subject of the extraordinary session of the supreme court to be presided over by Justice Cass.

Under John Dow proceedings Justice Cass can call gamblers and keepers of disorderly houses and force them to tell how much money was paid for police protection and to whom it was paid.

Evidence is in the hands of District Attorney Whitman that disorderly houses in the city paid more than one million dollars for police protection last year, and that this money went to certain police inspectors and to those "higher up."

The punishment inflicted upon Inspector Hayes by reducing him to the rank of captain and then suspending him on the charge that he failed to keep his district clean is believed to be a forerunner of a general shake-up of policemen by Commissioner Waldo who is now convinced that the police have deceived him as to gambling and vice conditions.

Commissioner Waldo said: "There is proof now of graft and bad work on the part of certain inspectors and the men. If these men have been down right crooks the case will come out and they will be punished."

"If they have erred through stupidity or carelessness, they will be made to change their ways or they will be thrown out of the department."

Search in Vain.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 17.—If "Gip the Blood" and "Lefty Louis," the former dressed as a woman, were aboard the steamer Toneson, when she docked here at 6:45 this morning the alleged men implicated in the murder of the gambler in New York city, Hermann Rosenthal, were not molested by the officers of the law and only one man was present in the rain and fog to discover them.

He was a "string" correspondent without an umbrella. The correspondent's line of reasoning appeared perfectly clear. "If it is 'Gip the Blood,'" he said, "she should carry her skirts through the drippy dock approach."

The passage started over the slippery dock and the lady most beautifully carried out the correspondent's theory, but just then one of Lake Superior's fogs came up and settled upon the stump and all feet looked alike.

No one appeared for the capture of the gun men. The correspondent returned to his office and hung his wet coat on a cold radiator.

Schepps' Story.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 17.—Sam Schepps, the present central figure in the Rosenthal murder inquiry, and who arrived here last night enroute from Hot Springs to New York, was the guest of Assistant District Attorney Rubin and four detectives on a sight-seeing trip to Niagara Falls today.

Mr. Rubin is uncommunicative, the detectives reticent and Schepps varied his program from absolute silence to bold references to the Rosenthal case with reminders to the newspaper men that his only authorized statement was made at Hot Springs. Schepps declares he has no knowledge of the actual shooting of Rosenthal.

CATHOLIC SOCIETIES MEET IN LOUISVILLE

Thousands Of Delegates And Visitors Pouring Into Kentucky Capital—Convention Opens Tomorrow.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 17.—Thousands of delegates and visitors, representing the clergy of the Roman Catholic church throughout the country, are pouring into Louisville to attend the eleventh annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies. The gathering will be formally opened tomorrow morning with a solemn pontifical mass at the cathedral. The Most Rev. John Bonzano, the papal delegate at Washington, will be the celebrant. The sermon will be preached by Bishop McFall, of Trenton, N. J. Other features of the convention program will include an address of welcome by Governor McCreary, a response by Edward Feeney of Brooklyn, president of the organization, and an address by Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee on "The Principle of Catholic Federation."

BARY TO SUCCEED LATE GEN. GRANT

Superintendent At West Point Appointed Commander of Eastern Division of Army.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Major General Thomas H. Bary, U. S. A. superintendent of the military academy at West Point has been assigned to command the eastern division with headquarters in New York, succeeding the late Major General Frederick Dent Grant. Colonel C. P. Pownall, first artillery in command of the Portland, Me., artillery district will succeed General Bary as superintendent of the military academy Aug. 21. Brigadier General Pascar H. Bliss, acting since General Grant's death as commander in chief of the eastern division returns to his duties as commander of the department of the east.

COLONEL KEPT BUSY ON BAY STATE TOUR

Program Laid Out For Bull Moose On Initial Campaign Tour Fills Entire Time.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Boston, Mass., Aug. 17.—The program laid out for Colonel Roosevelt during the few hours that he was to be in Massachusetts today, was one to keep the progressive candidate for president almost constantly on the move. The party of local progressives left Boston for Providence where the former president formally opened his new campaign last night to greet Colonel Roosevelt and accompany him to this city. The party expected to arrive here shortly before noon. Colonel Roosevelt is to go to the home of Dr. Sturgis Bigelow for luncheon for a conference with the progressive leaders of Massachusetts.

This was expected to occupy his time until 2:30 p. m. when Colonel Roosevelt was to deliver his Revere address.

Colonel Roosevelt reached here from Providence today at noon today in a motor car to make his first speech at River Beach in this campaign. A crowd waited impatiently aside his hotel for an hour to get a parting glimpse of the former president. He left Providence in an auto at 10:30 this afternoon. "You are a good Bull Moose crowd, good luck," said the Colonel as he sped away. A crowd awaited the Colonel at Pawtucket, North Attleboro and Bedham.

FAST PENNSYLVANIA TRAIN LEFT TRACK

But One Passenger Injured When Eighteen Hour Train Leaves Rails Near Fort Wayne.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 17.—The Pennsylvania eighteen hour New York-Chicago train was wrecked near Middle Point, Ohio, today. When the train left the rails it tore down a number of telegraph poles. The train, number 23 west bound and was due at Chicago at two p. m. Albert Bernard of Chicago was the only passenger who suffered more than trivial injuries according to information received at the offices of the railways here. He was injured about the head and was taken to Fort Wayne.

MAIL STEAMER SANK AT BALBOA, PANAMA

Pacific Steamer Went Down This Morning But Lives of All on Board Were Saved.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

San Francisco, August 17.—The Pacific mail liner Newport sank at Balboa Panama this morning. All on board were saved.

EARTHQUAKES CAUSE OF MUCH SUFFERING

Members of Relief Expeditions Return With Appalling Stories of Want Near Sea of Mianmore.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Constantinople, Turkey, August 17.—An appalling story of the suffering and damage caused by the recent earthquakes in regions about the Sea of Mianmore is told by the members of an expedition on August 14th to the stricken district, returned here today.

GRAND ROUNDUP OF MOOSES BEGINS AT KANSAS CITY

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 17.—The advance guard of the 50,000 visitors expected in Kansas City next week for the annual national convention of the Loyal Order of Moose put in an appearance today. Tonight and tomorrow special trains will arrive with large delegations from cities throughout the United States and Canada. The downtown section of the city is a mass of flags and bunting in honor of the convention visitors. The gathering will be formally opened Monday with a public session in Convention Hall. The program covers five days and is replete with interesting features of social entertainment. The Canadian delegations propose to make a hard fight for next year's convention of the order. Both Toronto and Winnipeg are applicants.

STATE INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION GIVES WIDOW COMPENSATION.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Madison, August 17.—The state industrial commission today awarded the sum of $2,400 to Mrs. Anna Mycek whose husband was killed on the C. Reis Coal Co. docks. This amount was four times the annual salary of the deceased.

CASH RESERVE SHOWS A VERY SLIGHT DECREASE.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

New York, August 13.—The actual report for the condition found in clearing houses for the week show that cash reserves show $26,552,000 this is a decrease of $236,250, as compared with last week.

WHY DID BRITTINGHAM RESIGN AS U. W. REGENT?

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Madison, Wis., August 17.—Thomas E. Brittingham has resigned as member of the state board of regents of the University of Wisconsin for reasons not yet known.

MANY PROMOTED IN ARMY DEPARTMENT

Announcement Made Today Of Further Appointment And Advancement Of Army Officers.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Washington, Aug. 17.—Brig. General William Crozier, U. S. A. Chief of the bureau of Ordnance has been selected to succeed Brig. General A. L. Mills as president of the army war college. General Mills becomes chief of the division of militia affairs, relieving Brig. General R. K. Evans who has been assigned to command the department of the Gulf, recently commanded by Brig. General Witherspoon now in nomination before the senate to be major general. Brig. General E. S. Stever, temporarily commanding the department of Texas succeeds the late Brig. General Duncan who is made commander of that division.

AUSTRIAN EMPEROR EIGHTY-TWO TODAY

Celebrates Anniversary in Quiet Manner at Summer Villa—Public Observance Held.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Vienna, Aug. 17.—Emperor Francis Joseph will celebrate his 82nd birthday anniversary tomorrow in a quiet way at his summer villa in Ischl. Public celebrations will be held throughout the entire monarchy.

Francis Joseph was born at Vienna, August 18, 1830, as the eldest son of Emperor Ferdinand I, who ruled from 1835 to 1848. Ferdinand abdicated on December 2, 1848, amid the turbulent scenes that threatened the dissolution of the empire, and his brother, the Archduke Francis, having surrendered his claims to the tottering throne, his son, Francis Joseph, became Emperor of Austria, though he was not crowned King of Hungary until June 8, 1867. At the time of Francis Joseph's ascension to the Austrian throne, Hungary was in a state of revolt and, with Kossuth as Governor, declared itself a republic in 1849.

Charles Albert of Sardinia, again took up arms against Austria in Italy. Austria triumphed, however, both in Italy and Hungary and the Emperor devoted himself to the reestablishment of his authority. In 1859 he was forced to face a war with France and Sardinia, which ended with the loss of the Lombardy. A reconstruction of the monarchy on a dualistic basis was effected in 1867. In 1854 the Emperor married Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria, who was assassinated by an anarchist about eleven years ago. The emperor's only son, Crown Prince Rudolf, was found dead in a hunting lodge in 1889.

WILSON IS GREETED ON NEW JERSEY DAY

Large Delegations From All Over State Swarm Sea Girt Today in Honor of Candidate.

Sea Girt, N. J., Aug. 17.—Today is New Jersey day at Governor Woodrow Wilson's summer home. Delegations and marching clubs from many points in the state with brass bands and campaign flags were expected to gather here about noon when Governor Wilson was to deliver a political address. Arrangements were made for a large crowd. Extraneous had been pitched on the ground near the Governor's cottage. The women of the Wilson-Marshall League of New Jersey set up headquarters adjacent to the governor's house.

Want Harmony in Party.

Columbus, Ohio, August 17.—W. F. McCombs, chairman of the democratic national committee, has written Governor Harmon urging him to be present at the notification of Governor Marshall of his candidacy for the presidency, August 20th, at Indianapolis. In the letter McCombs says it was the wish of Governor Wilson that the Ohio delegate be present at the ceremony because of the influence his presence would have in perpetuating party harmony. Governor Harmon is at his home in Michigan and because of the stress of other matters at that time it is expected that he will probably decline the invitation.

RAIN DAMAGES CROP IN NORTHERN PARTS

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 17.—Chilly weather for the past two weeks accompanied by almost daily downpours of rain has retarded the development of tobacco and the continued uneven conditions have delayed the growth and delayed the crop in the field. As a result the harvesting will be later than usual. In many fields there is a remarkable growth and a fine outlook but on the whole the crop is uneven and apparently stunted.

NEW BRUNSWICK CAPITAL TO WELCOME CONNAUGHT

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

St. John, N. B., Aug. 17.—Everything is in readiness for the reception and entertainment of the Duke of Connaught and his party, who are due to arrive here on the steamer Earl Grey late tonight or early tomorrow morning. Under escort of the local regiment of artillery, the vice-regal party will attend services at Trinity church tomorrow. Monday's program provides for the official welcome at the court-house, a drive about the city, luncheon at the Union club, a visit to Rockwood park in the afternoon and a public reception in the evening. On Tuesday morning the vice-regal party will leave for Fredericton.

TAFT TERMS BOLTING OF INSTRUCTIONS BY ELECTORS DISHONEST

President Makes First Political Speech Since Notified of Nomination—Asks Fair Fight.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 17.—President Taft has made his first political speech since that he made when notified of his renomination. Addressing members of the Maryland Republican Editorial association in the east room of the White House, he declared bluntly that presidential electors were "dishonest men" if they let their names appear on the Republican ballot and intended to vote for the candidate of another party. He asserted that those who were not for the Republican party were against it and should get out of the way.

"All we ask is a fair fight. A man cannot be in the Republican party and in a third party at the same time and should be compelled to make his selection," said the President. "Regularly and feeling of regularity and respect for the Republican party, for what it has done, what it is capable of doing, are going to bring over into the Republican party many a man who has been doubtful, and it is going to increase that number, in my judgment as we approach the election."

"It is therefore essential that we make the cleavage as clear as it can be made, so that those who are Republicans shall be Republicans and those who are not shall be not. Those who are not shall bear their name and title and not be Republicans and bolters, because they cannot be—at least they ought not to be in all fairness."

Should Support Party.

"We ought to have electors. In each state bearing the emblem of the Republican party, hearing the names of the candidate of that party for president or vice-president at the head of the ticket, covering the electors who are going for those names. If there are any men on that list who are not going to vote for the men at the head of that ticket, I don't hesitate to say that they are dishonest men, in that they are holding out to the people who are to vote for them an implied promise that they will vote for the names on the ticket when they, in fact, intend to vote for somebody else. I think that is just following the plainest kind of principles of ordinary morals."

Some of the editors told the president that either the electors chosen for the Republican ticket in Maryland would declare their intention to support him or a new state convention would be held to make new selections. He said he felt sure Maryland would take long steps in the right direction.

The President began his speech with a brief summary of what the Republican party has done since 1896.

"We are Republicans. That means that we believe in certain principles: that we believe in the Constitution of the United States; that we believe in maintaining that Constitution; that we believe in progress along the lines that that Constitution indicates. We are protectionists and we are in favor of maintaining the present prosperity by maintaining a tariff system which shall preserve business as it goes on now and shall secure as high wages as possible to the wage-earners and a reasonable profit to those who invest their capital. Those two propositions cover a good deal of Republicanism."

Want To Elect Congress.

"Being a party we are anxious to have the opinions that our party represents put into force in the operation of the government. The only way we can do that is by the election of a Congress and a President who will carry them out. Now that means that we have to be a single party and not a part of two parties. I don't think we are unfair in asking that we be given a chance for a fair fight and in counting those against us who are not with us."

"To have a man on both sides of the fight when we are on one side is unfair, especially when he is behind you."

"Before the convention it is all right that we should differ as to the men best qualified to represent us as Republicans in carrying out the principles of the party. But after the convention each voter's influence should carry its proper and proportionate weight in the election of the party's candidates."

ARRESTED OFFICER OF REBEL FORCES

Col. Robelo, Wanted For Violation of Neutrality Laws, Taken At El Paso Last Night.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Washington, Aug. 17.—Col. Robelo, a Mexican revolutionary officer wanted by the United States for violating the neutrality laws was arrested at El Paso last night according to reports from General Seever. American officials hope to aid in preserving order by refusing to allow persons not vouched for by the United States or Mexican consuls from crossing the line into El Paso. Robelo says Orozco will leave a small guard at Juarez pending the arrival of the federals to prevent lawlessness.

OBSERVE OLD HOME WEEK IN NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Concord, N. H., Aug. 18.—With beacon lights aglow in her hilltops, the Granite State will tonight bid welcome to the hundreds of her sons and daughters returning for the annual celebration of Old Home Week. For a week to come family reunions will be in order in every city, town and hamlet throughout the State. New Hampshire originated the idea of Old Home Week fourteen years ago. Since that time it has been adopted by numerous other states and by several of the Canadian provinces.

There's a 95c Shoe Sale Here That You Should Take Advantage Of.

The shoes are fine qualities; but broken lots, best this season's goods. If you can find your size you'll get a rattling good bargain.

D. J. LUBY & CO.

PERFECT VENTILATION AT THE

Lyric Theatre

Our big exhaust fan fills the room with fresh air every two minutes.

YOU CAN GET A GREAT BIG DINNER AT

BARNES' CAFE

311 W. Milwaukee Street.

SUMMER DRESSES

Faultlessly Dry Cleaned, JAMESVILLE CHEMICAL STEAM DYE WORKS, C. F. Brockhaus, Prop.

Three Graces Sundae 15c

Razook's Candy Palace House of Purty, 30 So. Main St.

Kelly Racine Tires

Guaranteed 3500 Miles For sale by J. A. STRIMPLE 219 E. Milw. St.

SUSPENDERS

of excellent quality, at 25c and 50c a pair.

HALL & HUEBEL

Where and When

You're been backed up against the wall—you can't continue in the wrong direction—you must either stand still or face about and march forward.

Try It With a FORD Suit To Help

W. E. Hutton & Co.

Bankers and Brokers Established 1886 60 Broadway, 1st Nat. Bank Bldg., New York. New York Stock Exchange, Cincinnati Stock Exchange, New York Cotton Exchange, Chicago Board of Trade.

Bond Department

Electric Light Co. First Mortgage Bonds yielding 6%. Descriptive circular of this issue and Manual of Public Service Corporations sent free upon request.

BANK EXCHANGES SHOW UP WELL IN THE REPORT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] New York, Aug. 17.—Dunn's review today says, "Bank exchanges this week will again make quite a satisfactory comparison with those of a year ago and show a notable increase over 1910 the total of all leading cities in the United States aggregating $2,552,295,616, a loss compared with the same week last year of 1.3%, but a gain of 15% compared with the corresponding week two years ago."

A DELIGHTFUL Lake Tour Is by the Picturesque Green Bay Route.

Stopping at Potoskey, Harbor Springs and Mackinac Island. Round trip rate from Green Bay to Mackinac Island, $10; to Sault Ste. Marie, $20, including berth and meals. Ask Mr. A. A. Russell, Janesville, Wis., or Mr. R. McGinn, Green Bay, Wis., agents for the Arnold Transit Co. for further information. Make your reservations early.

D. W. WATT Tells of his Experience with Wagon and Railroad Shows

Just how the Kansas White "Heifer" came to be a part of the great Adam Forepaugh show it told by Mr. Watt in this weeks tales from circus life. The great "Kansas White Heifer" was unlike many of the circus freaks, it was natural and nothing made up about it. The tale Mr. Watt relates as to its purchase show how alert circus men are for new features. The little tale that is told of McCarty, the former clown in the Forepaugh show, by Mr. Watt is merely an example of the fellowship that exists between men and women that live have their lives beneath the white canvas roofs. There is a bond that can not be broken even after years of separation and there are no more liberal hearted people than these self same circus folk when it comes to aid a companion in hard luck. Some years ago Dexter Fellows and Joe Brogan, both of them members of the administration staff of the Buffalo Bill show at that time, spent a winter in Hot Springs, Arkansas. One day they met a worn out dilapidated specimen of humanity on the streets of the city, who greeted Brogan with a "Howdy". Brogan looked at him and discovered he was a former circus clown, who had been with the show for one season. Worn out, almost dead from the disease that had taken hold of him, he was a pitiful object. Both Brogan and Fellows, emptied their pockets for his immediate relief and not satisfied passed among other circus folk who were wintering at the resort and soon collected a goodly sum to pay his actual expenses, for some months to come. That they saved his life and he ultimately recovered and probably is alive today for their work of love is but incidental to the tale. It illustrates the spirit shown by these men of the "tents" to each other.

The life of the average circus man is not all parade and glory. There is good hard work connected with it. The work of the day is sometimes followed by the labors of the night. Travelling on the special trains does not preclude accidents, wrecks and death to beasts and employees. Loss of time means loss of money hence the transportation bureau of a big show must be arranged most carefully.

Mr. Watt has told us of travel by land, overland through mud and rain, with food for man and beast soaked and now he relates an accident which happened down in Tennessee in which there was loss of life and the escape of animals from the cars in which they were stored. He also relates an incident of the old Burr Robbins show when it used to winter here and how they handled their animals in winter quarters.

In the middle of the eighties, I think '86, we showed in Topeka, Kansas, on a Thursday the same week that they were holding the state fair, and it was said that on that day they sold over 52,000 tickets at the grounds. It was one of the hottest days that I ever saw, the thermometer hovering about the 100 mark and no breeze stirring. We did the turn away business there afternoon and evening in spite of the awful weather. Our show ground was about half way between the city and the fair ground on the main road where the dust and dirt was terrible.

I had just got through selling tickets for the afternoon house when Mr. Forepaugh drove around to the wagon and said for me to look up everything and go out to the fair ground with him as he had some business there to look after. I said to him I could not go, I had work enough there for four men, but he insisted and I got in the carriage and we drove to the fair ground and he finally brought me up in front of a big side show tent and the banner in front claimed that they had the largest cow in the world. He told me to go in and take a look at her and I thought she was worth it. I could hold the horse and he would go in. I came out and took charge of the horse and told him to go inside and not come out till he had bought her. He went in and took a look at her and asked the farmer what he would ask for such a critter. The owner said if he sold her he would sell tent and everything with her and that the price would be $5,000. Mr. Forepaugh said to him, "Isn't that a good deal of money for a cow?" The farmer said "Yes, but isn't she quite a critter?" Mr. Forepaugh had not been gone more than 15 minutes when he came out and said to me, "I have bought the cow."

One of the big 60 foot box cars was fixed up like a palace and the cow known as "The Kansas White Heifer" was one of the features of the show from then on. The salary list for the side show with its tents, midgets and curiosities was $1,750 per week and the Kansas heifer, the only attraction in her tent took in as much money as the other side show until the time she was killed on the Louisville and Nashville road in Tennessee later in the fall. She was four years old the bills said that she weighed 4,250 pounds and no one who ever saw her doubted it.

In this week on the Louisville and Nashville road we not only lost the Kansas heifer, the great feature of the show, but a great number of horses, three people killed and several others badly hurt. It happened at 8 o'clock in the morning. The 8:30 o'clock form St. Patrick's church. Rev. Fr. James J. McGinnity officiated at the services and preached a splendid sermon, speaking of the many noble qualities of Mr. Smith. Many relatives and friends from the city and out of town attended the services and the floral offerings were handsome. The pallbearers were: Michael Finley, Samuel Watson, John Connors, Charles Viney, Peter Skelly and Thomas Tracy. Interment was made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Mr. Smith was a plain man of true principles, quietly devoted to the service of his fellow men, giving more than he received and asking no recognition but finding his reward in the knowledge of work well performed. The family in their sorrow have the comfort of the knowledge to a greater and higher field than that of petty human glory, a field that only the best and worthiest may reach.

Mrs. Bridget Birmingham. The funeral of Mrs. Bridget Birmingham was conducted at 10:30 o'clock this morning from St. Patrick's church by the Rev. Fr. William Mahoney. The services were attended by many relatives and friends who came to pay their last tributes of respect to Mrs. Birmingham's memory. The remains were interred in Mt. Olivet cemetery. The pallbearers: Thomas Whalen, Edward Doherty, Edward John, N. P. and George Birmingham.

Gilbert Rubin. The remains of Gilbert Rubin, who was killed yesterday morning when his head was crushed under the wheels of an automobile, were shipped to Chicago last evening at 8:12 over the St. Paul railroad. The funeral will be held in Chicago.

St. Mary's Catholic. St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Rev. Wm. Goebel, pastor. First Mass 8:00 a. m.; second Mass 10:00 a. m. during July and August. Vespers and benediction at 7:30 p. m.

St. Patrick's Catholic. St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Corner of Cherry and Holmes Street, Rev. E. E. Reilly, pastor. Rev. Wm. Mahoney, assistant pastor, Residence 315 Cherry Street. First Mass, 7:00 a. m.; second Mass 8:30 a. m.; third Mass 10:00 a. m. Vespers and benediction, 7:30 p. m.

Cargill Methodist Church. Rev. T. D. Williams, minister, Miss Mattie Kissel, deaconess. 8:45—Class meeting, S. Richards, leader. 10:30—Sermon by pastor, "The Laws and Ideals of Heaven Established On The Earth."

7:30—Union service in Methodist Church. Sermon by pastor, Subject: "A Prophet's Definition of True Religion." Music by Chorus Choir in charge of Mrs. Van Ness Grech. "Come Unto Me," Lansing. "Sun of My Soul," Reynier. "Heardly Unto The Lord," Esswood. Sunday School 11:45 a. m. T. E. Bannison, superintendent. Junior League 3:30. Epworth League 6:30. W. I. Rothermal, leader. Subject: "The Modesty of Strength." Pentecostal service—Tuesday 4 p. m. Prayer meeting—Thursday 7:30. All invited to all services.

Haward Chapel. Bible School at 9:30 a. m. A careful study of the International lesson followed by a short sermon positive, practical. Gospel tent Riverview Park. Reading service at 3:00 p. m. Duets at 7:45 p. m. Special service during the entire week at 7:45 p. m. A Mother's Meeting at 3 p. m. on Saturday. All these meetings ought to be well sustained as they will be of profit. A spirited Christian to all.

United Brethren Church. Church of the United Brethren in Christ, Corner Milton and Prospect Avenues—Chas. J. Roberts, pastor. Sunday School 11:00 a. m. Preaching 11:00 a. m. Subject: "Man, The Master of His Environment." Christian Endeavor 6:30 p. m. Preaching 7:30 p. m. Subject: "The Religion of Christ the Only True Religion." Helping Hand Society Thursday afternoon. Prayer Meeting Thursday evening.

CHARLES L. FIFIELD

JOHN T. ATKINSON

Resident of he Town of La Prairie

Republican Candidate for COUNTY CLERK Primaries, Tuesday, September 3, 1912.

Patrick Smith. Funeral services for the late Patrick Smith were held this morning at

An opportunity will be given for persons to unite with the Church at the morning service. The public are most cordially invited to attend the services.

Christian Science Church. First Church of Christ, Scientist, holds services in Thursday, Block West Milwaukee street, Sunday morning at 10:30 and Wednesday evening at 7:45. The subject of the Lesson—Sermon Sunday morning will be "Soul." Sunday school meets at 12 o'clock. Reading room open daily, except Sunday and holidays, from 2 to 4 p. m.

Trinity Church. Eleventh Sunday after Trinity. Morning Prayer, Litany and sermon 10:30 a. m.

MONROE MAN LOST PURSE AT PASSENGER STATION

M. Robinson of Monroe Thinks Pocket Was Picked While He Was Getting on Train Thursday.

While passing through this city on his way to Chicago, Thursday morning, M. Robinson of Monroe lost a purse containing thirty dollars in money, and thinks he had his pocket picked as he was getting on the Chicago train. There was a crowd at the train as Mr. Robinson was getting aboard, he says, and he thinks some of the light-fingered gentry relieved him of his money. He has written to the local railroad authorities and an investigation is being made, but it is doubtful if the pocketbook will be found.

COUNTY COAL CONTRACT AWARDED TO CULLEN BROS.

At a meeting of the purchasing committee of the county board yesterday the contract for coal to supply the court house and county jail for the coming fall and winter was allowed to Cullen Brothers, who were the lowest bidders. One hundred tons of coal, large-sized egg for the court house and small-sized for the jail, will be furnished at $8.25 and $8.50. The other bidders were Herman Buggs, Brittingham and Hixon, and the W. J. Baker Coal company.

NAT GOODWIN REPORTED OUT OF DANGER TODAY.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Los Angeles, August 17.—Nat Goodwin, the actor, injured Thursday when he was thrown from his row boat and dashed against the shore at Rocky Beach is pronounced out of danger today. His physicians say he will be out of bed tomorrow.

Paid advertisement; amount paid, $1.00 each insertion.

Just a Reminder that I need your Support to be the next

Sheriff Of Rock County Alvah D. Maxfield

417 Fourth Ave., Janesville, Wis.

Paid Advertisement. Amount paid, 50c each insertion.

ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE VOTERS OF ROCK COUNTY

I desire to announce that I am a candidate for the office of County Judge at the next Spring election and respectfully solicit your support.

CHARLES L. FIFIELD

GUARANTEED WATCHES

Our watch guarantee means something. Come in and let us tell you what it is.

OLIN & OLSON, Jewelers

Madame, Petroleum Carbon Will Save You Money

IT'S THE MOST ECONOMICAL AND MOST SATISFACTORY DOMESTIC FUEL ON THE MARKET

It's 97 1/2 per cent fuel; there's no money in the ash. It's easy to handle; lights readily and burns with a fierce, hot flame that is ideal for cooking purposes. Telephone for a ton. Our careful, courteous driver will deliver your fuel promptly and place it where you want it. Petroleum Carbon $9.00 per ton delivered.

Eastern Coke is a high grade coke, the best sold anywhere hereabouts. Cost $7.50 per ton delivered.

Order your Scranton Coal NOW. Cheaper than it will be

Brittingham & Hixon Lumber Co. BOTH PHONES 117

PAID ANNOUNCEMENT

Political Announcement. Written and authorized by W. T. Sherman. Amount paid, $5.00 for each insertion.

W. T. SHERMAN

Town of LaPrairie CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY TREASURER

On The Republican Ticket Primaries September 3rd Seven years a member of the County Board. Any support tendered my candidacy will be appreciated.

Paid Political Announcement. Written and authorized by George B. Merrill. Price paid, $5.00 each insertion.

Vote For

Geo. B. Merrill Republican Candidate for SHERIFF of Rock County

At Primaries TUESDAY SEPT. 3, 1912 Now Deputy Sheriff of Rock Co.

Connected with Beloit Police Department 15 Years

Port Shot Shots by Dad McCort

The present year is likely to be a lean one for the major league clubs although none is expected to lose money. Of the big money-makers, the Giants will yield $250,000 profits. Were it not for the 50 per cent division of admissions at all major league parks, some unsuccessful clubs would sustain heavy losses.

Tom Sharkey, once the leading heavyweight pugilist, with a record of standing 25 rounds before Jim Jeffries, has announced himself as a "contender for the white heavyweight championship of the world." Must be suffering from the heat.

Johnny Dundee, the young featherweight, is one of those fellows who have a pair of ears that stand out prominently as an advertisement of the profession. His left ear was knocked galley west in his third bout, while in his fifth bout his right ear was pummeled into a condition in keeping. But Dundee still has hopes of beauty regained. His manager declares that hot vinegar rubbed into the ears will chase the cauliflower effect away.

Cecil Healy, Australia's veteran swimmer, may be seen in this country within the next few months and watermen are looking forward with keen appreciation to his visit for he is not only one of the fastest all around performers in the world, but a leading authority in the science and theory of notation.

The initiative measure seeking to enact a law legalizing race track betting in California and the establishment of a racing committee having charge of racing and betting, will go on the ballot in November. The pet tion contains 60,000 signatures, while only 31,000 is required by law.

The King's plate and the Provincial Nursery, the latter being for two-year olds bred and raised in the province of Quebec, have both been increased in value this season and will be run during the present meeting.

Robert McRoy, one of the owners of the Boston American league team, now leading in that organization's pennant race, says, he is returning money and checks daily to fans who enclose it to him for tickets to the world's series in October. Even if the commission would allow it, a baseball club could not accept the money before the pennant was clinched, on account of superstition.

Not in the history of boxing in this country has the heavyweight ever been so much in dispute and so far from having a real owner as now. With Johnson out of the way—if Jack is sincere about his retirement—fully five or six men lay claim with more or less justification to the crown. Awaiting the horizon of fighters are still visible the threatening shadows of Joe Jeannette and Sam Langford. Jeannette whose friends claim he is a match for Jack Johnson, would like to obtain recognition as champion. He is only twenty-six, which is comparatively young for a heavyweight boxer.

President Taft does not intend to neglect golf even for politics. Several of the visitors who are going to Beverly have been asked there for the express purpose of playing golf. Those who can discuss the presidential campaign at the same time are especially welcome.

GAMES SUNDAY.

National League.
Philadelphia at Chicago.
New York at St. Louis.
Boston at Cincinnati.

American League.
No games scheduled.

RESULTS YESTERDAY.

National League.
New York, 7; Chicago, 4.
Cincinnati, 4; Brooklyn, 3.
Philadelphia, 5; Pittsburgh, 3.
St. Louis, 7; Boston, 5.

American League.
Washington, 4; Chicago, 0.
St. Louis, 3; Boston, 2.
Philadelphia, 2; Cleveland, 1.
New York, 9; Detroit, 8.

American Association.
Minneapolis, 4; Columbus, 2.
Toledo, 4; St. Paul, 1.
Milwaukee, 3; Indianapolis, 1.
Kansas City, 4; Louisville, 3 (ten innings).

Wisconsin-Illinois League.
Appleton, 5; Aurora, 3 (thirteen innings).
Green Bay, 11; Madison, 1.
Wausau, 7; Rockford, 3.
Racine, 11; Oshkosh, 1.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

Clubs—	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	74	30	.712
Chicago	69	37	.651
Pittsburgh	65	41	.612
Philadelphia	51	55	.480
Cincinnati	51	55	.480
St. Louis	49	58	.458
Brooklyn	39	70	.358
Boston	28	77	.267

Clubs—	W.	L.	Pct.
Boston	75	37	.670
Philadelphia	67	43	.609
Washington	63	44	.587
Chicago	54	56	.491
Detroit	55	59	.482
Cleveland	51	60	.459
New York	36	72	.333
St. Louis	30	74	.327

Clubs—	W.	L.	Pct.
Minneapolis	82	44	.651
Toledo	75	47	.615
Columbus	78	57	.578
Kansas City	62	63	.496
Milwaukee	57	66	.463
St. Paul	57	70	.449
Indianapolis	47	83	.362
Louisville	45	80	.360

Clubs—	W.	L.	Pct.
Racine	61	38	.616
Oshkosh	60	41	.594
Appleton	58	41	.588
Wausau	50	53	.485
Rockford	47	54	.465
Green Bay	47	54	.465
Aurora	40	59	.404
Madison	40	63	.388

CRACK RIFLE MARKSMEN AT NEW ENGLAND MATCH

Boston, Mass., Aug. 17.—The eighth annual tournament of the New England Military Rifle Association will commence at the Wakefield ranges on Monday, and the competition promises to be the most successful ever held under the auspices of the association. The tournament will bring together some of the greatest rifle shots in the United States and also Canada. Entries have been received from states as far distant as Texas and Alabama. There are many new features this year in the way of valuable prizes, the most notable being that presented by Col. Charles Hayden, paymaster general of the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia, which is a statue valued at $1,000. New competitions have been arranged for rifle clubs and also for schoolboys of the States.

Want Ads are money-savers.

Neglect a Serious Matter. Don't neglect yourself, if you have eczema or skin trouble of any kind. Get a bottle of Meritol Eczema Remedy and cure yourself. You will be delighted with this prescription. Reliable Drug Co., sole agents.

MRS. WORRY.

By C. A. Voight

At The Theatre

Harold Bell Wright, the author of "The Shepherd of The Hills," "The Winning of Barbara Worth," "The Call of Dan Mathews," and "The Printer of Udell's," has made, in collaboration with Elsie W. Reynolds, a dramatization of his most popular story, "The Shepherd of The Hills." The play has received an excellent production from Gaskill and Mac Villy, and Manager Myers of the Myers Theatre has secured the original cast and production for his theatre, Sunday, Aug. 25, Mat. and evening.

"The Shepherd of The Hills" is a splendid story of real life among the Ozark hills of Missouri and Arkansas. If you go there you will find a Mitten Hollow, a hill like Dewey Bald and people like Sammy Lane, Young Matt, Mac Howard and Father Hewitt. Clinging to the beautiful story simply told, is the very atmosphere of the life of the picturesque region which is so sadly unfamiliar to the travelers in search for new scenes. It is a clean and strong play, well worth seeing many times.

"Officer 666," easily the best play of the year, is being presented simultaneously in New York and Chicago. At the Gaiety theatre in the first named city it has passed its 150th consecutive performance, while the Geo. M. Cohan Grand Opera in the western metropolis is trailing along with a tally of more than 100 times to its credit. "Officer 666" will run right through the summer in both New York and Chicago, and in September he reigns, when this melodramatic force of laughs, thrills, heart throbs and mystery will begin a systematic tour covering every important amusement point in the United States, one is this city which is to be visited by "Officer 666" at Myers theatre Tuesday, Oct. 8.

$100 Reward. $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh, being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by all Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

When a Man Marries His Troubles Begin

But if the married man who owns an automobile only knew how easily he could eliminate his starting and cylinder troubles by using 68-70 Test Imperial Gasoline and Decarbonized Viscolene Auto Oil it would improve his disposition so that he could put up with the balance of his troubles with better grace. 68-20 Test Imperial Gasoline is clean, uniform and instantaneous, assuring you of more power, mileage and better results gallon for gallon than any other gasoline offered for sale. Viscolene Auto Oil contains practically no carbon and its rich lubricating properties assure perfect lubrication to all the wearing parts, adding to the life of the cylinders, piston rings and bearings. When in the market for gasoline and cylinder oil call us and we will furnish you with goods that will assure satisfaction and minimize your engine troubles.

Kinnie & Son

PENNSYLVANIA OILS.

417 So. Academy Street. Both Phones.

Independent.

Not in the Trust.

READ GAZETTE WANT ADS

Announcing The Opening Of A New Coal Yard Which Will Be Progressive, Maintain Fair Prices And Give The Best Service.

This Advertisement is for Your Attention: The Governing Ideas of this business will be Protection to Our Trade, Economy in Handling and Convenience in Location.

We're starting in this business with the firm belief that we're going to win out. We're putting it right up to you, Mr. Man, Who Buys The Coal. If you want the best the market affords, if you want service that is not included in the prices, if you want just a little bit more than your money will buy anywhere else, why it's a cinch that we will win out. We want your business and are going to work hard for it. May we have your coal order?

We believe in absolutely fair dealing with everybody. There'll be no rebates of any kind. We expect every man to pay us our price and be secure in the knowledge that he is not paying more than his neighbor.

All our coal is carefully screened, kept under cover and is handled directly into our yard, from the cars, without waste of time or labor. We guarantee the weight of every order that is sent out to be exactly in compliance with the original order. Our deliveries will be prompt and our teamsters obliging and careful.

Our office is conveniently located near the center of town so that it is easily reached from any point in the city.

Until September 1st we'll book orders for the best grade of screened hard coal at $9.00 per ton. After that time the price will be higher.

YOU know that the best is none to good for you. The best cigars

Imperial PERFECTO 10c CIGAR
—OR—
Max No. 10
A MIGHTY GOOD 5c CIGAR

at your favorite dealer's; cheaper by the box.

Cor. Franklin & Wall St.
At The Old City Scales.

LA CROSSE ORGANIZES A LARGE KAREL CLUB
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
La Crosse, Aug. 16.—Six hundred La Crosse voters have signed a membership roll of the Karel club according to the announcement of today of J. B. Murray, president of the club, who added that the total will run up to 1,500 by the end of next week. A formal invitation has been extended to Judge Karel to visit La Crosse Sunday, August 25, and remain over the following day.

German Agriculture.
Agriculture supports nearly 19,000,000 of the inhabitants of the German empire.

The Janesville Gazette

New Bldg. 200-204 E. Milwaukee St.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESVILLE, WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

GAZETTE BRANCH OFFICE, J. P. BAKER AND SON DRUG STORE, CORNER MILWAUKEE AND FRANKLIN STS. BOTH PHONES NUMBER TEN.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS.

BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENING.

WEATHER FORECAST. Showers tonight and Sunday; south-west winds becoming variable.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily Edition by Carrier. One Month $1.50. One Year $15.00. One Year, cash in advance $14.00. Six Months, cash in advance $7.50. WEEKLY EDITION. One Year $1.50. Six Months $1.00. Three Months $0.75. CASH IN ADVANCE.

Editorial Rooms, Rock Co. 62. Editorial Rooms, Bell 78. Business Office, Rock Co. 77-2. Business Office, Bell 77-2. Printing Department, Rock Co. 77-2. Printing Department, Bell 77-2. For all departments, GAZETTE PRINTING CO.

GAZETTE JULY CIRCULATION. Sworn circulation statement of The Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette circulation for July.

DAYS	Copies	Copies
1	6020	6018
2	6020	6018
3	6020	6018
4	6020	6018
5	6020	6018
6	6020	6018
7	6020	6018
8	6020	6018
9	6020	6018
10	6020	6018
11	6020	6018
12	6020	6018
13	6020	6018
14	6020	6018
15	6020	6018
16	6020	6018

Total 156,415. 156,415 divided by 26, total number of issues, 6016 Daily Average. SEMI-WEEKLY. Days Copies Days Copies. 1 1694 2 1706. 3 1694 4 1706. 5 1701 6 1705. 7 1701 8 1705. 9 1701 10 1705. 11 1701 12 1705. 13 1701 14 1705. 15 1701 16 1705.

Total 15,313. 15,313 divided by 9, total number of issues, 1701 Semi-Weekly Average. This is a correct report of the circulation of The Janesville Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette for July, 1912, and represents the actual number of papers printed and circulated.

H. H. BLISS. Mgr. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of August, 1912. OLYVE M. HAYWARD. (Seal) Notary Public. My commission expires July 12, 1914.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

He journeys through life with his head butting into the clouds and his feet dragging through the quagmire. He's a truce medium, a schemer, a visionary, a chaser of the "will-o'-the-wisp." He rushes on without seeing the road, and, like a charging bull, he doesn't know that there's a stone wall ahead of him until he batters himself full of bumps. He deludes himself with the fool idea that he can get wealth without getting down to hard tasks. He's imbued with ideals instead of ideas. His whole career is an endless series of rehearsals which never eventuate into performances. He's all right as far as he goes—but he's short on practical mileage; and fate always kicks him off at a deserted water-tank half way between Start and Finish. He's the Chronic Failure—the man with every sense but common sense. He figures only the chances for success, but doesn't contemplate the percentage against him. He's usually honest. He intends to be straight, but he isn't honest whose confidence he gains, and so he seems dishonest to them.—Herbert Kaufman, in Detroit News.

One class of failures is well described in this brief synopsis by Mr. Kaufman. There are many people who enter the active work of life without thought or preparation and the only knowledge they ever acquire is through the hard school of experience. They are not observing and so fail to profit by the experience of others.

The boy attempts the impossible, after seeing his companions fail, and men are very much like boys, never satisfied and seldom profiting by the failure of others.

The panics, which embarrass the country, are said to come in cycles of every twenty years. But few men are in active business today who suffered in the hard times of 1873, and many of the men who were most active in 1893 are now on the retired list.

This means that a new generation is in control today, educated in the school of prosperity, which covers an era of nearly twenty years. The young blood is fired with enthusiasm and ambition, ready to tackle any problem that presents itself, with no thought of failure.

This is a commendable spirit and yet more or less dangerous, because it inspires evolution which frequently results in revolution. This has already happened in the political world where the "Old Guard" and all it represented in conservative experience, is a by-word.

The so-called progressive movement is a product of the new generation, with all the reforms attached. The primary law, whose principal mission is to annihilate parties, and create individual machines, was not conceived in the brain of the "Old Guard."

The doctrine of socialism, just now so popular, is heralded abroad by men possessed of fine spun theories, and the spirit of unrest, which disturbs the nation, is inspired by the same class of agitators.

The mission of the new political party, recently organized, is to round up the dissatisfied element of all classes, and under the high sounding title of progress, establish a dynasty with the one man in the Chrono who knows just what ought to be done and how to do it.

The rise and fall of political parties is a matter of history, but this has no influence with the promoters of the present movement whose stock in trade is personal ambition and whose doctrine is the doctrine of unrest.

They attempt through appeals to prejudice and ignorance, to make the people believe that they are downtrodden and oppressed, and promise relief through regulation of everything in sight.

There are many planks in their platform which are theoretical and impractical, but the one which promises to fix the rates of compensation for labor only needs a panic like the upheavals of '73 and '93 to show its utter absurdity.

Many of the men who are active in the new party movement, never saw a Coxy army in action. They know nothing about soup-houses and bread lines, because they never lived through an era of hard times, when half the factory chimneys were smokeless, and when fortunes melted away like dew in the morning sun.

The men who tramped in '93 were not tramps. Many of them were skilled artisans. Work and not wage scales was the one thing which consumed them. No law would have helped them, and it never will, however plausible it may seem to the new party.

It is well for every mind to be imbued with high ideals, but it is also well to remember that the work of life is close to the ground and that the most of us live on the lower levels, content with our lot when not disturbed by the muckraker and loud-mouthed agitator.

It is an insult to the intelligence of the country to claim that the republican party is not progressive or that the men who control its destinies are not interested in the welfare of the American people. If reforms are needed, Senator La Follette is right in his attitude that they can best be brought about within the ranks of the party.

People have simply gone daffy on reform. A fine example of it was furnished, a day or two ago, when Mr. Whitte, the candidate for state senator from this district, was obliged to peddle his own literature and crawl on his hands and knees asking for support. Why? Because the villainous primary law compels it.

Mr. Whitte, by the way, is a man of capital, a liberal employer of labor, possessing intelligence and ability, and a character above reproach. It is an honor to the district to have such a man consent to serve it in the legislature, but humiliating to him, as well as all other candidates, to be compelled to seek the office without the aid of party organization.

But what has all this to do with success and failure. Possibly nothing, except that the new party is likely to learn through experience what it has failed to learn from observation.

There is no more need of a new party today than there was when the Greenback, the Populist, and half a dozen other new parties were organized. The progressive party will defeat the republican party this year, and give the country four years of democratic rule, with all the uncertainty which a change of administration implies. If there is any satisfaction in that, the party is welcome to it.

It is to be hoped, for the comfort of the masses, as well as for the protection of capital, that a panic will be avoided, although a taste of hard times would curb extravagance and be beneficial in many ways. The high cost of production has much to do with the high cost of living and labor shares liberally in production.

Goods were cheap in '73 and '93 and labor was just as cheap. Ten cent corn means ten cent bacon and everything else in proportion. If that is the sort of reform that the people want, God save the mark, for it means failure and suffering.

SCRIPTURE

MARK 10:46-52. And they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples and a great number of people, blind Bartimaeus, the son of Timaeus, sat by the wayside begging.

And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me.

And many charged him that he should hold his peace; but he cried the more a great deal, Thou son of David, have mercy on me.

And Jesus stood still and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise; he calleth thee.

And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus.

And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? The blind man said unto him, Lord, that I might receive my sight.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

FRED GEIS, CAPITALIST.

Is America another name for opportunity?

Freddie Geis of Des Moines, Ia., aged eighteen, newsboy and capitalist, says it is—and has proved it.

He started ten years ago selling newspapers. Two years ago he bought a house costing $3,000 for his people and has a thousand or two in bank.

Fred's father deserted the family—a sick wife, an old grandmother and two children.

That is why he started out at 5 o'clock on a cold morning ten years ago to sell newspapers. His cash capital was 4 cents.

Four cents—plus! Today he has a regular stand with newspapers and magazines. For a long time his stock in trade was contained in a canvas bag. He pre-empted a street corner and had to fight to hold it.

Fred is Irish—and won. Young Geis is enterprising and employs tact and politeness. He is alert to get the attention of his customers and knows by name thousands of persons. When he cries out "Paper, lady!" his hand invariably goes to his cap.

Behind Fred Geis is a staunch old grandmother.

The mother is an invalid, but the grandmother is a forceful character. The young man loves his mother, but he banks on his grandmother, and they do some great team work.

The old woman is thrifty. When the deed to the home was turned over to the family the purchaser carried away $3,000 in small coins—a satchelful of savings. Grandma has her doubts about banks. "If I died not share in her belief in this respect."

Opportunity? Why, Freddie Geis saw her on the streets peering around the corner, actually flirting with him.

He merely opened his eyes. This young Irish boy, a capitalist at eighteen, puts to shame the rolling young fellow who sleeps till 9 o'clock in the morning and asks his mother to keep his breakfast warm or the loafing lad who frequents the billiard or pool rooms and who is accustomed to say: "There's no chance for a young man nowadays."

No chance? Why—Fred Geis made his chance.

SIDNA EDWARDS IS GIVEN FIFTEEN YEARS IN PRISON.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Wytheville, Va., August 17.—Sidna Edwards, one of the Hillsville court-house assassins plead guilty to second degree murder and was sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary.

Two of his kinsmen were found guilty of murder in the first degree.

HIGH PRICES HOLD ON THE HOG MARKET

Cattle and Sheep in Poor Demand Today But Hogs Continue to Sell at High Figures.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Aug. 7.—High prices still hold on the hog market this morning, although sheep and cattle were in poor demand at slightly lower prices. Hogs sold at slightly better figures than yesterday's close and promised a strong market for the opening day next week. Quotations were as follows:

Cattle—Receipts 200; market weak; "beef" 5.75@10.40; Texas steers 5.00@6.55; western steers 6.25@9.00; stockers and feeders 4.25@7.50; cows and heifers 2.65@3.15; calves 6.50@7.75.

Hogs—Receipts 6,000; market steady, shade higher than yesterday's average; light 8.15@8.70; mixed 7.75@8.70; heavy 7.60@8.55; rough 7.60@7.85; pigs 5.75@8.25; bulk of sales 8.65@8.50.

Sheep—Receipts 2,000; market weak; native 3.15@4.35; western 3.35@4.25; yearlings 4.30@5.50; lambs, native 4.25@7.15; western 4.25@7.15.

Wheat—Sept: Opening 94 1/4@94 1/2; high 94 1/2; low 93 3/4; closing 93 3/4. Dec: Opening 94 1/4; high 94 1/4; low 93 3/4; closing 93 3/4.

Corn—Sept: Opening 71 1/4@71 1/2; high 71 1/2; low 70 3/4; closing 70 3/4. Dec: Opening 64 1/2@64 1/2; high 64 1/2; low 63 3/4; closing 63 3/4.

Oats—Sept: Opening 32 1/2@32 1/2; high 32 1/2; low 32; closing 32 1/2. Dec: Opening 32 1/2; high 32 1/2; low 32; closing 32 1/2.

Rye—Sept: Opening 40@40. Barley—40@70. Eggs—Receipts 9,575. Cheese—Steady; dairies 15 1/4@15 1/2; twins 14 1/4@15; young Americans 15 1/2@16 1/2; long horns 15 1/2@15 1/2.

Potatoes—Steady; receipts 47 cars. Jersey 85@90, Minn. 62@65, Ill. 60@63.

Poultry—Live: Steady; turkeys 12; chickens 12 1/2; springs 10. Veal—Steady; 50 to 60 lb. wts. 9@13.

JANESVILLE WHOLESALE MARKET.

Janesville, Wis., Aug. 17, 1912. Feed—Oat meal, $3.90@4.20 per 100 lbs.

Oats, Hay, Straw—Straw, $9.00@10.00; baled and loose hay, $18@22; barley, 50 lbs., 40@60; rye, 60 lbs., 37c; bran, $1.25@1.35; middlings, $1.40@1.55; oats, 27@32c bushel; corn, $18@22.

Poultry—Hens, 10c lb; springers, 12c lb; old roosters, 5c lb; ducks, 11c lb. Hogs—Different grades, $5.50@7.50. Steers and Cows—Veal, $7.50@8.50. Beef, $3.50@4.00.

Sheep—Mutton, $4.00@5.00; lambs, light, $4.00. Butter and Eggs—Creamery, 26c@27c; dairy, 21c@25c; eggs, 18c@19c. Vegetables—New potatoes 90c bu.

FRESH SPINACH IS FOUND ON LOCAL MARKET TODAY

Fresh home grown spinach is the feature of today's vegetable market. This is the finest seen on the local market this season and it is very plentiful. There were also some very fine canning pears on the market this morning and they are having a very heavy demand. Wealthy apples were also a new product on the local market this morning and they are of a very fine quality. The blueberries which came on the market a short time ago are still very fine but they are getting to be somewhat scarce. There are some very fine Kellesey plums on the market today and they are very abundant. There were not many changes on the market this morning. The prices of the market for today are as follows:

Janesville, Wis., Aug. 17, 1912. Vegetables: Fresh carrots, 5c bch; new potatoes, 30c peck; H. G. cabbage, 5c, 8c@10c; lettuce, 5c bch; head lettuce, 10c; celery, 3 bunches 10c; parsley, 5c bunch; yellow string beans, 5c; fresh tomatoes, 4c lb. beet greens, 5c bunch; house cucumbers 5c each, 3 for 10c; rhubarb, 5c bunch; green onions, 2 bunches 5c; green peppers, 5c each H. G. turnips, 5c bunch; vegetable oysters, 5c bunch; green peas, 8c lb; beets, 5c bunch; cauliflower, 10c@12c; white onions, 5c lb; Spanish onions 6c lb; summer squash 5 cents; sweet corn, 10c doz; oranges, 25c, 30c, 35c, 40c, 60c doz; Wickson plums, 20c doz, 50c basket; Tragedy plums, 12c doz, 55c basket; Bartlett pears, 30c dozen; seedless grapes, 12c lb; green apples, 10c; eating apples, 5c lb; blue plums, 10c dozen, green plums, 15c dozen; sweet potatoes, 5c lb; Duchess apples 5c lb. Home grown yellow corn 10c pecks, 5c piece. Green peppers, 5c each H. G. spinach, 8c lb.

Butter and Eggs: Creamery, 30c; dairy, 25c@27c; eggs, 22c. Fresh Fruit: Bananas, 10c@20c dozen; lemons, 30c doz. White peaches, 20c basket; California cherries, 25c lb; apricots, 45c bas; watermelons, 25c; cantaloupe, 10c 3 for 25c; blueberries, 18c@20c box; peaches, 90c hamper; peaches, 45c pound basket, $1.35; grapes, 12c lb; picking onions 8c lb; fancy pears, 30c dozen; buckberries, 10c box. Plums in boxes, 10c box, 3 boxes 25c. Canning pears, 6c lb; Kellesey plums 15c doz; Mal. grapes 10c lb; wealthy apples, 5c lb.

Elgin, Ill., Aug. 12.—Elgin butter steady at 25 cents.

TO AUTO OWNERS

Why throw away your old tires, when they can be repaired? Stop and think, if a repaired tire would only go two miles for every cent, that the repair cost, it would be doing better than a new tire. No new tire will go two miles for each cent that the owner invests. Think it over, save money by having your tires repaired by the

JANESVILLE VULCANIZING CO.

103 N. Main Street. Janesville, Wis.

BRODHEAD

Brodhead, Aug. 17.—Mrs. Ed. Bright and daughters, Reene, Millicent and Pearl, went to Beloit, Friday, to make a short visit to relatives and friends.

Ever Robinson, was a visitor in Orderville on Friday.

Miss Marie Downing of Chicago, who has been here visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Wooster, for some weeks, returned home on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Adleman went to Freeport on Friday to visit with friends for a few days.

Wm. Grady was a Janesville visitor Friday.

Rev. and Mrs. George Briggs and two sons left for their home in Madison, Friday, after some time spent with the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Penga.

Dell Quest returned Friday to Chicago after spending a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Clarke.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Lawton spent Thursday night in Brodhead with friends and left Friday morning for Stoughton.

Mrs. M. L. Karney and daughter, Laura, were Janesville visitors on Friday.

Dr. G. S. Darby returned Friday noon from a trip to the Bitter Root Valley, Montana, where he went on business matters.

Dr. Harry Horne of Monticello spent Friday night at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. H. Horne. He was accompanied on his return home by his mother and sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Horne.

Walter Martin of Beloit was a Brodhead visitor Friday.

Miss Bertha Mitchell returned to Janesville on Friday after spending a few days with her mother in Brodhead. Mrs. Mitchell will move to Janesville in a few days and will make her home in that city.

After spending a number of weeks with her parents, Mayor and Mrs. W. S. Penga, Mrs. C. Rathorn and three children left Friday for their home in Champaign, Ill.

Miss May Z. Parker of Chicago is visiting with relatives in Brodhead.

Miss Lillie M. Foehl visited Janesville friends on Friday.

Mrs. Wm. Rountree of Buchanan, Mich., is here to visit with old-time Brodhead friends.

E. J. Dooley spent Friday in Monroe on business matters.

Want Ads are money-savers.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

It's Easy To Get Bargains Here:

You don't have to accommodate yourself to certain conditions to get bargains in this fast expanding store. The specialties you see advertised in any of our store news, are good for all day. Some of the best values we have never mentioned in the papers because the quantity is too small to withstand the general demand created through advertising. If we haven't enough of any one line to last all day we don't advertise it. We don't mention special values and then circumscribe the advertisement with conditions with which you cannot comply. We don't believe in making it hard for you to get the real specials we put on sale. When we have extra good values to offer, the more we can sell the better pleased we are, for that's the way we make our profit—that's the way we make more patrons for this Big STORE.

Automobile And Every Other Kind Of Insurance In Millionaire Companies Only Cheap Indemnity Is Expensive At Any Cost "COME IN AND TALK IT OVER" H. J. CUNNINGHAM, Agency General Insurance and Real Estate Carle Block Both Phones Main & Milw. Sts. NOTICE Someone will own a place on Milton Ave. next week at just about two-thirds its market value and you can be the lucky person if you speak quick enough. To settle an estate it has got to be turned into money before the 25th. And by the way—How about that Life and Accident policy you were planning to take out? Don't wait till it is too late.

ANSKO FILM Cyko Paper PHOTOGRAPHIC SUPPLIES H. E. RANOUS & CO. Both Phones Factory Wood Lots of it at $7.00 a Ton Absolutely Dry BAKER COAL CO. Both Phones 550 N. Bluff St. KELLY RACINE TIRES Positively the best tire for the money on the market today. Ask our prices before buying. STRIMPLE GARAGE 219 E. MIL.

My Dental Work

Makes my patients so satisfied in every way, that they bring in the rest of the family.

Eighty per cent of my practice is brought in by well pleased former patients.

It would be so in your case.

DR. F. T. RICHARDS

Office over Hall & Sayles.

ESTABLISHED IN 1855.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

More than $250,000 of our own money invested to protect our depositors.

We pay interest at the rate of three per cent on Certificates and also in our Savings Department.

We Want You for a Customer

CHAS. T. PEIRCE
Dentist

Small Gold or Enamel Fillings, $1.50
20 per cent discount for cash on all plate work.

BLAIR & BLAIR
Insurance, Real Estate, Surety Bonds

W. H. BLAIR ARCHITECT.
424 Hayes Block.

PAID ADVERTISEMENT. 25c per each insertion.

I hereby announce myself as candidate upon the Republican ticket for the office of assemblyman from the first assembly district of Rock Co., Wis.

D. W. NORTH
Edgerton, Wis.

ATTEMPT AT BURGLARY
FOUND TO BE A HOAX

Police Find Supposed Evidence of Intent to Rob Simpson Store No Cause For Alarm.

What to casual observers last night appeared to be a device of would-be robbers to enter and plunder the Simpson garment store was found, after police investigation to be a slide belonging to Sheldon's hardware store used for moving nail legs and heavy hardware. Suspicion was aroused when H. B. Smith found what seemed to be a ladder leading from the ground to the fire escape. Patrolman Fredendall was called and found it a slide secured at the top and bottom by wires. Belief that this was put in place by thieves was put in place by thieves was heightened by finding an upper window in the store open and the supposition that the screen had been forced out. Investigation disclosed that nothing in the store had been disturbed, and that there was no screen in the window. The slide had been secured by wires so that it would not be carried away.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all the kind people of Janesville for their whole-hearted assistance in our late sad bereavement in the death of J. Newton Clarida, the beloved husband, father and brother.

MRS. ELLA CLARIDA, AND RELATIVES

At Atkinson, Wis., Aug. 6th, 1912. Having work for our agent, Mr. A. W. Cary, in the country, Mr. Cary will be away from the city much of the time after Monday, Aug. 19th, but will look after the interests of our patrons. Kindly reserve your orders for Mr. Cary, which will receive our most careful attention.

patrons later, during the fall and winter, Converse & Edwards Nursery Co.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

For Sale at St. Joseph's Convent, a new set of Rosary beads; Medallions; Statues, Crucifixes and Prayer Books at reasonable prices.

Mr. Percy Bolton in charge of the second floor departments at J. M. Bostwick & Sons' joined Mr. E. M. Bostwick, Jr., in New York this week. Together they will scour the market for new novelties of substantial values in floor coverings and draperies.

The J. W. Y. club of Beloit will give a dance at the Spanish War Vets Hall Saturday evening, Aug. 17th. Music will be furnished by the Italian Quest.

Get busy and rent that house, and save a month's rent thereby you can do it with a want ad.

Dr. Chas. Sutherland returned this morning from Rochester, Minn., where he has been attending the Mayo surgical clinic for the past week.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

FOR RENT—Three furnished rooms and closet for light housekeeping, 502 Chestnut street. New phone White 453. 8-17-12

WANTED—A competent girl for general housework. Mrs. M. O. Mount, 214 S. Wisconsin St. 8-17-12

FOR RENT—Part of house. Call at 725 Milton Ave. 8-17-12

NEAR TRACK RECORD IN RACE YESTERDAY

MANAGER H. OWNED BY DR. HAWLEY, BELVIDERE, MAKES 2:08 1/4 TIME IN FREE FOR ALL RACE.

MEET A BIG SUCCESS

Janesville Secures Position in Light Harness Circles As a Result of High Class Races For Three Days.

Janesville's three day race meet held at the driving park under the management of the Janesville driving park association, closed yesterday with the fastest program of races of the three days. The entire meet has been conducted in a highly efficient manner and credit is due to the park association officials and especially to Secretary Putnam for the high character of the events held.

The patronage of the entire time was flattering and indicated that interest in clean horse racing had not died in this region. In fact plans for a similar meeting next year are already being discussed and horsemen who had entries here this week are eager to return for another meet next season.

In regard to the financial success of the meet, Mr. Putnam said this morning. "Of course, we have not settled up our books at all; there is a large amount yet to be paid out and there is some money to be collected, but I think we will come out all right. The officers of the association are very much pleased with the result of the meet. The attendance was satisfactory and the crowds were orderly and well behaved. There was not an accident on the grounds during the entire three days."

The horsemen were also well satisfied with the races. Mr. Putnam said. He had assurances from nearly all of them that they would be glad to return any time for a similar meet. The drivers and owners were all a fine class of people and combined to make the affair a success. They refrained from all fault-finding and were a gentlemanly lot of men. Their attitude contributed greatly to the satisfactory outcome.

An indication of the efforts exerted by the Park association management to make the meet a success to all concerned, was shown on Thursday when they took special pains to make up a race the 2:15 pace in which all the entries had been withdrawn. The association was under no obligation to put on the race and might have cancelled it entirely, thus saving the amount of the purse, $400. They went ahead and secured four entries, how ever, and the crowd was not disappointed.

Yesterday's races were the fastest of the week. Manager H., the chocolate station owned by Dr. Sharkey of Belvidere, owned the fastest horse entered, whose record is 2:06 1/4, came within one second of the Janesville track record, 2:05 1/4, in the first heat of the free-for-all race. Manager H. was pushed to break the local track record, caught the time at 2:07 1/4 against a hard wind, although the time given from the judges' stand was 2:03 1/4. He easily won the race, taking all three heats.

Another fast race yesterday was the 2:13 pace which was won in three heats by Harry Mamlin, a chestnut gelding owned by G. W. Thompson of Paw Paw, Ill. His fastest time was 2:10 1/4. So, owned by Rutherford Brown of Austin, Minn., made a good showing in winning second money.

The closest race yesterday was the 2:20 class trotting which was won by Jim Boyle, a bay gelding from Palatine, Ill. After taking last and fifth places in the first and second heats, respectively, he came to the front and took all three of the last heats. Hydromel, a bay mare owned at Oregon, Ill., took four seconds and a first and was one of the favorites in the race. The Monarch, a Racine horse who won the first heat, failed to show the necessary class in this race and made a poor finish in the last heat. The best time was 2:13 1/4 by Jim Boyle.

Following is the summary:

2:20 trot—
Jim Boyle 7 5 1 1 1
Hydromel 2 1 2 2 2
Lizzie G 4 2 4 3 5
Amo K 3 4 5 4 3
Monarch 1 3 6 5 4
Alert and Mayardo also started.
Amo K and Monarch divided third and fourth money. Time: 2:19 1/2, 2:20, 2:18 1/4, 2:20 1/4, 2:08 1/4.
Free for all pace—
Manager H 1 1 1
Taylor Gratian 2 2 2
Rollins 2 5 3
Bill Bailey 4 3 4
Oscar Wilde 5 4 dr
Time: 2:08 1/4, 2:08 1/4, 2:08 1/4.

2:13 pace—
Harry Mamlin 1 1 1
Allan Oh So 4 2 2
Auto Hal 2 3 5
Prince Onward 3 4 3
Pannie Sherly, Lord Prodgal, Brown Bessie, and Sid Dell also started.
Time: 2:10 1/4, 2:10 1/4, 2:12.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Iron Beam Arrives. The large iron beam which is to carry a part of the weight of the second story of the central fire station formerly carried by posts, has arrived and will be put in place within a few days. The delay in the shipment of the beam has put back the work of remodeling which will now be pushed along as rapidly as possible. Carpenters will assist the firemen in doing the most difficult part of the work.

Auto Parties: Auto parties registered at the Grand hotel yesterday included John and Thomas Baker of Albany, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Laurel and child and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Savatich of Chicago. At the Hotel Myers the following party was registered yesterday: Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Rice and Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Cutting of Delavan.

CORRECTION.

Roessling Bros. ad in last evening's Gazette had a misquoted item: Nice young mutton 10c per lb.; it should have been: lean plate meat 10c lb.

THROWN FROM BUGGY AND SERIOUSLY HURT

Horse of Andrew Barron, Frightened By Autos Runs Away—Sustains Bad Cuts in Scalp.

Unable to control his horse which was frightened by an automobile, Andrew Barron, a man eighty years of age, was thrown from his buggy at the intersection of Ravine and Madison streets at about 6:30 o'clock last evening, turned a complete somersault, and struck on his head, sustaining some very bad cuts in his scalp. A gash about three inches long was cut through the scalp to the bone, extending from above the right eye to over the right ear. A shorter gash was cut above the nose, and the pericranium, the membrane which covers the skull was also injured. The automobile was driven by Harry Siegle, the seventeen-year-old son of Thomas Siegle, 420 South Franklin street. Mr. Barron was lifted into the automobile and taken to his home, 545 North River street, where Drs. John P. Penber and E. A. Loomis attended to his injuries. The horse was caught after a dash of several blocks down River street.

Mr. Barron is an old resident of the city, having lived here for the last half century. He owns the stone quarry southwest of the St. Paul yards, from which stone for the city streets is quarried, and was just returning from a drive there when the accident occurred.

AUGUST GRADUATES OF RURAL SCHOOLS

Twenty-Two Additional Young People Receive Diplomas Admitting Them to High School.

Announcement has been made at the office of the county superintendent of the pupils who passed the August examinations for rural school diplomas admitting the holders to county high schools this fall. Twenty-two children passed the tests having taken the examinations in some of the subjects in June. This swells the number of pupils who have been graduated from the rural schools this year to 112.

The August graduates are as follows: Floy Bennett, Beloit; Harold Bennett, Milton; Kathryn Clark, Milton; Frances Condon, Janesville; Lorena Doubleday, Milton Junction; Ralph Erlinger, Hanover; Josephine Finnane, Janesville; Marie Fox and Pearl Geiser, Janesville; Harry Harstad, Beloit; Lewis Heggard, Orfordville; Willie Aalk, Koshkonong; Margaret Malone, Milton; Mildred Mapes, Evansville; Margaret Morton, Darien; Lillian Millins, Milton Junction; Ida Oevske, Lima Center; Mary Ovestrude, Orfordville; Evelyn Raessler, Beloit; Theodore Raymond, Edgerton; George Shields, Whitewater; Elizabeth Van Galder, Avalon.

CHARGE SCATTERING FILTH UPON STREET

Edward Reynolds Placed Under Arrest But Enters Plea of 'Not Guilty' Trial Set For Monday

Edward Reynolds was placed under arrest today, charged with allowing filth to drop from his wagon on North Washington Street this morning in violation of the city ordinance prohibiting and providing a penalty for this offense. He entered a plea of not guilty and his trial was set for ten o'clock Monday morning. Reynolds admitted hauling a load of manure about three o'clock this morning over North Washington Street and beyond the cemetery, but asserted that his wagon was tight and did not leak.

MILTON PEOPLE TO ATTEND S. D. B. CHURCH CONFERENCE

Sessions at North Loup, Neb., Next Week Will Draw Large Number From Rock County.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Milton, Wis., Aug. 17.—The following Milton people will attend the Seventh-day Baptist General Conference at North Loup, Neb., the coming week.

Pres. Deland, Pastor Randolph, Prof. A. E. Whitford, Mr. and Mrs. George Rood, Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Jeffery, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Hurley and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Rood and two children, Hannah Nelson, Carrie Nelson, Mrs. L. C. Burdick, Bessie Haskins, George White, Harry Talbot, Grant Davis (of Adams Center, N. Y.), Paul M. Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of Nashua are visiting H. D. Smiths.

Mrs. W. W. Clarke returned from her New York trip.

Miss Ziemi of St. Paul, Minn. is visiting at H. C. Risdon's.

H. Van Wagner, of Monroe, visited Fire Wardens Summers Thursday.

Mrs. Beach of Rockford, Ill. is visiting Mrs. O. D. Crumb.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Haines and Mr. and Mrs. E. Haines and children are visiting at George Jackson's.

Pitcher Bond of Milton, who played in the Richmond-Delavan game at the Whitewater field, made two home runs, a double and single to Whitewater and Delavan was shut out.

WARRANTY DEED.

Grace Ellen Persons to Geo. B. Rood, $1. Lot 8 & W 1/2 Lot 7. Bk 9. Goodrich's Add. Milton. Janesville Contracting Co. to Frank Moses et al $8,500. Lot 5 Church William's Sub. Janesville. Edward Reun and wife to J. F. Kemmerer $17,600. Sec. 17-1-14. E. F. Vanderlyn and wife to Edward Reun $35,000. Sec. 12-1-13.

Notice.

The next meeting of the Summer Club of Household Economics will be held at Evansville, Aug. 22. The ladies will leave this city on the train at 11:40 over the C. & N. W. railroad.

Buy it in Janesville.

WILL DR. BURRUS BE ABLE TO FIND MATE?

Local Man Writes Minneapolis Pastor To Get Him a Wife And Gives Requirements of Sought For Mate.

Will Dr. A. E. Burrus be able to find his ideal woman or not? According to Reverend G. L. Merrill of Minneapolis, Dr. Burrus wrote him recently he wanted a wife and asked his aid in selecting one. His letter to the Minneapolis divine, which was the subject for a sermon he preached last Sunday, is as follows.

"I lost my wife last winter, leaving a lonely void in my home. Am just past 40 and have no children. Have a fine home, which needs only a queen of sweet home to fill in the void. I have no infirmities and no bad habits.

"Now, if you have any lady bachelor or from 25 to 35 that would like a first-class home, one that will come near physical standard and has good health, you may give her my address. But I do not want my name made public in newspapers or otherwise.

"A standard woman in stature is 5 feet 4 to 5 inches. When arms are extended the measure from tip to tip of fingers would be equal to height. She would have chest measurement near 35 inches and weigh nearly 130 pounds. Must not have hollow back. Must not have shoulder blades prominent like wings or have short legs from knee down. Must not have pug nose or thick lips. Under lip must not be short with upper teeth protruding. She must not have skin disease or enlarged glands about the neck.

"The head should measure around base of brain 21 1/2 inches. From top of ears, up over head, 11 to 12 inches. From top of nose over occipital spine, about 13 inches. The last measure is most important. She must not have pug ears. Rather fine hair and fine features preferred and a well developed chin. Good cooks and nurses are generally preferable and make best wives.

"A standard man is one-tenth above the female sex.

"Now if you have one near the standard, send a picture and address along. My address is on the envelope. Evidently Dr. Burrus can find no residents of Janesville who will meet his requirements and it will be interesting to learn if he is successful in his question in Minneapolis.

MICHIGAN DEPUTY SEEKS NEGRO CRIMINAL HERE.

Ask Officers to Find Jim Jones, Wanted to Answer Charge of Obtaining Money Fraudulently.

Turkey Philo-Kemp received a telegram message from a Michigan deputy sheriff at Chicago this morning informing him that he was in search of Jim Jones, a negro, wanted to answer a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, and who is believed to be in the employ of George Elliott, a Chicago man, who had horses in the recent races here.

The police made an investigation and found that Elliott had two negroes employed as "swipes," and had been here two weeks, but this morning they had gone to Oregon, Illinois. The deputy is expected to come here this afternoon and will be sent on to Oregon.

COLUMBUS MAYOR SUSPENDS LIUTENANT OF THE POLICE.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Columbus, Ohio, August 17.—Mayor Koar today suspended Lieut. Policeman J. Carter on the charge of incompetency and accepting and converting fees belonging to the interior officers and knowingly permitting eighteen gambling resorts to operate.

Near Relatives. Possessors and indignation are first cousins.

SPLENDID OPENING.

Mr. Potomack, Proprietor of the Paris Tailoring Co., Expressed Himself As Highly Gratified With the Past Two Weeks' Opening.

The rapidity with which a business can grow to large proportion when it fills a long-felt want and when it is in the right hands cannot be better shown than in The Paris Tailoring Co., which was established here last January and which will complete its opening showing of fall fashions the first of next week.

Mr. Potomack states that the first opening he held in this city, showing the spring fashions last January, he secured but two orders, but that gaining slowly he added client after client until his business totaled over $5,000 for the spring season of fourteen weeks.

August 5th he announced the arrival of the fall fashions and that he would hold an opening for the following two weeks. During this opening, which is just now to close, he states that his orders have reached the sum of $1,974.50, a surprising comparison with the spring business.

Mr. Potomack accounts for the growth of the business in two ways. One, that he feels that the ladies have become better acquainted with him and with the quality of goods he is showing and the workmanship, and the other—and by the way, he pays the ladies of Janesville a pretty compliment—that while there are few towns in the country the population of Janesville that can support a shop handling the goods he does, the ladies here seem to appreciate what he has to offer and to recognize that a shop handling Morris fabrics—and this shop handles nothing but these—which are all imported and acknowledged as the best in the United States, and seem to welcome the opportunity to patronize an establishment of this kind.

Mr. Potomack will go to Chicago, Sunday, at 9:25 a. m., and will return Tuesday evening bringing with him a force of skilled men to handle the mass of orders for the fall. The shop will be open Monday, however, despite the absence of the proprietor, and any who wish can avail themselves of the 10 per cent discount which has been in effect during the entire opening.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Zela Zamzow of Portage is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. W. S. Kerry, North Pearl street.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Powell and son and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Savatich of Chicago are visiting with Mrs. Powell's mother, Mrs. A. J. Hibbard.

William H. Spohn has returned from a business trip to Madison.

Mrs. Jessie N. Nowlan and daughter Louise and son Merrill leave Monday for a month's vacation in the northern part of the state.

Miss Ellen Nolan has returned after a short visit in Chicago.

Mrs. John Coen was a visitor in Chicago yesterday.

Mrs. E. W. Christman and Mrs. B. E. Cagle have returned from a visit in Chicago.

Will Nolan of Madison was in the city last evening.

William Burns of Edgerton was visiting friends in the city yesterday.

Misses Mary and Sarah Hickey are enjoying an outing at Pelican lake.

Misses Jessie M. Foster and Sadie Deery left this morning for several weeks' visit at Milwaukee, Waukegan and Mukwonago.

Miss Foster will resume her work here Sept. 1.

Mrs. E. G. Lowry and son, Kenneth, have gone to Clark county, Wis., for a visit with friends.

Mrs. B. B. Clark and children, Etta Mae and Ross, have left for Clark county, Wis., where they will spend some time seeking benefit for Master Ross' health.

The Misses Edith and Clara Morrow depart tomorrow on an extended trip to Denver, Salt Lake City and other points in the west, to be gone about a month.

Mrs. Edward Smith and children of Clinton are visiting in the city.

Miss Helen Flaherty of Edgerton is the guest of Janesville friends.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Jenkins of Beloit visited in the city yesterday.

Will Bates is recovering from an attack of malaria.

Miss Mary McLenna of Topeka, Kansas, is visiting with Miss Constance PEMBER.

David Brown, of Koshkonong was in the city yesterday.

Miss Laura Woods left yesterday for a two weeks' visit in Milwaukee and Kenosha.

Mr. and Mrs. James Buchanan, 309 South High street, announce the birth of a bright and a half pound son Wednesday.

Mrs. Patrick Quinn is visiting her niece, Mrs. John Hyland, Jr., in Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mohns, 740 Yuba street, are the proud parents of a baby girl.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Luebke have gone to Lake Waubesa where they will enjoy a week's outing.

Mrs. White Wright, Sr. was able to return home today after a very successful operation performed at the Madison General Hospital.

Miss Frances Wulff of Chicago is the guest of Ida Mae Wright.

Katherine W. Goebel spent the day at her former home, Glen Ellyn.

The Misses Helen Brown, Margaret Dillon, Kathryn Dawson, Emma Borkenhagen, Alice Harvey, Marie Borkenhagen, of this city and Alice Nordor of Monroe returned this morning from a two weeks' outing at Lake Kegonsa.

The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Carl Litt.

Miss Lois Jackman of Denver, Colo. is visiting at the home of her brother Jim Jackman.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Weirich of Monroe were visitors in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Conn and Mrs. Sam Hall and F. McInnes of Edgerton were visitors in the city yesterday at the races.

M. and Mrs. Harry McClure of Minneapolis are visiting in the city. Miss Mildred McClure of Milton visited friends in the city yesterday and today.

J. P. Sweeney went to Lake Kegonsa today to spend Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wright returned this morning from a few days visit in Madison.

Milton Cook returned today from a trip to Milwaukee and Chicago.

Dr. James Mills has been appointed by the Northwestern railroad to act as one of the physicians in this city during the absence of Dr. W. H. Palmer, who is spending his vacation in the northern parts of the state.

Paul Bruhn of Edgerton was in the city yesterday.

E. J. Murphy was a business visitor in Madison yesterday.

Miss Harriet Curle entertained Friday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Curle on St. Lawrence avenue.

Alfred Griswold is on a business trip to Minneapolis, Minn.

Mrs. Orion Sutherland, entertains on Monday at the Sinnissippi Golf club in honor of Mrs. William Shattuck and Mrs. William King of Minneapolis.

William McNeil went to Milwaukee this morning to bring back his mother, Mrs. Anna McNeil, who is convalescing after a serious operation in a Milwaukee hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Pierce of Portage, expected in Janesville by auto this evening to spend Sunday.

Miss Harriet Sanger entertained a few friends at cards last evening at her residence on Jackson street.

Mr. Horace Dyer of St. Louis and Master James Harris, who has been his guest for two weeks, arrived in Janesville this morning to join Mrs. Dyer and son who are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Harris on Sinclair street.

George Paris leaves Monday for a business trip through Indiana and the adjacent states.

L. E. Gettle of Edgerton was a Janesville visitor Friday.

Charles Smith of Beloit was in the city Friday.

Miss Gertrude Bradley is expected to return this evening from a two weeks' visit in Winnipeg, Canada.

EDGERTON COUPLE GIVEN A SURPRISE

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Edgerton, Aug. 17.—Prof. and Mrs. B. W. Rubin, who recently were married and a day or two since began housekeeping in the parsonage belonging to the German Lutheran church society on high street, last night enjoyed a genuine surprise. A company of friends and neighbors numbering one hundred met at a neighbor's house and marched to the parsonage with well-filled baskets containing good things to eat.

The evening was spent in a most happy manner and included delicious refreshments. A collection was taken up and a committee was appointed to purchase and present the newly wedded couple a substantial gift.

Prof. Rubin is principal of the German parochial school as well as organist of the local church.

Reading Circle Meets.

The Marquette Reading Circle met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Fred Sherman at Newville. The afternoon's pleasure opened with a launch ride, the party stopping off at Charley and Board's resort. After a picnic supper a short business meeting was held which closed the day's event. The members in departing for their homes voted Mrs. Sherman a delightful entertainer.

Organ Recital.

An organ recital will be given Monday evening at the Norwegian Lutheran church by E. V. Clarke of Milwaukee. Mr. Clarke will preside at the newly installed pipe organ. Local talent will assist in the program.

</

Reminiscences of the Civil War

By E. O. Kimberley

Incidents of the battle of Chancellorsville, in which Col. E. O. Kimberley and others members of the Third Wisconsin Regiment took part, are given in the article printed below, through the courtesy of Col. Kimberley, who has issued the story in pamphlet form, and who has given the Gazette permission to publish the story. The incidents related below were told by Iron W. C. Meffert of Arena, Wis., at the reunion of the regiment at Shullsburg in 1904, but heretofore only a few except the veterans have read the story.

Regarding the Third regiment, Col. Kimberley has the following to say: Thomas H. Ruger of Janesville, who left Wisconsin as lieutenant colonel of the Third regiment, Wisconsin volunteers, early in 1861, left the service a major general. He died about five years ago, having been on the retired list for some time. Colonel C. S. Hamilton of this regiment, of Fond du Lac, together with Lieutenant Colonel Ruger, was a West Point graduate. Hamilton also left the service a major general, dying in Milwaukee about twenty years ago. No other regiment, we think, can truthfully say that two men from the same regiment held the distinctions named. William Ruger and Edward Ruger of this city are brothers of Thomas Ruger, deceased. Three members of the Third regiment now reside in Janesville, to-wit: E. O. Kimberley, J. P. Carle and B. M. Bucklin.

The article by Mr. Meffert is as follows: Chancellorsville was one of the big three days battles of the war, and though an unfortunate one, there were only three or four equal to it during the whole civil war. The Third Wisconsin Infantry led the van; was the first on the field, opening the battle May 1st, 1863, about a mile and a half east of the Chancellorsville House, on the plank road leading to Fredericksburg. We also had the honor of covering the retreat of the army at United States Ford, six days later, and was the last regiment to cross the river in the face of the enemy.

On the second day of the battle, after the 11th corps, under Gen. Howard, was destroyed and driven from the field and nearly two miles of our line of battle crushed, our division, the first of the 12th Corps, and Gen. Berry's division of the 3d Corps, with forty pieces of artillery under Captain Best, in our rear, supporting us, were thrown across the plank road west of the Chancellorsville House, with orders to check the further advance of the enemy. It was a big proposition. There were less than 8,000 of us to oppose the three times that number of the enemy, who were flushed with victory, and led by one of the best loved generals, the noted "Stonewall" Jackson.

About ten o'clock that night, Gen. Jackson received his death wound in front of our regiment. Early the next morning, before many of us were awake, the rebel line of battle advanced, expecting easily to brush us aside and to pass on and complete the work so successfully begun the day before. As soon as the first shot was fired, our line of battle arose. After an exchange of ten or twelve volleys, some thoughtful fellow in our regiment cried out: "let's charge!" and no sooner said than done, our line advanced. The officers, from Gen. Williams down, did all in their power to stop it, but it was found to be impossible. Our men sprang to the front breaking the line of the enemy and driving them on. The Second Massachusetts and Twenty-seventh Indiana regiments captured in this charge more prisoners than they had numbers in their own regiments.

Confederate historians, who fought us on that day, say that if the charge had been properly supported, as it might have been, Gen. Jackson's part of the Confederate army would certainly have been captured. During that charge, and numbered among 105 others of our regiment, 611 of our Third Brigade, and 1,612 of our First Division, two comrades from the regiment fell, severely wounded. One was from Shullsburg, La Fayette county, Wisconsin. Each fell on the opposite side of a big log.

After our ammunition had been exhausted, and we had been relieved by a new line of troops from the Third Corps, we retreated from the field under a shower of bullets from the muskets of more than ten thousand rebels, and the forty cannon of Captain Best, in the rear, firing over our heads. It was indeed a bedlam of noise. While retreating amid the indescribable tumult, the very ground shaking as it were from the shock of battle, I ran across the two comrades alluded to. Stopping an instant to take in the situation, and satisfying myself that nothing could be done to save them, I went to the rear with the rest, in the greatest haste possible.

These two unfortunate comrades, with many others, were obliged to lay on the field for twelve days. That night, the woods took fire, north of the plank road, the flames leaping to the highest tree tops. In the appalling holocaust, more terrible than can be described, hundreds of our wounded, already suffering agonies, were, in their helpless condition, burned to death, or worse, even were partly burned, after waiting so long for the coming of the death angel to bear their spirits away to the God who gave them.

As the fire reached the plank road, a gentle rain began, and soon after the fire was quenched, thus saving our two boys from being cremated alive. The rain continued, (as it usually does after a battle) almost incessantly for six days. On the second day after the battle, a Methodist minister, (God bless the Methodists, for they are everywhere on their missions of mercy) belonging to the Second South Carolina Regiment, came along and asked if he could do any thing for them. They replied, "yes, for God's sake, get us some water!" So gathering up quite a number of canteens from the dead round about, and filling them at a running stream of water near by, this good man returned and left one half by the side of each. He took their haversacks also, and replenished them from the haversacks of the dead. He then set stakes in the ground and stretched a small tent over them for partial shelter, saying, as he left them, "I will return, if possible, before your supplies are exhausted." He never returned.

On the fourth day rebel snatcher-bears picked them up and carried them near a barn some distance to the south where they were laid on the ground in rows, with many others, shoulder to shoulder. Here a large number died. On the 12th day an ambulance train passed that way, under a flag of truce, in command of W. W. Jones, of the Second Wisconsin Infantry, who we think is at the present time a department clerk in Washington. Jones afterwards lost his left arm up to the shoulder. Picking out two boys up, with others, they were taken to Aquia Creek, some miles distant, where they were separated. The one from Shullsburg, being a non-commissioned officer, was taken to the officers' hospital, and the comrade from Darlington, being a private, was taken to the privates' hospital. When hearing they were to be separated, with tears in their eyes both begged to be left together, but army orders must be obeyed always.

These two wounded comrades did not see each other again for twenty-five years—not until a regimental annual reunion at Darlington. I wrote the Darlington comrade, saying: "Come with me to this meeting, and have a visit with the comrade from Shullsburg." He replied by mail: "All right, I will be along on a certain train." So we went to Darlington, arriving the night before, and immediately went to the office of the comrade from Shullsburg, he being engaged in the agricultural implement business, having a warehouse full of machinery. Upon entering, I shook hands with him, and turning around, asked if he knew the fellow with me. He stepped forward, and they shook hands in greeting. After looking him over he remarked: "He has the advantage of me, I think." Turning him around to the light, he took another good look at him. This Darlington comrade was a splendid specimen of a man, standing erect more than six feet and weighing over 200 pounds. The comrade from Shullsburg was of a shorter stature. After satisfying himself, he remarked, turning somewhat pale, the smile vanishing: "Well, if I ever knew you, you are, etc." The answer was: "I am sure you could not forget me. Do you remember where we parted?" "Well, he said, 'I should think I did. Do you suppose I could ever forget that?' So they sat down on a machine box, still holding hands and looking into each other's faces, without speaking a word, the tears falling fast. I walked away for fear of being similarly affected.

The comrade from Darlington was Lee McMurtrey of Company M, now living at Walla Walla, Washington. He has a running sore to this day as a result of a bullet that entered his body at the battle of Chancellorsville. The comrade from Shullsburg, (Lieut. R. J. Williams of Company I) is lying out here in your cemetery, where you laid him away during the past year, he having died from a malignant cancer on the face, and whose grave we are to decorate with beautiful flowers on the morrow, to do honor to the noble dead. He was my comrade and a life-long friend. Peace to his ashes! His widow, living in Darlington at the present time, has an active member of the Woman's Relief Corps for many years. Do you

HOW DO YOU SAY AVIATOR?

You Can Post Yourself on Aero-Auto Terms With Up-to-Date Talk Guide.

You may think you are able to pronounce the name of the new profession of air conquering properly, but so did the members of a fashionable house party recently, until the New Websterian 1912 Dictionary, illustrated, set them right.

All except one member of the party asserted that the first "a" is "short," when the right way is to make it "long." You probably did not know also that the word originally applied only to a flying machine, but is used now to designate the operator as well as his machine.

Can you pronounce, define and distinguish between the following few of the many terms you have heard used about you at aero-auto shows?

limousine, garage, aerogram, dirigible, magneto, aerostat, aeronaut, aeronaut.

You might think some of these words mean the same thing, but there is a difference. Get the New Websterian 1912 Dictionary, illustrated, and see how wrong you are. These are but the easier terms of aero-auto talk. Be up to date; get a dictionary and learn them all. Alfred W. Lawson, editor of "Aircraft," and Julian Chase, Ph. D., editor of "Motor" prepared this department of the dictionary.

The New Websterian 1912 Dictionary contains illustrations of the latest models of aeroplanes and balloons. If this does not interest you it will interest your boy. Many boys are more up-to-date than their fathers. Is yours?

This Dictionary is NOT published by the original publishers of Webster's Dictionary or by their successors. Get it now. Six coupons and a small expense bonus.

wonder at it?

Among the number burned in the Chancellorsville woods, spoken of in this article, was William A. Kimberley of the Color Guard, who was a brother of Col. E. O. Kimberley of this city.

McMurtrey, named above, died two years ago, because of his wound.

CLINTON

Clinton, Aug. 16.—Col. W. A. Seaver attended the races in Janesville yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Boden went to Milwaukee yesterday morning to attend the convention of the National Association of Retail Druggists.

Charles A. Jacket went to Delavan Wednesday evening to look at some horses for his livery business. George Irish and Miss Myrtle Irish of Avalon, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Irish and daughter Mabel, and Miss Laura Irish of Brookings, S. D., constituted a merry auto party here yesterday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Irish and daughter Mabel, moved through from Brookings.

Harry Loomis and wife have rented part of the house where Miss Lizzie Thorson lives in the house just north of J. R. Hehner's home, and moved there yesterday.

Little Miss Eleanor Sorenson celebrates her sixth birthday this afternoon by inviting all her little girl and boy friends to a delightful party at her home, corner Church street and Milwaukee avenue.

Yesterday was a remarkable day in real estate circles around Clinton, the first deal reported was Herman Krebs selling his farm of 60 acres to George Irish. Next Hans Hanson sold his fine farm of 160 acres to Herman Krebs; Next John Van Horn sold his farm of 16½ acres to Albert Krebs.

Consideration $24,225.00. The next deal was the largest and most important deal ever consummated. E. B. Hawks and S. B. Reese sold the Vanderyn farm, one mile east of town on Milwaukee road consisting of 200 acres to Edward Reum for $40,000 and J. F. Kemmerer sold Mr. Reum's farm of 117½ acres one-fourth mile south of town to W. R. Neir of Durand, Ill.

John Van Horn will have an auction Sept. 17th, and dispose of every thing and he and Mrs. Van Horn will leave for California in Oct. to spend the winter with his mother.

Unpardonable Fault.

A man should pardon everybody's fault rather than his own.—Cato.

BUYERS OF TOBACCO ARE AGAIN IN FIELD

Riding Northern Counties to Contract For Green Tobacco in Fields—Crop Conditions Favorable.

Edgerton, Wis., Aug. 17.—They're off again! About all the available buying force in the state is at present riding the northern tobacco growing counties in a wild scramble to contract for the green tobacco in the fields, developing into the same hot-foot campaign that has occurred for several years past. As yet not so much acreage has been sold, simply because only a small percentage of the crop is advanced enough to warrant taking long chances on. But 11, 12 and 13 cents and even higher have been paid for the more promising crops, while buyers are camping in the fields waiting for other crops to grow. With Irish competition all the time driving up prices, what a picnic for the growers! While most of them prefer not to become a party to optioning away their crops, the attractive prices are very tempting. Paying has also reached the southern districts. Samuel Clark sold 100 at 10¢4c; Chris Torgerson 4c at 10¢2c and Knud Henderson 5c at 12¢4c.

The return of warm weather has sent forward the late tobacco fields amazingly during the week and if such conditions continue there is an excellent chance for the development of plenty of fine, medium late tobacco. A very small fraction of the crop is now about ready for the harvest. The market for old leaf furnishes no news of importance, but a moderate trade in small lots continues. The Hardwick Bros. sold 30c of '07 to Chas. Reigel of Chicago. Ole Quam sold 25 cases of '11 to H. T. Sweeney.

The shipments out of storage reach 360 cases from this market to all points since last report.—Edgerton Reporter.

A Comfortable Shoe

is the Quilted Sole Outing Shoe, $2.50, all sizes. SCHMIDT SHOE STORE IN EDGERTON, WIS.

Uncle Pennywise Says:

A man with a monocle always has something to live for.

Daily Thought.
"Politeness is like an air cushion; there may be nothing in it, but it eases the jolts wonderfully.—George Eliot.

FLYING MEN FALL.

victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles just like other people, with like results in loss of appetite, backache, nervousness, headache, and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that as T. D. Peebles, Henry, Tenn., proved. "Six bottles of Electric Bitters," he writes, "did more to give me new strength and good appetite than all other stomach remedies I used." So they help everybody. Its folly to suffer when this great remedy will help you from the first dose! Try it. Only 50 cents at People's Drug Co.

Electric Light On The Farm

Be Up-to-Date Mr. Farmer. Light Your Farm With Electricity. It's Cheap With This Plant.

Electricity offers the most reliable, safe and efficient form of illumination, and now that its cost has been so greatly reduced and a lighting plant so simplified that it cannot help but appeal to every owner of a home where current from a public lighting station is not available.

COST

WITH ENGINE:

15 light plant	$250
30 light plant	$325
50 light plant	$410

WITHOUT ENGINE:

15 light	$210
30 light	$260
50 light	$346

Agents Wanted—Very liberal proposition to agents who will handle this line.

FrostEngine Co.
Evansville, Wis.

Blue-J-Jay Spark Plug

Did you ever wonder why the porcelain in your spark plugs was continually breaking? It is because the porcelain expands from the heat of the motor and in the ordinary plug has no relief.

The BLUE JAY has provided for this by the placing of an eighth-inch copper-asbestos washer between the gland nut and the porcelain and the porcelain and the shell in this way removing all reasons for fear that the heat from the engine will in any way effect the plugs.

The Electrodes, another trouble making point in the usual spark plug, are in the Blue Jay made of a nickel-copper-platinum composition that is self-cleaning and will last many times longer than the cheaper electrodes.

By providing strength for these, the two weakest points in all plugs, we have provided a plug that is absolutely dependable and will stand all tests. For sale solely in Janesville by the JANESVILLE MOTOR CO.

To people who cannot buy these from a local dealer we will supply by mail in one-half inch standard. A. L. A. M. and Metric.

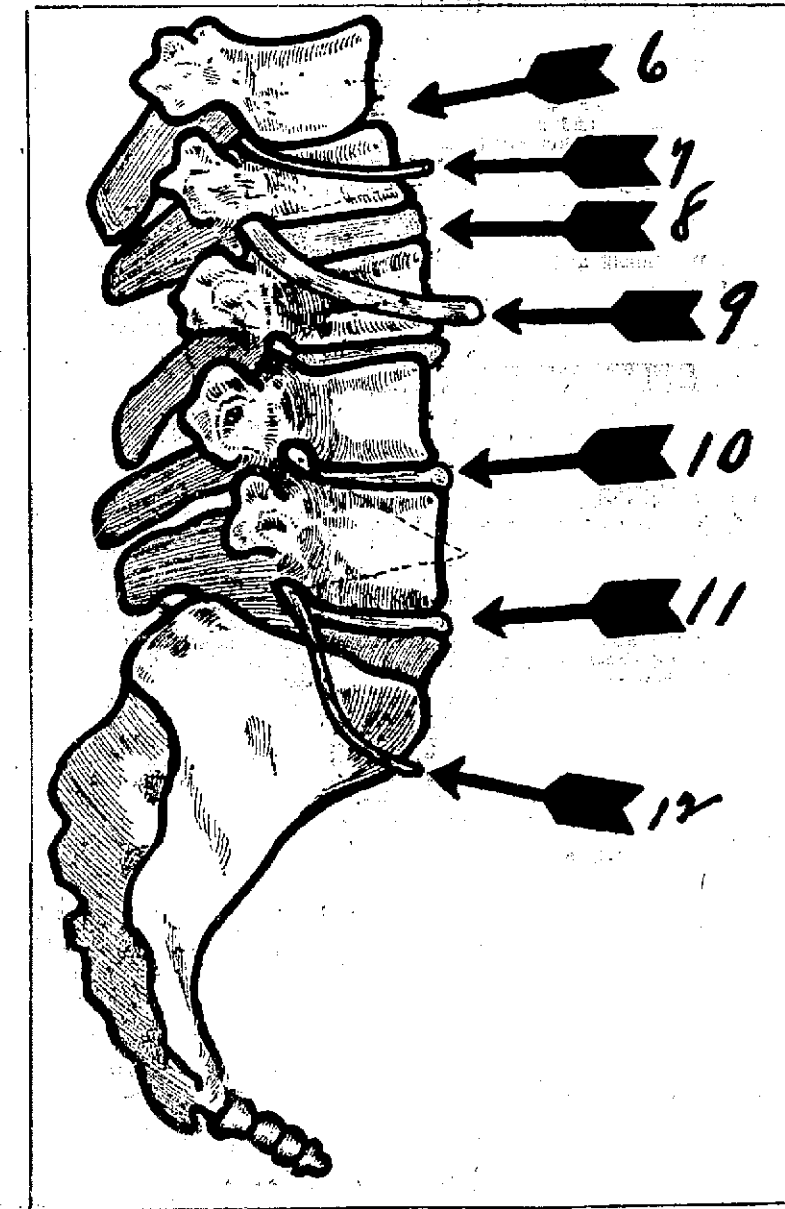

The Plug That Stands The Hard Knocks
REX MANUFACTURING CO.

OFFICE 217 E. ST., JANESVILLE
$1.00 Postpaid. $1.00 Postpaid.

DISEASES OF ALL KINDS BANISH BEFORE THIS 20th CENTURY SCIENCE

But to Enjoy the Good Things of Life You Must First Have Perfect Health
Don' Kill Yourself Slowly and With Deliberate Certainty.

If You are Even Slightly Sick Don't Delay Seeing the Chiropractor. The Danger Signals of Little Illnesses Are Warnings of Fast Encroaching Disease. Chiropractic WILL Banish it.

Nerve tissue is the most important tissue in the body, controlling all others. If the nerves act abnormally the functions they control become deranged. Ninety-five per cent. of all nerve derangement—of disease in man—arises through nerve impingement at the spine (see illustration). The only place in the body, however, where the nerves may be interfered with is at the place of their emission or exit through the openings between the vertebrae. Here we find the nerves between two movable bony segments, a displacement of either of which means pressure on the nerves at the point and disturbance of their functions. Disease is an evidence of nerve impingement—not some diseases but all disease not traceable to wounds. Broad claims, did you say? Quite true. Claims broadened by experience and by years of success outreaching every other method, right here in Janesville; success with the problem cases, the man with the leaking heart valve, the woman with Bright's Disease.

A subluxation is a partial displacement of a vertebra and is caused by jars, falls, wrenches, etc. Once acquired it may be latent for a considerable period and then, through the action of some secondary cause, become a serious menace to life.

The Chiropractor can demonstrate that a subluxation exists. I can discover the primary weakness in diseased organs of the body by examination of the spinal column.

Without vertebral subluxation no germ could find lodgment in the body; no vulnerable spot would be found ready for the attack. No poison could remain in the body unless chemically strong enough to destroy it. No change of temperature of exposure, no error in diet, no adverse mental condition would be sufficient to derange the perfect mechanism. If you "take cold" or are subject to Hay Fever it is because the mucous membranes are weak and susceptible through the nerve impingement. If your food, disagreeing with you, remains in the stomach to affect your general health it is because the stomach is not normal enough to empty itself, due to subluxation and nerve impingement (See testimonial below).

IF THE SPINE IS RIGHT THE MAN IS RIGHT

If you do not believe this, come to me and let me prove it to you. By the test of practice, for over three years in Janesville, the Chiropractic theory is the greatest of all, securing a higher percentage of results than any other system known.

STUDY THIS ILLUSTRATION OF THE SUBLUXATED SPINAL COLUMN PICTURED HERE.

Arrow Number 7 shows a diseased nerve, the branches of which would carry improper nerve force to their respective organs and cause such diseases as Acute or Chronic Appendicitis; an abnormal condition of the smaller intestines; Constipation; Pain, fever, swelling, tuberculosis of the Hip Joint; Lumbago, Rheumatism, etc.

Arrow Number 12 shows an impinged nerve from which might emanate: Bladder disorder; Bones (diseases of limbs, etc.); Rheumatism of the limbs, chronic or acute; Gout; Gland (prostate); Constipation; Articular pains; Muscular trouble of the lower limbs; Cold, burning, itching feet, etc.; Tumors.

Arrow No. 8 shows abnormal cartilage. Arrows Numbers 10, 11 and 6 show abnormal cartilages. Arrows Number 12 and 7 show abnormal nerves pinched.

Not Medicine, Osteopathy, or Surgery. Write for free pamphlets.

READ THIS TESTIMONIAL—FROM A RELIEVED SUFFERER WHO IS GRATEFUL TO CHIROPRACTIC

To Whom It May Concern:

After suffering with kidney and bladder trouble for seven weeks and attended by a medical man a greater part of the time and getting no relief, operation was advised.

Having heard of the wonderful results of the Janesville Chiropractor I resolved to give him a trial. On the 24th day of June the Chiropractor arrived at our farm. After the first adjustment the severe pain in my abdomen and back left me; up to this time I've taken four adjustments and am pleased to say I feel like a new woman.

(Signed) MRS. L. E. BRUHM.

J. N. IMLAY. Graduate Chiropractor

9 A. M. to 12 M.; 2 to 6 P. M.; 7 to 8 P. M.

Lady attendant, 405 Jackman Bldg. Janesville.

A REAL HEROINE

BY WALTER GREGORY.

Young Harvey interrupted himself in the midst of his most dramatic situation to tear open a dainty blue envelope just placed at his elbow by the discreet girl.

Now, although he had been engaged to Francesca for more than two years, the time had yet to come when the sight of her eccentric little scrawl would fall to send exquisite thrills racing from his heart all over his body, then back again to that hopelessly involved organ.

The letter was dated some days back, at an obscure little town in Georgia. The opening paragraph caused Leslie Harvey to hold his breath, those following to grow pale, then white, then gray; the closing one to grit his teeth and swear roundly between them.

"Dear, Dear Leslie—It breaks my heart to have to say what I am going to, but honor suggests no alternate course—and so I do not hesitate. As you have observed by the postmark, I am spending my vacation in Milledgeville, the little town from which you wrote me so many beautiful letters last summer. You dwell so on the loveliness of the place and your inspired work in it, that some curiosity and a great deal of sentiment prompted me to pick out the same village as an ideal spot in which to have a fortnight's rest.

"And, Leslie, I have met Priscilla Mayerton, the charming southern girl who posed as the heroine of your book. I recognized her instantly from the delineation in your first chapters (the ones I read) and, too, from several things you told me about her personally.

"And, dear, I am afraid you do not realize to what extent your literary ardor carried you in connection with this little girl. She talks a lot about you to me—not guessing who I am, of course—and I am firmly convinced that she loves you, that she believes herself loved in turn, and that she is waiting for you to come back again!

"And now, Boyo, while exonerating you entirely from any intentional disloyalty to me, or conscious devotion to Miss Mayerton, as things stand, there is clearly but one course for you to pursue. Go back to her and ask her to marry you. In her eyes, and the eyes of all Milledgeville, no doubt, you have committed yourself irrevocably; their code is different from ours, you know, but everywhere hearts are the same.

"At the last, I love you too well to keep silent and allow you to be guilty of a dishonorable act, and you—you love me too well, my own (for the last time), to walk in any other path when that of duty lies open before you. Farewell, Francesca."

After delivering herself of several emphatic exclamations, Leslie Harvey thrust back the litter of paper on his desk with a wrathful bound, knocked over the bottle of ink, and banged the door with a resounding thud. This somewhat eased the tension of his brain and permitted him to reminisce connectedly.

Committed himself, indeed! Why, he had never spoken a word of anything approaching love to Priscilla Mayerton. It was preposterous, her interpreting his attentions so.

True, he had been her constant companion for several weeks, walking, driving, boating, golfing or anything else that came up, but he had explained to her in the beginning that he was engaged upon a novel which was to have a southern girl for the heroine and that here was the exact type for which he was searching.

He had asked her permission to use her as his "model," and it had been accorded him freely. That, in Harvey's eyes, was the sum total of everything.

Once, he remembered, he had thought of showing the girl Francesca's photograph, of telling her that he was to be married in June. But their relation, in his opinion, had never demanded this confidence, and he had dismissed the thought.

Under the spur of a sudden inspiration he picked up a pen and began to write hurriedly. A reply to his fiancée's letter. He began, in fact, some half a dozen, and ended by tossing the whole into the trash basket, and flinging himself desperately out of the suffocating office into the open, where for two long hours he walked and walked and walked.

On an afternoon two weeks later he entered a shop in Pasadena and asked to be shown some ladies' green suede gloves. His sister had phoned him to make the purchase for her on his way home to dinner.

While the parcel was being wrapped the sound of a low, sweet-toned and very familiar voice caught his attention. It emanated from a little curtained alcove to the left, and caused the blood to go scorching in rivers up to his temples.

"I much prefer the plain tulle," the voice was saying in a soft, but perfectly distinct tone. "You see, my wedding gown is to be very, very simple, and the embroidered veil would seem a trifle heavy, don't you think?" Young Harvey strangled a gulp.

DENCIE.

His blood ran like ice water for the space of a second. This, then, was the solution of her letter; her duty—his honor. There was another man in the case, and she had deliberately made him the scapegoat. And they were to have been married in a month.

Well, he would let her see that her perfidy was no secret from him, and that under the circumstances he was glad to get clear of her. Priscilla Mayerton would not be a bad exchange, he went so far as to reflect.

The clerk who handed Leslie Harvey his parcel marveled at the flash of his eyes; a few moments ago they had been quite calm and pleasant.

"Are there more than two entrances to this shop?" he asked her curtly as he turned to go.

"Only the front one," she had answered, and with that he had gone out to the pavement and planted himself like a rock halfway between the two to wait.

In five minutes Francesca appeared. She was so quiet and natural, so unemotional and smiling that young Harvey felt his anger totter for an instant. As she turned their eyes met.

"Leslie!"

He was dumb for a second, nervously himself for his onslaught.

"When did you leave San Francisco?" she rattled on, superbly unconscious of the storm in his eyes, as they moved off together down the avenue.

"I reached here last night," he replied with as little civility as his tolerance would sanction. His indignation rose higher and higher at the look of strange radiance that enveloped the girl's features. "But you—"

"O, I expect to be a bird of passage as long as I can," she informed him with a little gurgle.

As long as she could Harvey ground his teeth. The effrontery of it all—hinting openly at her approaching marriage.

"I hear that you are soon to enlist with the 'silent majority'?" he observed with a touch of derision.

The warm color rippled in waves all over Francesca's pretty face. And as if to madden him, the golden sunlight began to play ravishingly on the rich gleam in the hair he had so loved—and was now another man's!

She nodded, with an arch, upward glance. "And you?"

Then instead of crushing her with his rage and scorn as he intended to do, Leslie Harvey did a very different thing; he went all to pieces and made a clean breast of his misery.

"Francesca, for the love of heaven tell me that I heard all wrong in the place back there—that you are not going to put another in my place so soon! That you didn't mean it when you wrote that wretched letter! I have lived in torment. And as for Priscilla Mayerton, duty, honor and all the other tommyrot—you belong to me, you are mine by all the laws of heaven and earth, and I'd never marry anybody else though the sky and every star in it fell!"

"I read last week that she had married her father's overseer," remarked Francesca matter of fact.

"Yet you had it that she—that I—that—"

"I always keep a balance account with my conscience, Boyo," she interposed softly.

"But suppose I had—and she had accepted?"

"I knew you wouldn't," whispered Francesca, with a swift flowering of roses in her cheeks, and the most delicious of smiles. "That is why I went right ahead with my trou-

TODAY'S EVANSVILLE NEWS

FORMER EVANSVILLE YOUNG MAN IS REPORTED MARRIED

Notice in Oshkosh Paper Tells of Marriage of Ernest Friebel—Other Evansville News.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Evansville, Aug. 17.—The many friends of Ernest Friebel, a seminary student for several years, and graduate of class 1911, are wondering about the truth of rumor of his marriage. A recent issue of an Oshkosh paper has the following to say: "Married—Mr. Ernest Friebel to Miss Ruth A. York, at the bride's home, Rev. Frank S. Kann officiating."

Evansville Personal Items. Mrs. Ed. McNair of Brodhead is visiting Miss Louise Greenman for a few days.

Harold Lewis is working at Merrill, Wis., as time-keeper for the Bell Telephone company.

Rev. G. W. Endicott, who has recently returned from camp meeting at Whitewater, will fill the pulpit at the services in the Free Methodist church tomorrow.

Thomas White and daughter, Hazel, started yesterday for Indiana to visit relatives.

A. B. Comstock, wife and daughter, have returned to Albany after visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Weaver, Miss Nora Weaver, Mrs. Bertha Dennis and Marvel Meyhart attended the Attica picnic.

Miss Ava Bullard went to Lake Kegonsa today for an outing.

Miss Dorothy Harte returned to town yesterday after visiting her aunt in the country, Mrs. Charles Webb several days.

The Misses Teresa McDonough and Metta Gifford returned to Edgerton yesterday afternoon after visiting friends here.

Miss Anna Noyes and niece, Veda, visited at August Kleinsmith's yesterday.

Miss Edna Lewis, who went to the Madison sanitarium on Tuesday, and was operated upon yesterday, is reported to be getting along nicely. Her friends have sent her a "surprise bag" to be opened each day of her convalescence.

Mrs. Sue Bagley, Mrs. Sylvester Purlington, and Mr. and Mrs. T. Lewis attended the Attica picnic.

Miss Ella Butts and the Misses Clara, Anna, Emma and Martha Kuelz will go to the lake tomorrow.

Mrs. Fred Tomlin is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. Graham.

The cellar is nearly completed and some of the lumber hauled today for Prof. Endicott's new house.

Willis Sand's mother, who lives in Oregon, is very ill, there being little hope of recovery.

Mr. Fairman, who resides on the Eldred farm, had the misfortune to break his nose in the ball game at the Attica picnic. Fortunately Dr. Lemmel of Albany was on hand to set the broken member.

Mrs. Joel Miles, who has been on the sick list, is better.

Herbert Milligan went to Janesville yesterday to see the races.

Arthur, Fryer and Ed. Morrison attended the races in Janesville yesterday.

Miss Josie Sands is in Oregon helping to care for her grandmother, Mrs. Sands.

Miss Nora Weaver and Marvel Neyhart went to Oregon yesterday to remain over Sunday.

Marc Webb goes to Whitewater today.

Miss Hazel Hanson returns to her home in Elroy today. She has been visiting Mrs. John Tomlin and Mrs. H. Graham.

Miss Esther Nordrum has gone to Janesville to spend the remainder of the summer at Prof. F. J. Lowth's home. Mrs. Lowth recently underwent an operation at Battle Creek, Mich., but is getting along nicely.

There will be union services on the First Baptist church lawn tomorrow night at 8:30 as usual. Rev. Harlan presides.

Miss Pauline Collins and Miss Rosa Huebsch are spending the week-end with Miss Margaret Pinnane. They will attend the dance in Croak's barn.

John Croak gave a barn dance and basket social last night for the Albany Catholic church. A large number of Evansville residents attended.

A. E. Snaiz has returned from his vacation.

Robert Collins, Dr. R. E. Shuster, A. Boody, Ponica Collins and Dr. Ware attended the races in Janesville yesterday.

Charles Altamus is building a new silo, the material for which came yesterday. It is to be of vitrified clay blocks and will be the first of its kind erected anywhere near here.

MAGNOLIA CENTER

Magnolia Center, Aug. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. W. Jameson, who have been visiting at Mr. and Mrs. S. Jameson's for the past week, went to Orfordville Thursday where they will make a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs.

John Setzer, before returning to Michigan.

Miss Zita Acheson, of Minneapolis, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Eastman.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Acheson were Janesville visitors Thursday.

Willie Neeley and sister Nellie spent Sunday at Evansville.

Mr. and Mrs. Brandenburg and family motored up from Center, Sunday, and spent the day with friends in West Magnolia.

Martha Grunsel, of Evansville, is visiting at the home of A. Poste.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Post and family spent Sunday at Mr. F. Man's.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Andrew were callers in West Magnolia Wednesday evening.

NORTH JOHNSTOWN

North Johnstown, Aug. 16.—John Reyden of Minneapolis called on friends here recently.

Wm. Malone and Miles Fanning spent Wednesday at Delavan Lake.

Miss Catherine Pierce is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McMalley in Harmony.

Miss Margaret Lynch of Janesville who has been visiting friends here the past two weeks returned home Saturday.

Miss Agnes Malone returned home Wednesday after spending a week visiting friends in Beloit.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kelly of Chicago who have been visiting relatives here returned home Monday.

Many from here attended the picnic at Richmond Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will McCann and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Fanning.

Wm. Quigley of Bur Oak spent Monday at the home of his brother John.

Frank Kelly spent Sunday with friends in Milton.

Want Ads are money-savers.

LIMA

Lima, Aug. 17.—Fred Woodstock is giving his barn a coat of paint.

Miss Georgie Holbrook is spending a couple of weeks with relatives in Janesville.

Threshing is going on as fast as rain will permit.

A good many attended the Gollmar show in Whitewater Friday.

Jessie Sullman and Ruth Johnson were week end visitors in Milton from Fargo, North Dakota, and brought a number of the Lima friends off for arraignment on the charge Mrs. Jennie Fay gave her a pleasant surprise on her 89th birthday on last offered in a newspaper circulation Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Fay, whose contest in Fargo after sending the home for many years has been in papers through the mails. He pleaded Whitewater, moved to Lima recently not guilty before a United States and is very pleasantly situated in commissioner here and was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Seldon, where the friends gathered the jurisdiction of the United States A shower of post cards, gifts of flow court at Fargo. The officers said that the pleasure of the occasion. Those under arrest at Fargo.

J. Collins, Aldrich, McComb, Wm. Truman, Fuller, Masterson, and the Misses C. Johnson, Elsie Truman, Beulah McComb, and Maude Higgins.

ARREST MAN ON CHARGE OF WORKING ALLEGED FAKE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Toledo, Aug. 17.—W. E. Ashley of Fond du Lac, Wis., was arrested at Marquette, Minn., today by postoffice inspectors Carl Egge and George Chase of Junction.

A number of the Lima friends off for arraignment on the charge Mrs. Jennie Fay gave her a pleasant surprise on her 89th birthday on last offered in a newspaper circulation Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Fay, whose contest in Fargo after sending the home for many years has been in papers through the mails. He pleaded Whitewater, moved to Lima recently not guilty before a United States and is very pleasantly situated in commissioner here and was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Seldon, where the friends gathered the jurisdiction of the United States A shower of post cards, gifts of flow court at Fargo. The officers said that the pleasure of the occasion. Those under arrest at Fargo.

Announcement

We are pleased to announce to the public that we have bought the building we occupy and thus can continue in the furniture business.

Our Sale Will Continue This Month

Not to disappoint the customers who have been planning to take advantage of our sale prices we have decided to continue the sale for the remainder of the present month.

Special Prices

Buffets, $14.75 up; these formerly sold at $18.00 and up.
One Turkish Rocker, $22.00 value, for$15.00
Good Felt Mattress for$6.50
All Grades of Mattresses$2.50 to $3.25
Big supply of pillows at low prices.

We will immediately begin buying for the fall trade both furniture and undertaking supplies and will have a line comparing more than favorably with any in the city.

MOSES BROS.

FURNITURE AND UNDERTAKING.

50 Years In Janesville.

YOUR IDLE MONEY

Will earn 4% interest with us and yet be as much at your call as if you kept it in your pocket. Bring it here for deposit and let us issue a Certificate of Deposit in your name.

THE BANK OF EVANSVILLE
EVANSVILLE, WIS.

FOUNDED 1870.

Geo. L. Pullen, Pres.

A New Kind of Milk--Inspected--That Has The Indorsement of The Medical Profession

Every Drop of This Inspected Milk Is Pure, Sweet and Clean.

Such a milk as this Inspected Milk, absolutely pure in its raw state, has long been needed for children's and invalid's use. Realizing its great need we have recently placed this on the market.

Arrangements have been made with F. O. Uehling Farm to supply the milk from their selected herd of high bred Guernsey cows. This herd have all passed an exceptionally rigid State Tuberculin Test. The milk is cooled to a temperature of 55 degrees immediately after milking instead of letting the milk cool slowly after the old method. This quick cooling preserves the goodness of the milk.

Each pint or quart is bottled in absolutely clean bottles that have been sterilized in steam. Each bottle is capped and sealed air-tight with a sanitary tin cap.

There is no richer milk procurable. Repeated test have shown this milk to be very rich in butter fat, testing over 4.5 per cent in each test.

You get nothing but the pure, sweet milk from which nothing has been taken away nor has anything been added. It is all pure milk, nothing but the best milk.

Your family doctor will gladly recommend the use of this milk when you ask him about it. Already it enjoys the unqualified endorsement of the medical men and has been on the market but a short time.

Order some today. Note the color creep into the baby's cheek; that in itself will pay you. Phone your order and it will be delivered promptly. 9c per quart; 5c per pint.

The Janesville Pure Milk Co.
Gridley & Craft, Props.

NORTH BLUFF ST.

BOTH PHONES.

MODEL 69 Completely Equipped

Overland 1913 $985 Overland 1913

MODEL 69 Completely Equipped

THIS car, at this price, smashes all previous records. It even totally eclipses our 1912 values, which a year ago baffled the world. 40,000 Overlands will be made in 1913. This enormous jump in production makes possible this new car at this new price.

Some of the Features

SELF STARTER
30 HORSEPOWER
5 PASSENGER TOURING CAR
110-INCH WHEEL BASE
TIMKEN BEARINGS
$50 REMY MAGNETO

As Overland production goes up, prices come down, as has been shown in each preceding year.

In this age of rapid progress it is sometimes difficult to grasp the full significance of an important, progressive manufacturing step, such as this car exemplifies. But when you sum up the extraordinary, cold dollar for dollar value which this car offers, as compared to any and all competing motor car values, the giant economical manufacturing strength of the huge Overland plants is realized and recognized. It only proves the ability of this most powerful and efficient automobile factory.

Here we can but call your attention to the bare facts. This is the car—a big, powerful, beautiful, spacious, comfortable, self-starting, thirty horse-power, five passenger touring car—fully equipped—all ready for night or day, rain or shine, service. Made of the best materials on the market, by the most skilled men known to the trade, and in the most efficient automobile shops in America. And the price is but $985.

We can make the positive statement, without any kind of a condition, that this is the automobile industry's record value.

This car can now be seen at this garage. We are waiting to give you your demonstration. Look up this car at once. Write us at once for full information and a 1913 catalogue.

Some of the Features

$50 WARNER SPEEDOMETER
$50 MOHAIR TOP AND BOOT
$25 CLEAR VISION WIND-SHIELD
$25 PRESTOLITE TANK

MOTOR — Four-cylinder, cast separately. Bore, 4 in. Stroke, 4½ in. Horsepower, 30.

IGNITION — Remy Model R. D. Battery and Magneto — two sources of current.

COOLING — Water cooled. Thermo-Syphon Cellular Radiator.

OILING — Splash system for crank and cam shaft bearings. Cylinder and timing gears oiled with Kinwood force feed oiler.

CAM SHAFT — Carbon Steel drop forged, three bearings.

CRANK SHAFT — Carbon Steel drop forged, five bearings.

CONNECTING ROD — Carbon Steel drop forged.

MAGNETO SHAFT — Drop forging.

PUSH ROD — Crescent drill rod steel.

CARBURETOR — Model D Schebler.

CENTER CONTROL.

FRAME — Channel section — Cold rolled steel, No. 9 U. S. Ga. (156). Depth Side Rail, 3¾ in. Width of Flange Face, 1¼ in.

SPRINGS — Front: Semi-elliptic. Length, 36 in. Width, 1¾ in. Rear: Three quarter elliptic. Length, 42 in. Width, 1¾ in. All springs have 6 leaves, steel bushing eyes.

TRANSMISSION — Selective. Three speeds forward and reverse. Annular Bearings.

REAR AXLE — Three-quarter floating; Bearings, Hyatt; Axle Shaft, Carpenter Samson Steel. Propeller Shaft, Cold Rolled Steel. Main Driving Shaft, Calumet Steel.

BRAKES — Contracting and expanding on rear wheels. Inside diameter Brake Drum 13 in. Width of brake shoe 2¼ in. Outside diameter Brake Drum, 13¾ in. Width Brake Band, 2¼ in.

FRONT WHEEL BEARINGS — Timken Roller Bearings.

FRONT AXLE — Drop forged, clearance 10½ in.
TIRES — 32x3½ Q. D.

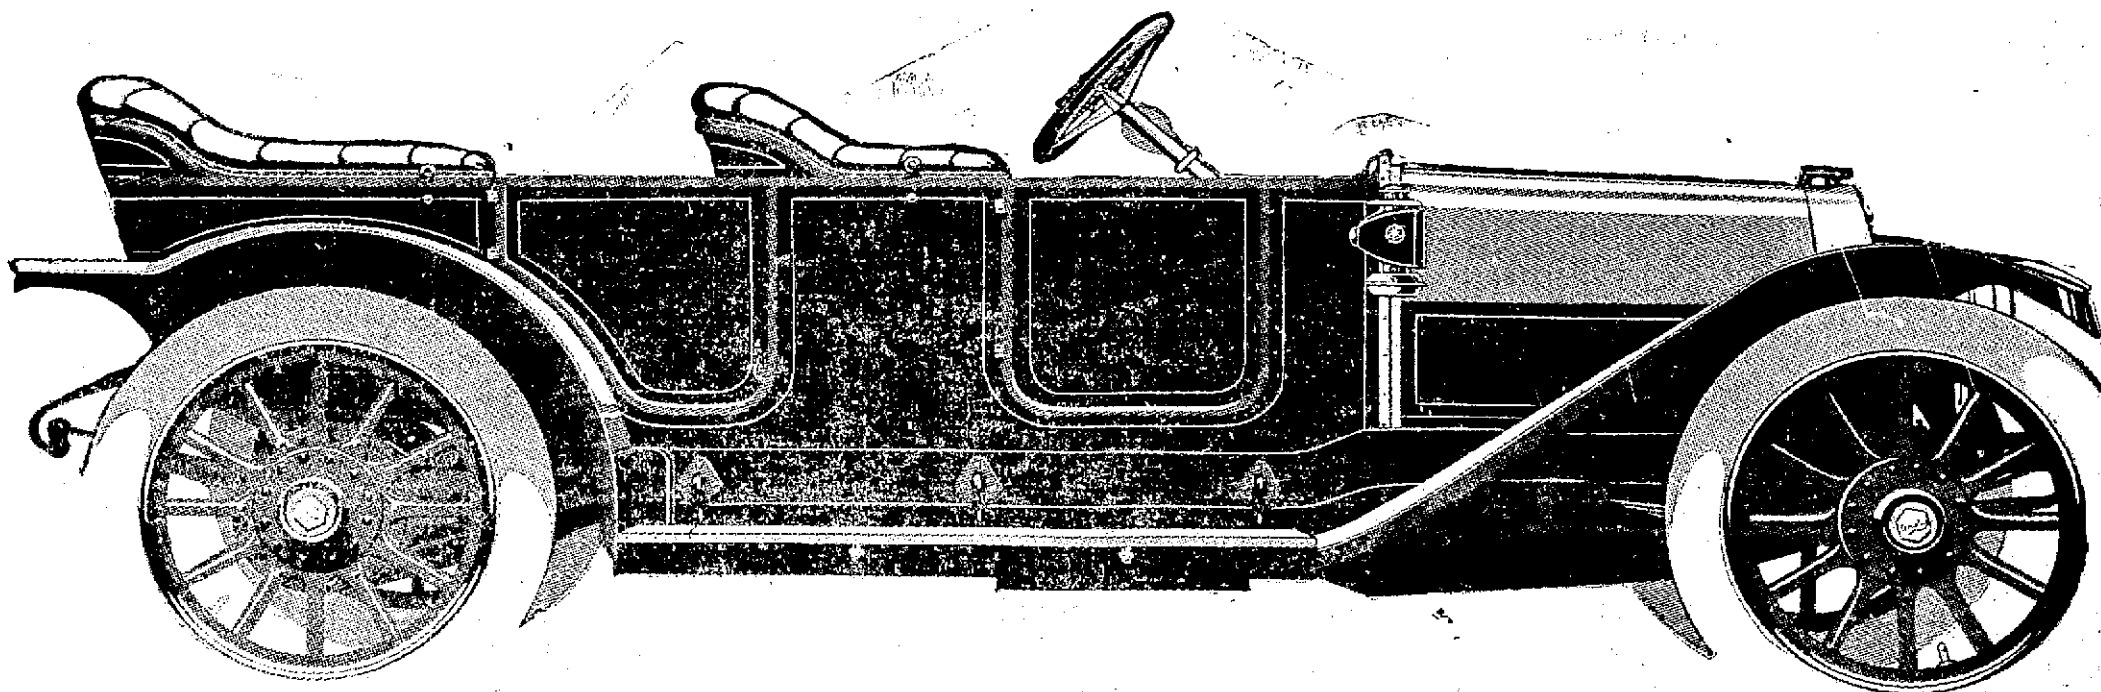

FINISH — All bright parts nickel plated, with black trim.

EQUIPMENT — Mohair top and boot; Warner Speedometer; Windshield; Prestolite Tank; Self-Starter; Five black and nickel Lamps; Tire-Irons; Robe Rail; Foot Rest; Tool Kit and Jack.

The Janesville Motor Company

17-19 South Main Street

Both Phones

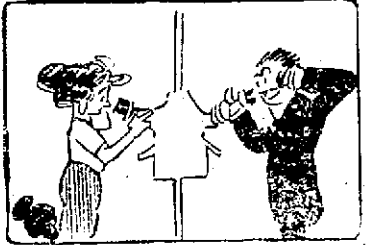

DINNER STORIES

Matters of great moment occurred, and Mrs. Masters found it imperative that she should immediately get into touch with her husband.

She telephoned to his office to find that he had left and then she rang up his club.

"Hello!" she remarked. "Is that the Cityman Club? Is my husband there?"

"No, madame," came the courteous reply. And the good lady felt instinctively that the receiver of the instrument was about to be replaced. "Hold on!" she cried. "Don't ring off! How did you know who I mean? I haven't told you my name."

"No, madame," the courteous one continued. "But you see, nobody's husband is ever here—never!"

Then Mrs. Masters herself rung off—with violence. ***

"I must insist, sir," exclaimed the pompous person, "that the device is a fire-plug."

"And I am equally confident that it is a water-plug," retorted the mild individual.

"Now, my dear sir," puffed the pompous person, "this device was put here primarily as a plug on which to attach a hose in case of fire in the vicinity. Therefore it is absolutely impossible that it can be anything but a fire-plug."

"This plug was placed here to supply water. Consequently it is a water-plug. If it supplied fire—why, then, of course, it would be a fire-plug."

The pompous person stopped a passing pedestrian.

"Sir," he began, "I desire to appeal to your intelligence. This gentleman has become involved in an argument with me. He insists that this device is a water-plug, while I, with equal confidence, claim that it is a fire-plug."

D. C. Bybee, teaming contractor living at 689 Keeling Court, Canton, Ill., is now well rid of a severe and annoying case of kidney trouble. His back ached and he was bothered with headaches and dizzy spells. "I took Foley Kidney Pills just as directed and in a few days I felt much better. My life and strength seemed to come back, my backache left me, I slept well, and I got up free from headache and dizzy spells. I am now all over my trouble and recommend Foley Kidney Pills to everyone. Badger Drug Co."

PAID ANNOUNCEMENT

Political Announcement. Written and authorized by Lucius E. Kennedy. Amount paid, $2.50 for each insertion.

For Assemblyman

LUCIUS E. KENNEDY.

The progressive movement, like the grand old republican party, was born in Wisconsin and within the ranks of that party. I have always been a loyal supporter of this grand old party, and I cast my first ballot for the progressive movement which had its origin in that party and I have always supported its men and measures. As I firmly believe every true republican has and will, as I deem that party the best fitted to secure for and return to the people their Government.

I believe any person holding the office of assemblyman should at all times work for and in the interest of his constituents.

I favor an economical and business administration.

I favor such amendments to the income tax law as will make it a law that will be fair to all.

In view of the fact that the amendment to the State Constitution authorizing the income tax law was adopted by a majority vote at two sessions of the State Legislature and ratified by the people by a vote of four to one, I favor the re-submission of this law to a vote of the people.

I believe in the State university and am in favor of giving the board of regents, who have the management of this institution, sufficient money to carry on the work as it should be, but no more.

LUCIUS E. KENNEDY

JANESVILLE, WIS.
Republican Candidate for the nomination to the office of Member of Assembly for 1st District of Rock County.
PRIMARIES SEPT. 3rd.

plug. Will you kindly settle the question for us?"

"Certainly," replied the pedestrian. "You say this is a fire-plug, and your friend declares it is a water-plug. Just let me investigate."

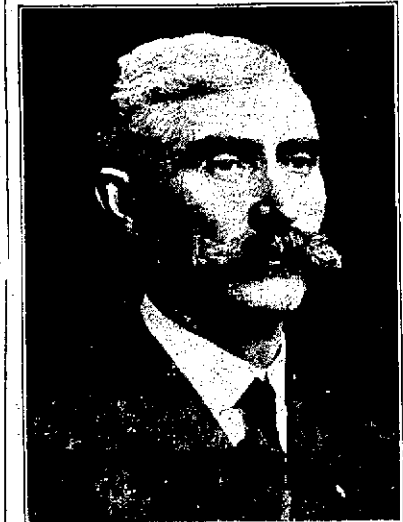

He looked carefully at the plug and rapped it gently with his cane.

"I greatly fear you both are wrong," he finally remarked. "This appears to be an iron plug."

THE TRIALS OF A TRAVELER.
"I am a traveling salesman," writes E. E. Young, E. Berkshire, Vt., "and was often troubled with constipation and indigestion till I began to use Dr. King's New Life Pills, which I have found an excellent remedy." For all stomach, liver or kidney troubles they are unequalled. Only 25 cents at Peoples' Drug Co.

Political announcement. Written and authorized by F. M. Roach; 25c per inch paid per insertion.

VOTE FOR

F. M. ROACH

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE

For Sheriff

of Rock County, at Primaries Tuesday, Sept. 3, 1912.

Five years a member of the County Board, also ten successive years, treasurer of the Town of Harmony. Endorsed by over two-thirds of the Rock County Board.

INDIAN KILLED ON TRACK.
Near Rochelle, Ill., an Indian went to sleep on a railroad track and was killed by the fast express. He paid for his carelessness with his life. Often its that way when people neglect coughs and colds. Don't risk your life when prompt use of Dr. King's New Discovery will cure them and so prevent a dangerous throat or lung trouble. "It completely cured me, in a short time, of a terrible cough that followed a severe attack of Grip," writes J. R. Watts, Floydada, Tex., "and I regained 15 pounds in weight that I had lost." Quick, safe, reliable and guaranteed. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Peoples' Drug Co.

Paid advertisement, amount paid $2.00 each insertion.

MAYOR CUNNINGHAM OF BELOIT

FOR STATE SENATOR 22ND DISTRICT.

Serving 7th year as mayor of Beloit.

Serving 8th year as treasurer of school board.

A Business Man.

In favor of progressive legislation and the amendment of the income tax.

If nominated and elected he will give the office the same personal attention that he accords his private business.

Primaries Sept. 3rd.

Paid Political Announcement. Written and authorized by J. S. Lynch. Amount paid, $5.00 each insertion.

For Sheriff J. S. LYNCH

A resident of Rock County sixty-two years.

A member of the Republican Party thirty-five years.

Member of County Board five years.

Assessor of the Town of Avon five years.

Now president of the Newark Improvement Association.

If Nominated and Elected Will Give the Office Careful, Personal Attention.

I Solicit the Votes of the Republican Party at the Primary, Sept. 3rd.

Paid Political Announcement. Written and authorized by F. F. Livermore, Beloit, Wis. Price paid, $2.50 each insertion.

LIVERMORE FOR COUNTY TREASURER WHY?

Watch This Space Next Saturday

Because he is endorsed by Business Men, Farmers, Toilers in all walks of life, Bankers and Lawyers from all parts of the county. They express the belief that he is the man of the hour. He comes from the ranks of the Toiler—all that he has and is, comes as the result of hard work. Is he trustworthy? Look up his record on County Board, 12 years, or in his own home city, 30 years.

Paid Advertisement. $7.50 per insertion.

D. WILLARD NORTH.

I am progressive enough to stand for every measure that is really progressive and conservative enough to cling tenaciously to the good things in the old order of things.

I stand for an absolutely square deal for everyone in our taxation laws.

I am in hearty sympathy with every effort to compel the man of large wealth to pay taxes in proportion to the benefits he derives from organized society, but not more so than I am in favor of compelling the pauper from choice to assume the dignity of citizenship, by imposing upon him a moiety of taxation. If these two extremes of society were properly taxed there should be no occasion for ever increasing burden of taxation imposed upon our farmers and manufacturers—the average citizens.

The income tax have vicious features. The passage was inopportune and until repealed or amended or until other states pass a similar law, will be an invitation for wealth to leave our state and will repel industries now seeking a home with us.

If the law can be so amended that it will retain its good features and eliminate all its vicious workings, I favor such amendment. If it can not be so amended, I favor its repeal.

I am opposed to the extravagant expenditures of state moneys.

I am opposed to any move to deflect our youth from attending our small Christian colleges. I have spent 4 years in our smaller colleges and 2 in the University of Wisconsin and can think fairly upon this whole educational problem.

I have had to do with the enforcement of law and my work has demonstrated to a nicety that crime can be reduced to a minimum by its rigid impartial enforcement. In dollars and cents, in peace and happiness the suppression of crime is the greatest economic question now before the state. On the 23rd of last September, I saw two men at the Northwestern depot in Janesville, with 13 white slaves—that mass of corruption has caused more agony than you and I will ever know. Loosing sight of the millions crime costs the state every year, I promise the mothers and fathers of Wisconsin my vigorous co-operation in the passage of any measure that will bring this traffic in girls to an end.

I favor County Option.

I favor Woman Suffrage.

I don't know how to dodge an issue. Ask the other fellows to declare themselves on law enforcement before you give them your vote.

Written and authorized by D. Willard North.

CANDIDATE FOR ASSEMBLY
First District, Rock County

PAID ADVERTISEMENT

Written and publication authorized by Lawrence C. Whittet in the interests of his candidacy for State Senator, 22nd District. Price 25 cents per inch each insertion.

LAURENCE C. WHITTET

Republican Candidate for State Senator 22nd District

Comprising Rock and Walworth Counties

In permitting my name to be placed before the voters of this district, I do so with the knowledge that there is urgent need for a businesslike conduct of our state affairs. I shall stand for:

An economical administration of state affairs.

Separation of University from politics.

As opposed to the present Income Tax Law.

I shall endeavor to reflect the wishes of the voters of my district, believing that the people should rule.

(Signed)

L. C. WHITTET.

PAID ADVERTISEMENT

Written and publication authorized by Lewis E. Gettle in the interests of his candidacy for State Senator. Price 25 cents per inch each insertion.

LEWIS E. GETTLE CANDIDATE FOR THE SENATE

There are questions involved other than the income tax. The Gazette wants to know my position. It is the same now as it was in the assembly. I believe it to be grossly unjust that the man who has $100,000.00 invested in mortgages, stocks or bonds should wholly escape taxation, while the owner of a cow or of a little house and lot pays taxes on a full valuation. Some form of income tax appears to be the only remedy. I did not vote for the present law because

1. It makes the taxpayers report intricate with "red tape" and expensive.

2. Because the exemptions should be at least $1500.00 for husband and wife and exemptions for children until they reach the age of 21. A child is usually an expense until that age.

3. Because the rental value of the home occupied by the owner should not be included in the taxable income.

Mr. Whittet says he is opposed to the present income tax law.

Is he in favor of any income tax law?

Is he in favor of reaching that $100,000.00 bond, stock or mortgage holder? If so, in what manner?

Was he voting for the farmer when the obnoxious tuberculosis test law was passed by the 1909 legislature?

Was he in favor of economy when he helped authorize special committees who took trips all over Wisconsin, to Oklahoma, and even to Europe at the expense of the taxpayers?

This costs me 25c an inch. The Gazette can answer for nothing.

VOTE YOUR SECOND CHOICE

Municipal Affairs Of Vital Interest

CITIES MAY OBTAIN OIL LANDS FROM GOVERNMENT

Washington, D. C.—As a sequel to Secretary Fisher's recommendation last week that the government give free coal lands to cities in public land states, to be operated for the benefit of the people, the Secretary stated that he would take practically the same position in regard to water supply and water power sites and oil lands.

In other words, the Department of the Interior will officially co-operate in the extension of municipal ownership and operation of coal mines, water supply systems, electric light and power plants and oil wells.

Secretary Fisher announced that whenever a municipality in a public land state applied for a water supply or water power site, with the legitimate purpose of developing it, he would recommend that it have preference over a private applicant, individual or corporation.

Furthermore, the Secretary will recommend that the compensation exacted by the government for the use of the site shall be nominal, with an agreement that the government shall turn the money into the improvement of contributory streams and water sheds. The effect of this would be practically to return the money to the municipality's treasury.

The conditions exacted by the government would be that municipalities promptly and properly develop the sites and give full publicity to the cost of operation and the receipts, in order that no graft or corruption could appear. Failure to comply with these conditions would result in the government again taking over title.

In the opinion of Secretary Fisher, it would be necessary for the government to require a certain compensation for the sites and power, although the money would be used solely for the benefit of the municipality that paid it. In no other way, he says, could a proper adjustment be made between the rates charged for electricity developed by water power and that generated by steam.

The first word of Secretary Fisher's intended co-operation with cities and towns in the extension of municipal ownership of utilities and public necessities came last Friday, when he sent a letter to congress recommending that it give 640 acres of coal land to the city of Grand Junction, Colo. To make this possible he withdrew the 640 acres in question from public entry.

LA CROSSE HAS NEW WAY OF LAYING STREET DUST

If the recommendation of Mayor John Dangler of La Crosse relative to street improvements is adopted, the oiling system with which the city has been experimenting will be abandoned, and the streets will be made dustless by coating them with an asphalt binder with gravel top, according to a recent issue of the La Crosse Tribune.

"According to the estimates the cost of sprinkling per block is $20.10 per year; the cost of oiling is $60, and the cost of improving the present macadam streets by the use of asphalt binder and gravel top is $120. With the oiling system, Mr. Dangler declares, the streets will require re-oiling every two years which places the cost of this method at about $30 per block per year. The application of asphalt binder with gravel top will eliminate all further attention for twenty years which makes the cost per block a year for this method about $6, or twenty per cent of the oil system. Mr. Dangler today said that he will recommend the latter method.

The estimates which will be submitted are as follows:

Cost of oiling.
Cost of placing one car tank of street road oil ten blocks. Vine street from 6th to 12th, and West avenue from La Crosse to Vine.
Cost of one car of road oil. $275.04
Labor, cleaning street and heating and spreading of oil (men and teams) 216.85
Screened gravel, 50 yards at $1.70 85.00
Coal for heating oil. 25.75

Total cost. $602.64

Cost of Sprinkling.
Cost of sprinkling streets for 1911. 387 blocks, 12 routes at 32 1/2 blocks per route.
Cost of labor for sprinkling $2,795.15
Estimated cost of water. 4,000.00

Total cost. $7,795.15

Estimated cost for water per block. 10.30

Cost of labor per block. 9.80

Total cost of water and labor per block per year. $20.10

Cost of Macadam.
Estimated cost per block for permanently improving present macadam streets by the use of asphalt binder with gravel top:

1,000 gal. of asphalt at 7c. $70.00

Gravel 18.85

Labor 31.15

Total estimated cost per blk. $120.00

REQUIRED SWITCH ENGINE TO PULL BARRELS LOOSE

(Belvidere Republican.)

The carriage of tar asphaltum which arrived Saturday furnished the street department force and the Fair workers some real strenuous work in the unloading. When the car was opened it was found that asphaltum has run out of the barrels and was about two inches deep on the floor of the freight car. Human tugging and pulling failed to stir a single barrel so firmly were they all glued to the floor. A team of horses was brought to the rescue and hard pulling managed to tear a few barrels loose. But there was one barrel the team could not manage. A few more barrels were hitched loose from the asphalt and then the men came to a barrel which resisted the combined pull of the two teams. Eveners were snapped in pieces and harness tore loose but not Mr. Barrel. The workmen were about to give up in despair when the switch engine crew came to their aid. The car was firmly blocked and with a chain hitched around the barrel the switch engine yanked the out one by one or at least all of the barrels that would come loose.

CHIEF BAKER OF RACINE BOOSTS MOTOR APPARATUS

Chief of Police Henry Baker of Racine, while on a visit to Oshkosh recently gave an interview to the Oshkosh Northwestern, concerning the use of automobile fire and patrol apparatus in that city.

"Let me tell you what gasoline is doing for my department in Racine. Last month we ran the chief's car, the patrol wagon with sixty-two runs the ambulance, with sixty-seven runs and two motorcycles that covered over 3,000 miles, all for $18.65. Besides that, the service saved the life of a man whose abdomen was torn open by a saw. He was on the table in a hospital in twelve minutes from the time the call came in. The doctors concede it was prompt service that saved the man's life."

Chief Baker says his ambulance pays the running expenses of itself, the patrol wagon and the motorcycles through fees collected for conveying patients to hospitals. The department charges $3 a person for this service. Racine also has two auto hose wagons and in November will vote on a bond issue to motorize the entire fire department. It has been decided to purchase motor fire engines with which to piece out the waterworks system which has become overtaxed.

OIL ON BRICK STREETS SATISFACTORY DUST LAYER

Experiments with the oiling of streets have been made this summer by the city of Appleton. The result thus far has evidently resulted to the entire satisfaction of people there, judging from the following comment made by the Post of that city:

"Sufficient time has elapsed since the oiling of the brick paved streets was begun to demonstrate that such oiling is a conspicuous success. The dust nuisance is practically entirely overcome. The efficiency of the oil in keeping down the dust is almost perfect, and it does it twenty-four hours a day. Instead of, in the case of water, but a few minutes after the passage of the street sprinkler, in addition to the pavements are never wet and muddy, as they are when sprinkled with water. The oil has no objectionable features. Altogether it is the ne plus ultra."

COMMISSIONERS OF ELGIN MEET WITH NEW PROBLEM

Elgin, Ill.—Elgin's commission, yesterday scratched its head today over an entirely new public problem. "How can a city stop the flight of honey bees?" is the puzzle. The commission received communication signed by twenty residents of the southeast end of the city asking that immediate steps be taken to keep bees out of vineyards. The petition sets forth that honey bees ruined last year's grapes, and that unless the bees are penned up they will ruin the crop this year.

HAVE FAIR AND CARNIVAL FOR PLAYGROUND BENEFIT

Neenah, Wis.—For the benefit of several public playgrounds, for which the city council will create funds, this year in preparation for the establishment of the grounds next year, a street fair and carnival will be held in Neenah this week. The city of Neenah has entered into contract with the Capital City Amusement company to furnish the attractions and local citizens and merchants will assist in making the affair a big success. A committee has been appointed by Mayor C. B. Clark to assist in the details of the week's doings.

RACINE POLICE OFFICIALS ALL TO WEAR UNIFORMS

(Racine Times.)

In order to prevent confusion, all of the police officers of the city will hereafter be obliged to wear uniforms as an insignia of their office, the new ruling becoming effective September 1st. Heretofore arrests have been made by officers in citizens' clothing, and in many cases serious confusion and has resulted. It is believed that the new rule will effectually abolish all difficulty.

TO ESTABLISH PLAYGROUND AT AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL

(Wausau Record-Herald.)

At the joint meeting of the Agricultural and Training school boards yesterday it was voted to build a playground on the grounds of the Agricultural school building, to be 130 by 250 feet in dimensions. The main object is to afford adequate space for the Training school students to learn plays and games for introduction in the country schools. The grounds will also be used as an athletic field.

ORFORDVILLE

Orfordville, Aug. 17.—Julius Rublee and family of Colfax, and Mrs. Ed. Rublee and family of DeForest, who have been entertained at the T. O. Rime home this week, departed Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fjeldstad have removed from Harvard, Ill., to Orfordville, where they will make their home. Mrs. Fjeldstad was Burnette Stuvengen.

Grant Pankhurst is in town on a short vacation.

Miss Almo Wells of Madison is visiting at the home of her brother, Dr. J. W. Wells.

Florence Woodling was here calling on her sister, Mrs. Lee Rowe, yesterday.

Mildred Dunn spent Friday in Janesville with her sister, Mrs. C. E. Cook.

Normal Hendrickson attended the band tournament at New Glarus, on Thursday.

Besides the regular services at Lutheran church Sunday morning, there will be a special song service in the evening. Among the numbers will be a tenor solo by Mr. Kvale. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. O. A. Peterson gave a large dinner Thursday to the out-of-town members of the Orsgrad reunion.

The Orfordville Mercantile company is to conduct a drawing contest similar to the one held by the Hansen Hardware company last year. The prize will be a fine range, which will be given away in about two months.

Mr. Sainsbury will conduct a harvest praise service tomorrow in the M. E. church. Special music, and everybody invited always.

New Cure For Rheumatism.

SIDEWALK KETCHES.

MANNERS.

(By Howard L. Rann.)

MANNERS are a form of social gymnastics which people use for the purpose of convincing everybody that they are perfectly at ease.

Good manners will enable a man who hasn't earned a dime in six months to enter into a brown-stone front on the boulevard and get away with a high hand-shake and a perfumed line of book review.

A two-fisted son of a toll who pulls down $9 a day juggling pressed brick would be thrown through the panels of an iron fence because he wore a sack suit after 6 p. m.

There has been a great change in manners since the clinging hoop skirt and the nine-inch blouse were hit between the eyes by fashion's stern decree. In the old days a man couldn't meet a woman without implanting a chaste and roscate kiss upon the back of her hand, but if any gallant of the present age should seek to revive that hallowed custom, an outraged husband would splatter his physiognomy all the way from the dining room to the front steps.

It used to be considered a religious act to give a woman with seven bangles and a 60-pound infant in arms a seat in a street car, but there is nothing in religion or morals that justifies any such familiarity nowadays.

In some localities it is still considered good form for a man to remove his hat on entering an elevator, inhibited by femininity. This humiliating practice, however, is giving way to the habit of wearing the hat at an angle of forty-five degrees and filling all the willow plumes in the car with tobacco smoke.

Some people are so afraid of wearing out their manners that they seldom bother to put them on at home, but reserve them for some social gathering where there isn't much else in the line of entertainment. A man is said to have perfect manners when he is able to pick out the salad fork without watching his neighbor out of the corner of his eye and following his lead.

AVALON

Avalon, Aug. 16.—Mrs. Webber and little son of Avalon and Sarah and Clara Cook of Sharon spent Sunday and Monday at F. Dalkhorn's.

Leslie Dodge spent a few days this week with his brother Ralph in Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hough entertained Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Oliver, Mr.

Dr. C. H. Ellsworth, Dentist, 16 Baldwin St., Rochester, N. Y., says: "Foley Kidney Pills gave him immediate relief and strengthened him wonderfully. For some time past I have been bothered with weak kidneys and bladder trouble. Irregular action, pain, and dizzy spells all troubled me. Foley Kidney Pills gave me immediate relief and strengthened me wonderfully. I am prepared to recommend their use." Foley Kidney Pills are specially prepared for kidney and bladder ailments, and are always effective for rheumatism, backache, weak back and lumbago. Badger Drug Co.

and Mrs. Robert Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Ullins, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ransom, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kemmer, John and Mary Reid and Miss Lizzie Grant at dinner Sunday.

Mrs. Whitlock of Clinton spent a part of last week with Mrs. F. Dalkhorn.

Miss Lizzie Grant of Whitewater is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Wm. Reid this week.

Mrs. Wm. Deane spent Monday in Janesville returning to Delavan Lake the next day.

Chas. McCarthy and Allen Dodge attended field day exercises at Richmond Thursday.

Ward Ryan of Milwaukee spent Sunday at West Frost's.

Miss Minnie Hasley of New Glarus who has been spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. C. Oliver, returned home Saturday.

Mrs. Sherman Clapper entertained the members of the C. R. club at tea Thursday.

The many friends of H. Hanson are sorry to learn of the sale of his farm and hope he may decide to purchase in this neighborhood and remain among us.

Ala. and Miss Margaret Ansley of spent Thursday in the neighborhood and attended the C. & R. club at Mrs. Clapper's.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Rokenbrodt and son Clyde spent a few days recently with relatives at Ft. Atkinson.

Little Miss Mable Ransom entertained four of her little girl friends, Misses Ruth Waugh, Dorothy Boynton, Cora Stoney and Elmer Volz Wednesday afternoon.

E. R. Boynton spent Tuesday in Beloit.

Just Football.

He stood on the bridge at twilight as the game drew near its close. In triumphant mood he steadfastly stood on the bridge of the halfback's nose.

Women Join The Hoosier Army

Tens of thousands of women enlist every year in the great army of Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet users.

These women who use Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets save steps, time, labor.

Have YOU discovered that the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet saves an hour or two, and thousands of steps each day? Ask your neighbor who has one. She will tell you.

When a woman once learns what a Hoosier Cabinet will do for her, she falls in love with it. She talks about it, and other women enlist in the great army of Hoosier users.

The Hoosier army numbers over 500,000 women. Here in Janesville is one of the big companies in this mighty army.

Come in and see this wonderful cabinet. Perhaps you may want to enlist.

Hoosier Cabinets $17 to $25.

W. H. Ashcraft

FURNITURE AND UNDERTAKING.

104 W. MILW. ST. BOTH PHONES.

DON'T MISS THE AMATEUR CONTEST

AT HARLEM PARK

SPECIAL $10 PRIZE FOR BEST ACT APPEARING SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Evenings August 17th & 18th

Transportation refunded to all entries from points outside of Rockford on the Interurban. Artists must report to Park Manager before 7:45 P. M. Saturday Evening, August 17th.

MEET ME WHERE THE LANTERNS GLOW August 19th-25th

BEAUTIFUL JAPANESE FETE WEEK

Famous Japanese Acrobats and other special free Added Features.

First Of Rockford's Riverview Final Spectacular Weeks

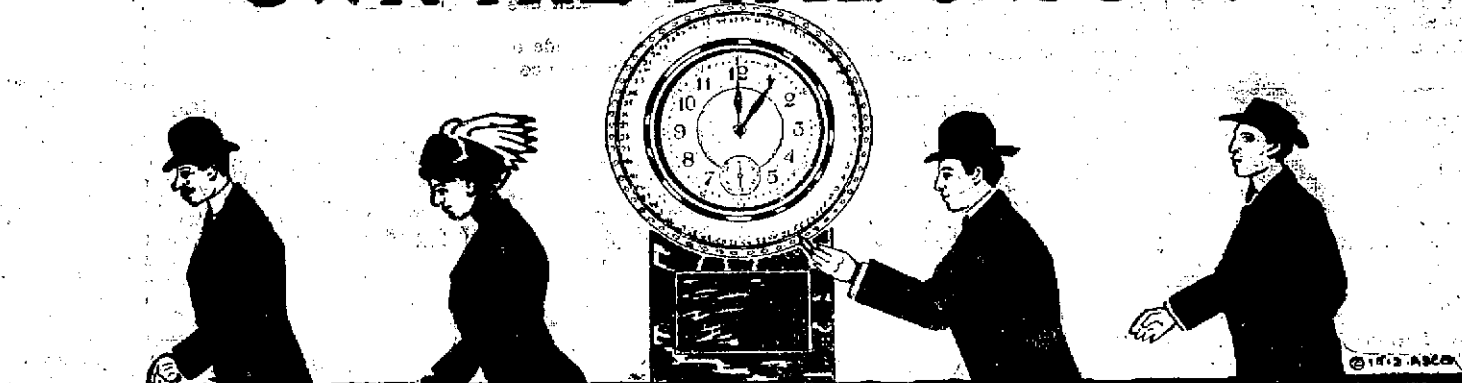

Popular Amusement Resort More Popular Now than ever this Season.

Immense Crowds Every Night Free Moving Picture Show Daily As Usual

$5c—Special Round Trip Rate to Rockford via the Interurban Sundays only—85c

Rockford Interurban Railway Co

OWN THE TIME-CLOCK!

ARE YOU GOING TO BE

punching "the other fellow's" time clock all your life?

Are you going to own one of your own to be used by the fellow who isn't as ambitious as you are?

The first requisite to attain success in the business world is a business education, and this school will be the School first in your mind when you have investigated the thoroughness of its courses, the experience of its teachers and the facility it has for placing you in a responsible position after you've received its diploma.

Every Graduate of our Full Commercial Course Placed or Tuition Refunded

Fall Term Opens Sept. 3

You may start any day. Desks allotted in order of enrollment. Send for enrollment blank TODAY.

JANESVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE

W. W. DALE, Pres., Janesville, Wis.

Beloit Business College Under the Same Management

Danger In Delay

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Janesville People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, and Bright's disease, follow as the kidneys get worse. Don't neglect your kidneys. Help the kidneys with the reliable and safe remedy Doan's Kidney Pills which has cured people right here in Janesville.

Benjamin Shallcross, 269 S. River St., Janesville Wis. says: "Two years ago I had a great deal of trouble from inactive kidneys. The secretions from my kidneys contained sediment and were otherwise disordered. My back became so lame that it was difficult for me to stoop or lift and I became all run down. After using Doan's Kidney Pills a short time, these symptoms of kidney complaint disappeared and I enjoyed much better health. I could not be induced to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills were I not certain of their merits."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Badger Drug Co., Cor. W. Milw. and River Sts.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

LOVE?

A MAN who was regularly disagreeable, selfish and unreasonable in his treatment of his wife, used to assure her frequently that she mustn't mind what he said or did, she must remember that he really loved her all the time.

Think of his daring to use the word "love" for that kind of a feeling. Of course he did not mean to be in the mercy of his every mood. It was weaker than his desire to vent his temper, it was weaker than his love of self, it was weaker than his wish to have everything about the house just as he liked it. And yet he called it "love." What a travesty on real love!

Another woman has been made miserable all her life by her husband's eternal worrying about her safety and her health. All her life she has been denied pleasures of every kind because of his anxieties. As she looks back and sees all the happiness she has needlessly missed, she says, sadly, "If my husband had been half so anxious for my happiness as he has been for my health and safety I would have had a very different life." He says it is all because he loves her so very much. Save the mark! If she is ill he is frightfully anxious, but if he sees her missing some passionately longed-for pleasure in order to insure his peace of mind he isn't at all disturbed. Can that be love which is entirely indifferent to the unhappiness and deprivation it causes, so long as its own peace of mind is assured? Consider how most of us crave happiness above everything. Could one continually deny it to the person one really loves?

"You must remember that I love you underneath even if it doesn't show on the surface," was the way another man used to reassure a demonstrative little wife who craved demonstrations of affection as much as she did food. If he had really loved her, wouldn't he have managed to overcome his natural reserve, to some extent at least? Surely he could have said "I love you" every night and morning without really hurting himself. And even that would have meant worlds to the heart-hungry little woman.

"You can give without loving, but you cannot love without giving," someone has said. It seems to me that that is most emphatically true. You cannot love without trying to give whatever the loved one wants most. Sometimes, of course, the love of self, selfish anxiety, or some other powerful characteristic of your nature will be stronger than your love, but it does not seem to me that any feeling is fit to be called by that beautiful name which is continually weaker than these other motive powers.

A WOMAN'S OBSERVATIONS

Edna K. Woolley

TOO MUCH EMPHASIS ON FANCY GOODS AT FANCY PRICES.

"I've just been reading about some rich man who has bought up a lot of land in a middle-west state, with the idea of demonstrating to people what can be done with a farm if it is run on a good business basis," said the woman who reads the newspapers and thinks about what she reads.

"He's already put $1,500,000 into the place," she continued, "and expects to put in still more money. But he figures that he's going to get it all back with good profits to boot. When I read that he gets as high as $10 a bushel for his tomatoes, and 8 cents a quart for his milk at whole-

SAVE THE BABIES

Pertinent Suggestions on the care of the little ones during the hot months.

By DR. LESLIE D. SMITH, M. D., D. O.

Readers are invited to use this service by asking questions of Dr. Smith regarding specific cases. Answers will be published in these columns in the order questions are received. Personal replies will be given at no cost when stamped envelope is sent with question. Address all questions to Dr. Smith, care the Daily Gazette.

Dr. Smith will not prescribe in any case, but will gladly advise the best course to pursue.

DISEASES OF CHILDHOOD.

The old idea that a child must necessarily have a number of the contagious diseases before he can consistently leave his childhood days behind is fast becoming obsolete.

Parents are beginning to understand that every contagious disease their child contracts, hinders, to a certain extent at least, his proper physical and mental development; that it may leave him mentally defective or a physical wreck and a cripple. And not only that; but his life is placed in jeopardy.

It would be hard to say just what per cent of cripples and mental defectives are due to the "necessary" diseases of childhood, but I assure you the number is not small. How often have parents deliberately exposed their children to these diseases. When an epidemic was rife in the neighborhood I have heard parents say, "We might as well take the children over to the neighbors and let them get it and be over with it as soon as possible." Yes, and some of them were a sacrifice offered up to the God of Ignorance. Less than five years ago an epidemic of measles was raging in a little city of one of the Central States. There was no attempt on the part of any one to quarantine the town nor to even quarantine the cases to prevent their spreading it broadcast throughout the town. Several cases died of the disease and

THE MILK FOR YOUR BABY

Your doctor will advise the use of the best milk for YOUR baby. And he'll advise the use of our

INSPECTED MILK

It has the endorsement of the medical profession in Janesville. 9c per quart; 5c per pt. delivered.

JANESVILLE PURE MILK CO.

BOTH PHONES.

LUDLOW'S

203 W. MILWAUKEE ST.

Baby needs

A Hot Water Bottle

just as much as do older people. We have laid in a supply of just the right sized ones, light small and well made.

Our store is filled to the doors with things for the babies and small children. Come in and look around. You are welcome at all times.

man and the retailer add their profits, I'd have to stop buying eggs.

"I think it's about time that some of these farming experts stop telling farmers what high prices they can get for their products by working their farms scientifically. After all, there are only a few who can pay such prices even for the finest and fanciest stuff. The rest of us need something good and substantial at prices within our means. If the farm experts will preach that and teach that to farmers, a lot of young fellows would go into agriculture with the right idea and make a success of farming. As it is, a good many of them sink everything in a farm and then, because they don't get rich in a couple of years, they sell out and come to town to get a job, spreading the news that farming is a failure."

The KITCHEN CABINET

TO MAKE a perfect salad there should be a spendthrift for oil, a miser for vinegar, a wise man for salt and a mad cap to stir the ingredients up and mix them well together.

—Spanish Proverb.

SOME SUMMER SALADS.

Palatable salads may be made the year round with the standard fruits and vegetables found in the markets. No luncheon or dinner seems quite complete without some kind of a salad.

Surprise Salad.—Cut, in bits, two cold lamb chops freed from skin and bone. Make a jelly by straining and seasoning a cup of tomato and adding an eighth of a box of gelatin. Fill small earthen cups with the jelly, and when firm on the edges, but still soft inside, mix some of the central portion with the meat and pack into the center again. When firm serve on shredded lettuce with a teaspoonful of salad dressing for each portion.

Remoulade Dressing.—Rub the yolks of two hard-cooked eggs through a sieve, mix with a raw yolk, season with salt, pepper and mustard and, little by little, beat in a cup of oil, as it thickens add a few drops of vinegar.

Asparagus and string beans make a most satisfying salad, cooked and served with French dressing. Make this by adding a tablespoonful of vinegar to three of olive oil, with seasonings of salt, pepper and mustard if liked.

Thin slices of radishes used as a garnish for a lettuce and onion salad is a variety to add to the list.

The materials at hand and the genius of the cook will often produce results most gratifying.

A most appetizing salad for those who are able to gather the fresh mushrooms is one in which the stems of the mushrooms are reserved for the salad. Cut them in strips, mix with a few shredded almonds and serve on lettuce with French dressing. The stems are to be uncooked.

Little bits of left-over salmon mixed with coconut, makes a nice salad. The addition of a sour chopped pickle or two gives zest to the salad.

Veal or chicken, equal quantities, chopped and mixed with celery, seasoned with a French dressing and served with mayonnaise, is one of our standard salads. To a quart of mixed celery and chicken use a cup of mayonnaise.

The blanched ends of tender dandelions added to lettuce is a good combination.

Nellie Maxwell.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN, Food Specialist

"USING ONLY A SMALL VARIETY."

"It may be possible for one to 'eat anything,' says Dr. R. S. Ingerson in 'Life and Health,' and to continue to do so for a long time, if he takes only a few things at a meal, and leads an active life continually, rather than a sedentary one. In the olden times, the farmer ate bread, butter and salt pork and felt well. Using only a small variety, the stomach was equal to the task." Physicians generally and lay writers are emphasizing the error of over-eating, but little being said about the serious effects of mixing foods indiscriminately, of eating many articles of food at a meal. The absolute monodiet may be extreme in all cases except where disease demands all possible means of cure, but a reasonable compromise can be made by "using only a small variety," as this authority says the old-time farmer did and avoided sickness. This evidence supporting the monodiet is too conclusive to be refuted, and recent discoveries are supporting the position long emphasized in these hints, as to its importance from the pathological side, particularly in the causation of cancer.

Buy it in Janesville.

MARY ELLEN'S WAY

Mary Ellen Induces a Friend to Take Charge of Her House While Away

MARY ELLEN sat with her chin on her hand and a far-away look in her eyes.

"It would be nice," she mused, "to have the Markhams come but and take charge of the house while we are away. They haven't any children or dogs or anything to make a mess. And Mrs. Markham is awfully neat and particular. The house would be like a new pin when I came back and I wouldn't have to dust and clean it. And then, too, I wouldn't lose Katie. She's one maid in a thousand. But I don't want to pay her while I am away; and if I don't, she'll get a new place, sure. I think I'll invite Mrs. Markham out to lunch tomorrow."

The next day was blisteringly hot. Mary Ellen arranged curtains and blinds so that the house should be invitingly cool and put pots of delicate ferns where they made just the right note of greenery.

"Oh!" exclaimed Mrs. Markham, as she came in from the outside glare. "How exquisitely cool your house is. And so blissfully quiet! What a change from the hot, dusty, noisy city!"

"Yes, it is lovely here," rhapsodized Mary Ellen. "Sometimes I think Mr. Markham and I are foolish to go away for a vacation. We'd be far more comfortable here. The only thing is people need a change. Lots of folks, I guess, would be only too glad to come here for a vacation."

"Indeed they would," said Mrs. Markham, looking about the cool, shaded room a bit enviously.

"If I only knew some nice person who would like to come," went on Mary Ellen, "I would be tempted to let them have the house while we are away. The right sort of person wouldn't hurt anything you know, and it seems a shame to shut it up."

Just then Katie announced luncheon. Mary Ellen had also planned this carefully. The table was a picture of cool daintiness with its pretty dillies, its silver and glass, its low centerpiece of green ferns and white blossoms. The menu was a combination of coolness and crispness to delight an epicure. Mrs. Markham sighed a sigh of ecstasy as she followed course, served silently and deftly by Katie.

"I have such a jewel of a girl," went on Mary Ellen when Katie had served a sherbet, fit for the gods. "If I should find any one who would like to come while we are away, I am sure Katie would stay with them. Really they could have a perfectly heavenly time out here."

"I wouldn't mind coming myself," ventured Mrs. Markham, "if you'd be willing to trust your house to me."

"You!" exclaimed Mary Ellen, in joyful surprise. "Oh! how perfectly lovely that would be! I would be delighted. And you would have it so nice. Katie would do all the work and you could have the fresh things out of the garden. Why it's just the thing."

"I'll speak to Tom about it tonight," said Mrs. Markham with decision. "You'll both love it out here. Mr. Mary Ellen will be so pleased I know, to think you are enjoying the place. He's very fond of Mr. Markham."

"Tom always liked him, too."

"We'll call it settled then," said Mary Ellen as they rose from the table.

Barbara Boyd

HOUSEHOLD TALKS

Henrietta D. Gould

more coals. In twenty-five minutes we took them out and they were done. Corn was cooked the same way. We opened the husks and removed the silk and tied the husks tight over the end and rolled each ear in leaves and buried it as we did the potatoes and it was fine."

Baked Beans. Outing Style, is a favorite dish with campers. Make an oven of flat stones round and deep enough to accommodate your covered iron kettle. Fill this bin with dry wood and start the fire, allowing it to burn down until the stones are red-hot. In the meantime prepare the beans, which should have been soaking for some hours, by seasoning them with salt and pepper and molasses. Put plenty of salt pork cut in dice in the center and on top the beans. Almost cover with water. Now place on the live coals; after seeing the lid is securely fitted on, cover with stones, fresh grass and more hot stones and let cook ten or fifteen hours without disturbing. Then all hands fall to and help themselves.

Lucidity Demanded.

Anything like obscurity in thought is a fatal thing.

Approaching Baldness

May be Checked by Using Herpicide

The above expression is one which is used frequently in connection with hair preparations. Just exactly what is meant by it in each instance is a question. Baldness is a disease and hence, does not permit of a cure. It is a result invariably to be traced to the dandruff germ and if the condition has become chronic, that is, if there is complete atrophy of the hair follicles, a "cure" is absolutely impossible.

Approaching baldness, seen in falling hair, may always be checked and if the hair follicles are not atrophied the hair may be induced again to grow.

This is accomplished by regular applications of Newbro's Herpicide which cleanses the scalp and kills the dandruff germ. The destruction of the germ does away with the accumulations of scurf skin and thus eliminates the most common enemy to beautiful hair.

Soft, glossy, fluffy hair cannot grow on a scalp infested with dandruff any more than a delicate plant can grow on an ash heap. The scalp must be kept clean and free from dandruff. The best remedy for doing this is Newbro's Herpicide which receives the highest endorsements from professional men, the stage and the best people everywhere.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Applications obtained at all first-class barber shops and hair-dressing parlors.

Address The Herpicide Co. Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., enclosing 10c in postage and silver for sample and booklet. J. P. Baker & Son, Special Agents.

Heart and Home Problems

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been keeping company with two young girls for about two years. One of them lives here and the other one lived in the country until recently she moved here. Both of them are very much in love with me. I can't go with both and the one I like best I can't go with because I am honor bound to the other one. What shall I do—leave town forever.

JOHNKY.

How do you know that both of these girls love you so much? Perhaps they are fooling you as much as you are fooling them. Girls are nice to all young men who are reasonably presentable.

If you are in honor bound to one of the girls, it would be cowardly for you to run away. If you don't love her, tell her so honestly. Also, if you are an honest man, tell the other girl the truth if you wish to engage yourself to her; and if she can forgive you, make up your mind that hereafter there's going to be only one girl in the world for you.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My mother died in September, 1887, at Clarity Hospital in Vicksburg, Miss. I think her name was Brown. My father died previous to that somewhere else. Have never been able to find out anything about my parents or where my mother came from. Have one sister older than myself. Am twenty-five and a wife. Please advise me how to find out.

MRS. F.

The only way I could suggest would be to trace your mother from the hospital authorities, and the nurse and doctor who attended her.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am twenty years old and have been keeping company with a fellow for three years. Lately he does not recognize me. The other day I wrote him to come to the house because I wanted to see him. He came and said he was very glad to see me. I asked him if he cared to go with me any more. He said "I will let you know later" and before he left said he would be up such a night and time. But instead he went past my home with another boy and never looked up. What would you advise me to do?

LUCILE.

You've already done for much and have chaperoned yourself thoroughly in the opinion of that boy. His plan is does not want to go with you anymore.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: How can I bring my hair back to its natural color? I tried to bleach it with peroxide.

WAITING.

You can only wait until it grows out again. Meanwhile use a wash made of strong sage tea, massage the scalp twice a week with a little vaseline on the tips of the fingers, and brush the hair well every night before retiring.

CRITICAL TIME OF WOMAN'S LIFE

From 40 to 50 Years of Age. How It May Be Passed in Safety.

Odd, Va.:—"I am enjoying better health than I have for 20 years, and I believe I can safely say now that I am a well woman. I was reared on a farm and had all kinds of heavy work to do which caused the troubles that came on me later. For five years during the Change of Life I was not able to lift a pail of water. I had hemorrhages which would last for weeks and I was not able to sit up in bed. I suffered a great deal with my back and was so nervous I could scarcely sleep at night, and I did not do any housework for three years."

"Now I can do as much work as any woman of my age in the county, thanks to the benefit I have received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I recommend your remedies to all suffering women."—Mrs. MARTHA L. HOLLOWAY, Odd, Va.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. We know of no other medicine which has such a record of success as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for woman's ills.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Holland Service "From Factory to You"

Our Expert Service for planning and installing, coupled with the best Warm Air Furnace ever made, "The Holland," has built up for us a heating business second to none in the States of Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Holland Furnaces lead because they are better, are installed better, and with our direct service, cost no more than the ordinary fuel-wasting kind.

Holland Furnaces "Make Warm Friends"

Ask any lucky owner "Why" and you will learn that a Holland Furnace gives such an abundance of fresh, warm air, is so clean and easy to operate, so durable and free from repairs and so very saving in fuel, that it cannot help but attract any user.

The cold weather in January proved to many people that stoves are inadequate when cold weather comes and many others learned, to their sorrow, that steam and hot water are also sadly lacking when it comes to a real test. Our sales since the cold spell have more than doubled over the same period for any other year.

We can "Make your home a place where life is worth living." Just call on our local Branch Manager, or write for free booklet "Holland Service From Factory to You." We have many "Warm Friends" in your city and vicinity. Why not yours?

Holland Furnace Co., Holland, Mich.

MR. F. F. VAN COEVERN

Box 534 Phone 568 white. Janesville, Wis.

THE NEW WEBSTERIAN 1912

$4.00 DICTIONARY COUPON PRESENTED BY THE

JANESVILLE DAILY GAZETTE, AUGUST 17, 1912.

COUPONS OF CONSECUTIVE DATES CONSTITUTE A SET

Cut out the above coupon, with five others of consecutive dates, and present them at this office with the expense bonus amount herein set opposite any style of Dictionary selected (which covers the items of the cost of packing, express from the factory, checking, clerk hire and other necessary EXPENSE item), and receive your choice of these three books:

The $4.00 (Like illustrations in the announcements from day to day.) New Websterian Lishers of Webster's dictionary or by their successors. It is the only entirely new compilation by the world's greatest authorities from leading universities; is bound in 1912 Dictionary, Full Limp Leather, flexible, stamped in gold on back and illustrated with numerous beautiful, strong, durable. Besides the general contents, there are maps and over 600 subjects beautifully illustrated by three-color plates, numerous subjects by monochrome, 16 pages of educational charts and the latest United States Census. Present at this office SIX Consecutive Dictionary Coupons and the

The $3.00 It is exactly the same as the $4.00 book except in the style of binding—which is in 1912 Dictionary, Full Limp Leather, flexible, stamped in gold on back and illustrated with numerous beautiful, strong, durable. Besides the general contents, there are maps and over 600 subjects beautifully illustrated by three-color plates, numerous subjects by monochrome, 16 pages of educational charts and the latest United States Census. Present at this office SIX Consecutive Dictionary Coupons and the

The $2.00 It is plain cloth binding, stamped in gold and black; has same paper, same illustrations, but all of the colored plates and charts are omitted. Besides the general contents, there are maps and over 600 subjects beautifully illustrated by three-color plates, numerous subjects by monochrome, 16 pages of educational charts and the latest United States Census. Present at this office SIX Consecutive Dictionary Coupons and the

Any Book by Mail, 22c Extra for Postage

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Aug. 17, 1872.—Thrown From Buggy: Wm. H. Buckingham was thrown from a buggy on Thursday night and badly bruised about the head. In company with Thomas Wallace he was driving in the fourth ward, after dark, and in cutting across a vacant lot the horse drew them into an old cellar, and in the plunging of the animal to regain the road, Mr. Buckingham was thrown out, striking on his head. Mr. Wallace managed to remain in the buggy and was uninjured.

New Store—A Change: It is the intention of M. C. Smith to occupy the double store in his new block as a clothing establishment. Mr. Smith has gone to New York to purchase a stock. The custom made clothing department of Smith & Postwick's store will also be transferred to this building and the whole will comprise one immense ready-made and custom-made clothing house. The new store will be occupied about the first of September. Smith & Postwick's Milwaukee street store, now occupied as a custom clothing department, will be used as a cloak room.

The Campaign Progresses: Hon. G. C. Williams returned this morning from a trip to Delavan, Racine and Darien. Mr. Williams spoke in those three places to large and enthusiastic audiences. He reports an intense feeling in favor of Grant and Wilson in the eastern counties of the district.

Hon. J. B. Cassoday will address a republican meeting at Milton Junction this evening.

UNCLE WALT The Poet Philosopher Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams BY WALT MASON

Old Buckshaw works on faded feet to keep the pot a-boiling; down on the crowded street you'll see him always toiling. His eyes are dull and full of care, his countenance is dreary; the wintry snows have touched his hair, his heart is sad and weary. Day after day, with heavy tread, he makes his stern endeavor; he sees no ray of hope ahead—just toil and tears forever. His wife is haunting through the town, and heads not his distresses; with jewelry she's loaded down, and wears the latest dresses.

OPRESSED WIVES She's organizing clubs, and keeps the same afloat; she's lining up the female dubs to claim the right of voting. "We're robbed," so Mrs. Buckshaw claims; of all that makes life useful; and so we countless, dippy dames, pursue our crusade goosef. We're trodden down by iron heels, we're beaten with a mallet; but man must listen to our squeals, and let us have the ballot. And in the grim and clanging Walt, the hair of Legal Tender, old Buckshaw toils with broken heart, to keep his wife in splendor. And there each day he's rubbing frames with other human horses who slave to let their foolish dames pursue their idle courses.

"Come girls, and listen to the little street singer."

Daily Thought:
One ought never to speak of the faults of one's friends; it mutilates them. They can never be the same afterward.—William Dean Howells.

UNRECONCILIATION.

The man who cannot change his mind,
In some dark corner, lost to fame,
Engaged at solitaire you'll find,
While others play the real game.

Find another dead one.

Used Motor Cars For Sale Cheap

You will always find a line of used cars at this garage

Ramblers
Fords
Stoddard Dayton
Cadillacs Monitors
Wiscoes
Overlands

These cars will give good service and you can buy them cheap.

The Janesville Motor Co.

1719 So. Main St.
Both Phones.

Notice of Hearing.
STATE OF WISCONSIN—
County Court for Rock County.
Notice is hereby given that at a Regular Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County, at the Court House, in the City of Janesville, in said County, on the first Tuesday, being the 3rd day of September, 1912, at nine o'clock, a. m., the following matter will be heard and considered:
The application of Mary E. Boob, for the appointment of an Administrator of the estate of William M. Boob, late of the City of Janesville, in said County, deceased.
Dated July 27th, 1912.
By the Court,
J. W. SALE, County Judge.
Carpenter & Carpenter,
Attorneys for Petitioner.
Janesville, Wis.

New Assortment Golf Clubs AND Caddy Bags

from Chicago Golf Shop.

Try a St. Mungo Water-Core or a Meteor Golf Ball, 50c.

J. P. Baker & Son

FOR RENT Sewing Machines

BY THE MONTH AT REASONABLE RATES.

A. R. Steele

126 Corn Exchange.
Bell Phone 625.

Want Ads are money savers.

Buy It in Janesville.

How Do The Readers of This Page Find a Dressmaker?

THE RATE FOR ADVERTISEMENTS in these classified columns is 1/2 cent a word cash each insertion. No order for less than 25 cents. The charge rate is 1 cent per word. Address can be given care of Gazette if so desired.

WANTED

MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—Teachers 10 board, 3 blocks from Adams school. Address "Teacher" care Gazette. 8-17-12.

WANTED—To buy, a well-bred young bull dog. Call new phone 839 black in evening. 8-16-12.

WANTED—Places for young men and women to work for board and room while attending school. Janesville Business College. 8-15-12.

WANTED—Second-hand piano. Inquire "K" care Gazette. 8-12-12.

WANTED TO RENT—Five or six room house, must have city water and gas. Address, "Tenant," care Gazette. 8-14-12.

WANTED—Washing. Will call for them. New Phone 685 White. 8-13-12.

WANTED—Board and room for students attending school. Janesville Business College. 8-15-12.

WANTED—Farmers to buy their harness from T. R. Costigan. Best quality goods at lowest prices. 39-12.

WANTED—County canvassing sales manager. Salary and expense. Capital unnecessary. Permanent. Fairview Nurseries, Rochester, N. Y. 8-17-12.

AGENTS—New book telling all about "Roosevelt and the Progressives Party," enormous demand; complete book ready; one sample free to every book reader; highest commission or salary. Write immediately for free outfit. International Bible House, Perry Building, Philadelphia. 8-12-12.

WANTED—FEMALE HELP

WANTED—One active woman in each town to take orders for Custom Tailored Corsets. Guaranteed for one year. Permanent Business. Established fifteen years. $75.00 to $150.00 monthly. Samples on approval. Free advertising. Write quick for selling plan. National Corsetries, Dept. 156 Chicago, Ill. 8-17-12.

WANTED—At once Young lady stenographer with a good general education who can take and transcribe dictation accurately. Good position with chance for advancement. State age and experience when applying to "Steno" care Gazette. 8-16-12.

WANTED—A dining room girl. Union Hotel. 8-15-12.

WANTED—A girl to assist with house work. One to go home nights. Mrs. Boomer, 224 S. Main street. 8-17-12.

WANTED—At once dining room girl. Railroad Hotel. 8-16-12.

WANTED—At once dining room girl. Railroad Hotel. 8-14-12.

WANTED—Girls to operate power sewing machines. Janesville Shirt and Overall Co. Old Cotton Mills Bldg. Old phone 599. 8-12-12.

A MIDDLE-AGED WOMAN with experience as nurse and housekeeper would take care of child, invalid or dependent person, at her home, at a reasonable price. Good home and splendid care. Address 321 N. Jackson St. 8-16-12.

WANTED—MALE HELP

SALESMEN WANTED—To sell trees and plants. Experience not necessary. Steady work. Highest commissions payable weekly. Write for free outfit. Perry Nurseries, Rochester, N. Y. 8-17-12.

MEN wishing to earn three to five dollars per day, write for terms immediately. First National Nurseries, Rochester, N. Y. 8-17-12.

WANTED—Boy over 16 years of age for kitchen work. Flynn's Restaurant. 8-15-12.

WANTED—Situation by young man 25 years of age. Four years on sales and collections. Some experience on books. References furnished. 675 Gazette. 8-15-12.

WANTED—Good delivery man at Taylor Bros'. Call at once. 8-14-12.

WANTED—Two men to unload and pile lumber Monday. Thoroughgood & Co. 8-17-12.

MAN WANTED—The undersigned wants an honest, ambitious man in each city and town not already sufficiently represented. Previous experience unnecessary. We will teach you the business thoroughly by mail and assist you to start in business for yourself as our local representative. Splendid opportunity for a man without capital to get into big paying business for himself and become independent for life. The National Co-Operative Realty Company, C-1290 Marden Bldg., Washington, D. C. 8-16-12.

MEN—Sell genuine guaranteed hose. 70 per cent profit. Make $10 daily. Live agents and beginners investigate. Strong Knit, Box 4029 West Philadelphia, Pa. 8-16-12.

WANTED—Salesman to sell Lubricating Oils, House and Barn Paints and Specialties. Good live wage—can earn big money. Champion Refining Co., Cleveland, Ohio. 727-12.

HELP WANTED—For 2 years work on dam at Prairie du Sac, Wis. wages common labor $2.00 per day, 1st class camp. Board, lodging $4.50 a week. Jas. O. Heyworth. 726-261.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Modern furnished house in fine location, or will divide to suit. Apply. Owner leaving the city. Address "C. E." care Gazette. 8-12-12.

FOR RENT—Flat 215 E. Milwaukee street. 8-14-12.

FOR RENT—Cullen flats on South Main St. H. J. Cunningham. 8-17-12.

FOR RENT—September 1st, 1912, two flats in Kent flats building. John Cunningham, 23 W. Mill St. 8-17-12.

FOR RENT—Four rooms for light housekeeping, suitable for young couple. Gas and city water. 805 Pleasant St. 8-17-12.

FOR RENT—A five room house. Soft and city water and gas. 601 Caroline St. Call old phone 1130. 8-16-12.

FOR RENT—Three modern steam heated flats. Enquire of F. L. Stevens, Lovejoy block. 8-16-12.

FOR RENT—Two nicely furnished rooms, gentlemen preferred. 219 Prospect Ave. 8-16-12.

FOR RENT—Small cottage after Aug. 16th, at Lake Kegonsa. $7.00 per week. Address H. D. Murdoch, Camp Monroe, Lake Kegonsa. 8-15-12.

FOR RENT—Barn room for three horses with hay loft. Phone 1273. S. M. Jacobs. 8-15-12.

FOR RENT—Today, rooms at 208 S. Main St. 8-15-12.

FOR RENT—Suite of furnished rooms, modern conveniences. 209 Madison. 8-12-12.

FOR RENT—Eight room house, 327 Madison street. Inquire 625 Milwaukee avenue. Phone 720 Blue. 8-12-12.

FOR RENT—Two new stores on North Bluff street, $30 each. Inquire of Carpenter & Carpenter, Janesville, Wis. 725-12.

FOR RENT—Six room house on Park street. Inquire E. E. Loomis, 14 S. Main St. 114-12.

FOR RENT—Furnished light house. Keeping rooms. Ground floor. 152 Cherry St. 8-17-12.

FOR RENT—Five furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Inquire 617 So. Jackson St. 8-17-12.

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms. Modern conveniences. Inquire after 6:30 p. m. at 1220 W. Bluff St. 8-17-12.

FOR RENT—September 1st, 3 room house. Bath and furnace. Mrs. L. Leffingwell, 303 N. 1st St. 8-17-12.

FOR SALE

MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR SALE—A beautiful mahogany upright piano, used lightly for about two years, but practically as good as new. I am holding out new pianos and must make room. Take this piano at $115. A. V. Lyle, 313 W. Milwaukee street. 8-16-12.

FOR SALE—At less than two-thirds its full value. See page 4. 8-17-12.

FOR SALE—Walnut beds, small tables, dressers, carpets, chairs, pictures, etc. 338 S. Main St. 8-15-12.

FOR SALE—One 76-inch Freeman silo filler and one 6 h. p. gasoline engine. Fred B. Burton, 111 No. Jackson St. 8-15-12.

FOR SALE—A new model D. Scherler car, motor $6.00, 1 Splendor dash coil for one cylinder $4.00 at Lowell Hardware. 8-16-12.

FOR SALE—One dining table, 5 chairs, 1 lounge, 1 Edison graphophone with 40 records, young canary birds. Inquire 202 Center St. 8-15-12.

FOR SALE—A small good paying business—good location. Address "Business" care Gazette. 8-15-12.

FOR SALE—Two rubber tired, bugle and one wagon. S. M. Jacobs, Phone 1273. 8-15-12.

FOR SALE—Household furnishings. Mrs. L. Leffingwell, 303 N. 1st St. 8-14-12.

FOR SALE—Heavy wrapping paper for laying under carpets. Gazette office. 27-12.

FOR SALE—One steel range cook stove, good condition, lawn swing. Inquire 418 Caroline St. between 7 and 8 p. m. 8-17-12.

FOR SALE—We have just received several hundred of the latest and best music rolls for player-pianos which we offer at 25 per cent discount from catalog prices. These are the famous Comiorized rolls, the kind that particular people buy. Buy now while stock is big. A. V. Lyle, 313 W. Milwaukee St. 8-17-12.

QUALITY CANDIES AT RAZOOK'S. 27-12.

FOR SALE—Lot of strops packing boxes at Gazette office. 27-12.

FOR SALE—Gravel by load or acre. Phone 1273. S. M. Jacobs. 8-15-12.

FOR SALE—All kinds of automobile accessories and supplies. J. A. Stumpe. 8-16-12.

FOR SALE—Scratch tablets, big size for 6c, at Gazette office. 8-17-12.

FOR SALE—Standard electric coin operated piano with all the latest improvements. It will coax the best out of people's pockets faster than real music. This piano is brand new and I shall sell but one. A very close price to cash buyer. A. V. Lyle. 8-17-12.

FOR SALE—Inner automobile tire shoes for blowout patches. 60c and $1.00. J. A. Stumpe, 217 E. Milwaukee. 8-16-12.

FOR SALE—LIVE STOCK

2,000 FARMERS READ THESE WANT ADS.

FOR SALE—Norman mare due to foal this month. Bred to Timpany's Baron's Joy. Good blood mare. H. Dahly. Old phone 374 black. 8-16-12.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE—House at 406 Caroline street and at 618 Court street, both modern improvements. J. J. Cunningham. 8-15-12.

FOR SALE—House and lot one block from Milwaukee street. Easy terms. E. H. Peterson, Sutherland block, Janesville, Wis. 8-17-12.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—140 acres, Town of Magnolia, Rock county, Wisconsin; improved. 140 acres in Town of Rock, Rock county, Wisconsin; improved. E. H. Peterson, Sutherland block, Janesville, Wis. 8-17-12.

FOR SALE—$4800.00 buys a choice corner located just a few blocks from Milwaukee street, on the west side of the river; two houses renting for $34.00 a month. Terms to suit purchaser. E. H. Peterson, Sutherland block, Janesville, Wis. 8-17-12.

Have client who has a house and lot, two and one-half blocks from the main street in Aberdeen, South Dakota, together with 160 acres of good farm land in Walworth County, South Dakota, which he desires to exchange for a good improved farm in Southern Wisconsin. E. H. Peterson, Sutherland block, Janesville, Wis. 8-17-12.

FOR SALE—Farm of 156 acres situated in town of Center. Inquire of A. Covell, Evansville. 103-12.

FOR SALE—Land in 5 to 10 acre tracts close to city; no better land in the county. F. L. Clemons, 205 Jackson Bldg. 65-12.

FOR SALE—Three quarter size lot on S. Jackson street, on car line, lot is improved, cement walks and curbing, shade trees. Nice lot to build on. Inquire 424 Chatham street. 8-16-12.

FOR SALE—On account of connecting my home with the City Lighting System for electric power, I will sell my Pilot Gas Generator and fixtures at a very reasonable price. Phone 649, C. S. Matty. 8-17-12.

FOR SALE—Large house, corner of Court and Milwaukee Avenue will be sold to highest bidder, put in your bids, leave at 1250 Court street in sealed envelopes by Saturday at 2 p. m., Aug. 17. Eleven hundred cash, balance on time. 8-16-12.

FOR SALE—Six room house, $1000. Inquire 1015 Sharon street, Ira Bryant. 8-17-12.

FOR SALE—Several choice Rock County farms well located and in size from 40 acres to 600 acres. E. H. Peterson, Sutherland block. 121-12.

FOR SALE—150 acre farm 10 miles west of Beloit, 3 miles from Shirland, Ill., in Winnebago Co. Well improved, on main road. Owner compelled to move west on account of ill health and offers for a quick sale farm at $50 per acre. Will accept house and lot in a good town as part payment. E. H. Peterson, Sutherland block, Janesville. 12-12.

FOR SALE—150 acres gently undulating, best of soil, fair buildings, good terms. Price $65.00 per acre. Write me describing what you want. W. A. Green, Pipestone, Minn. 8-17-12.

FOR SALE—CHEAP—House and lot 439 Pearl St. Inquire 105 Wall St. C. W. Dailey. 8-7-12.

MISCELLANEOUS

CAN MAKE lowest price in city on mill lumber for house or barn. Phone 1273. S. M. Jacobs. 8-15-12.

MONEY TO LOAN at 5 per cent on real estate. Value must be double amount desired. J. J. Cunningham. 8-15-12.

HOUSE CLEANING by vacuum process. F. H. Porter. New Phone White 413. 61-1mo.

WANTED—I have two customers for moderately priced residence property convenient to downtown. Want to hear from owners. A. V. Lyle, 313 W. Milwaukee street. 8-16-12.

WE ARE PREPARED to do all kinds of machine repairing, large or small. Corliss engine and steam pump work a specialty. Bridge work, brass rods, light and heavy forging. "Blacksmith & Supply Co., 426 No. River St. 8-16-12.

CUT RATES on household goods to Pacific Coast and other points. Superior service, reduced rates. The Boyd Transfer Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

FITCHETT'S DAHLIAS are fine. Cut flowers delivered anywhere. Both phones. J. T. Fitchett, 735 Milwaukee avenue. 8-17-12.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY—Well located rooming house with small store near depot doing a good business can be purchased at a bargain as owner's health compels him to make a change at once. E. H. Peterson, Sutherland block, Janesville, Wis. 8-17-12.

MONEY TO LOAN—On farm security at 5 per cent, first mortgages. No commission. Old Phone 1403. 8-10-12.

FREE ILLUSTRATED BOOK tells about over 360,000 protected positions in U. S. service. More than 40,000 vacancies every year. There is a big chance here for you, and generally pay, lifetime employment. Easy to get. Just ask for booklet, C-697. No obligation. Earl Hopkins, Washington, D. C. 8-3-12.

THRASHERS SUPPLIES—Belting, Lacing, Suction Hose, Chain Belt, Shuttles, Collars, Shaft Keys, Babbit, Packing, Oils and Grease, all lengths and sizes of bolts, full assortment of nuts, washers, set and cap screws, boiler bolts, patch bolts, split bolts, at correct prices. Open Saturday evenings until 8 p. m. during threshing season. Blackwell Mfg. & Supply Co., 22 N. Academy street. 8-16-12.

MONEY TO LOAN on real estate security. F. L. Clemons, 205 Jackson Bldg. 51-12.

WANTED—Everybody to know that the Rock County has over 2,300 telephones—nearly twice as many as our competitor—at the same rate per month. 26-12.

HARDWARE

If it is good hardware McNamara has it.

LOST

LOST—Sum of money, all bills, between Robert's Grocery Store and two blocks west on Pleasant St. $5.00 reward if returned to Robert's Store. 8-15-12.

LOST—Pocketbook containing sum of money. Name "D. V. Hardie," Mexico, N. Y., on leather. Reward if returned to Park Hotel. 8-16-12.

LOST—A crescent shaped pin, small leaf and three garnet stones between Woodman's Hall and Terrace St. Wednesday night. Finder please return to Gazette. 8-12-12.

LOST—K. P. charm containing owners' name. Finder return to Gazette and receive reward. 8-15-12.

LANDS

ADVERTISERS—In placing your ad, three things must be considered: circulation, class of readers and price. The Reporter gives you a greater measure of service for less money than any other newspaper in northern Iowa. The Reporter is read by 30,000 people every issue. Advertising rates one-half cent a word, each insertion. Cash with order. Reporter, Waterloo, Iowa. 46-12.

IF YOU ARE interested in real estate in the Northwest, you will do well to place an ad in the Want Columns of the Aberdeen Daily News, Aberdeen, S. D., the best advertising medium in this territory. Read every day by more than 25,000 people. Rates: 1 cent per word, first insertion, special rate by the week or month. Write for sample copy. 46-12.

FIND LAND-BUYERS through advertising in the Daily Journal-World, Lawrence, Kansas. The farm lands in Kansas and therefore are high priced. Young farmers are looking for cheaper farms. The Daily Journal-World has a sworn circulation of 5,500, about half of which is in the country, and carries a full page of Want Ads. Rates: 1c per word 1 time, 3/4c per word for one week. The World Company, Lawrence, Kansas. 48-12.

FARMS FOR SALE—Southwest Iowa is one of the richest agricultural districts in the world and the Daily Nonpareil is practically the only daily paper read in this territory. It is issued morning, evening and Sunday, and with its 17,000 circulation covers the field like a blanket. If you want results from your advertisement, try it. One cent a word for the first insertion, and one-half cent a word for each subsequent insertion. Classified in display 25c an inch. The Daily Nonpareil, Council Bluffs, Iowa. 45-12.

ADVERTISERS—The great state of North Dakota, offers unlimited opportunities for business to classified advertisers. The recognized advertising medium is the Fargo Daily and Sunday Courier-News, the only seven day paper in the state and the paper which carries the largest amount of classified advertising. The Courier-News covers North Dakota like a blanket, reaching all parts of the state the day of publication; it is the Bates One-cent per word first insertion; one-half cent per word succeeding insertions; fifty cents per line per month. Address: The Courier-News, Fargo, N. D. 20-12.

SCOTT & JONES,

REAL ESTATE AND LOANS
415 Hayes Block.
Rock Co. Phone 297.
Bell Phone 197.

W. R. Hayes

BUILDING CONTRACTOR
Jobbing and repair work given prompt attention.
Bell phone 329. Rock Co. phone, blue 226.

J. E. KENNEDY

Real Estate, Loans and Fire Insurance. Western Farm Lands a Specialty.

SUTHERLAND BLOCK,
Janesville, Wis.

Read the Want Ads.

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—It would have been better if Father could have invited the entire population.

"Why did you think I wanted to get rid of you?" he asked.

"You've almost said so," she answered. "And then—well, I can see you do."

"How? What have I done that you've seen?"

"Not any especial thing, but—I think you do."

He felt too weak and indifferent to tell polite falsehoods. Leaning his head on the pillow that stood up at his back, he said:

"Perhaps I did at first. But now I'm glad you came."

She smiled indulgently at him as though he were a sick child.

"I should think you wouldn't have wanted me. You must be so tired of people coming in and out. Those days when you were so bad the doctor had the greatest difficulty in keeping men out who didn't know you and had never seen you. Everybody in the hotel wanted to crowd in."

"What did they want to do that for?"

"To see you. We were the sensation of Antelope first. But then you came and put us completely in the shade. Antelope hasn't had such an excitement as your appearance since the death of Jim Granger, whose picture is down stairs in the parlor and who comes from here."

"I don't see why I should be an excitement. When I was up here fishing last summer nobody was in the least excited."

"It was the way you came—half-dead out of the night as if the sea had thrown you up. Then everybody wanted to know why you did it, why you, a Californian, attempted such a dangerous thing."

"There wasn't anything so desperately dangerous about it," he said, almost in a tone of sulky protest.

"The men downstairs seemed to think so. They say nobody could have got up here in such a storm."

"Oh, rubbish! Besides, it wasn't storming when I left Rocky Bar. It was gray and threatening, but there wasn't a flake falling. The first snow came down when I was passing the Silver Crescent. It came very fast after that."

"Why did you do it—attempts to walk such a distance in such uncertain weather?"

Dominick smoothed the rug over his knees. His face, looking down, had a curious expression of cold, enforced patience.

"I was tired," he said slowly. "I'd worked too hard and I thought the mountains would do me good. I can get time off at the bank when I want, and I thought I'd take a holiday and come up here where I was last summer. I knew the place and liked the hotel. I wanted to get a good way off out of the city and away from my work. As for walking up here that afternoon—I'm very strong and I never thought for a moment such a blizzard was coming down."

He lifted his head and turned toward the window, then raising one hand rubbed it across his forehead and eyes. There was something in the gesture that silenced the young girl.

She thought he felt tired and had been talking too much and she was guiltily conscious of her laughter and loquacity.

They sat without speaking for some moments. Dominick made no attempt to break the silence when she moved noiselessly to the stove and pushed in more wood. His face was turned from her and she thought he had fallen asleep when he suddenly moved and said:

"Isn't it strange that I have never met you before?"

She was relieved. His tone showed neither feebleness nor fatigue, in fact it had the fresh alertness of a return to congenial topics. She determined, however, to be less talkative, less encouraging to the weakening exertions of general conversation. So she spoke with demure brevity.

"Yes, very. But you were at college for four years, and the year you came back I was in Europe."

He looked at her ruminatingly, and nodded.

"But I've seen you," he said, "at the theater. I was so sick at first to recognize you, but afterward I knew I'd seen you, with your father and your brother Gene."

It was her turn to nod. She thought it best to say nothing, and waited. But his eyes bent inquiringly upon her, and the waiting silence seemed to demand a comment. She made the first one that occurred to her:

"Whom were you with?"

"My wife," said the young man.

She murmured a vague sentence of comment and this time determined not to speak, no matter how embarrassing the pause became. She even thought of taking up her book and was about to do so when he said:

"What was the way you came—half-dead out of the night as if the sea had thrown you up?"

"Oh, rubbish! Besides, it wasn't storming when I left Rocky Bar. It was gray and threatening, but there wasn't a flake falling. The first snow came down when I was passing the Silver Crescent. It came very fast after that."

"Why did you do it—attempts to walk such a distance in such uncertain weather?"

Dominick smoothed the rug over his knees. His face, looking down, had a curious expression of cold, enforced patience.

"I was tired," he said slowly. "I'd worked too hard and I thought the mountains would do me good. I can get time off at the bank when I want, and I thought I'd take a holiday and come up here where I was last summer. I knew the place and liked the hotel. I wanted to get a good way off out of the city and away from my work. As for walking up here that afternoon—I'm very strong and I never thought for a moment such a blizzard was coming down."

He lifted his head and turned toward the window, then raising one hand rubbed it across his forehead and eyes. There was something in the gesture that silenced the young girl.

She thought he felt tired and had been talking too much and she was guiltily conscious of her laughter and loquacity.

They sat without speaking for some moments. Dominick made no attempt to break the silence when she moved noiselessly to the stove and pushed in more wood. His face was turned from her and she thought he had fallen asleep when he suddenly moved and said:

"Isn't it strange that I have never met you before?"

She was relieved. His tone showed neither feebleness nor fatigue, in fact it had the fresh alertness of a return to congenial topics. She determined, however, to be less talkative, less encouraging to the weakening exertions of general conversation. So she spoke with demure brevity.

"Yes, very. But you were at college for four years, and the year you came back I was in Europe."

He looked at her ruminatingly, and nodded.

"But I've seen you," he said, "at the theater. I was so sick at first to recognize you, but afterward I knew I'd seen you, with your father and your brother Gene."

It was her turn to nod. She thought it best to say nothing, and waited. But his eyes bent inquiringly upon her, and the waiting silence seemed to demand a comment. She made the first one that occurred to her:

"Whom were you with?"

"My wife," said the young man.

She murmured a vague sentence of comment and this time determined not to speak, no matter how embarrassing the pause became. She even thought of taking up her book and was about to do so when he said:

"What was the way you came—half-dead out of the night as if the sea had thrown you up?"

"Oh, rubbish! Besides, it wasn't storming when I left Rocky Bar. It was gray and threatening, but there wasn't a flake falling. The first snow came down when I was passing the Silver Crescent. It came very fast after that."

"It Was the Way You Came—Half-Dead Out of the Night as if the Sea Had Thrown You Up."

"Oh, rubbish! Besides, it wasn't storming when I left Rocky Bar. It was gray and threatening, but there wasn't a flake falling. The first snow came down when I was passing the Silver Crescent. It came very fast after that."

"Why did you do it—attempts to walk such a distance in such uncertain weather?"

Dominick smoothed the rug over his knees. His face, looking down, had a curious expression of cold, enforced patience.

"I was tired," he said slowly. "I'd worked too hard and I thought the mountains would do me good. I can get time off at the bank when I want, and I thought I'd take a holiday and come up here where I was last summer. I knew the place and liked the hotel. I wanted to get a good way off out of the city and away from my work. As for walking up here that afternoon—I'm very strong and I never thought for a moment such a blizzard was coming down."

He lifted his head and turned toward the window, then raising one hand rubbed it across his forehead and eyes. There was something in the gesture that silenced the young girl.

She thought he felt tired and had been talking too much and she was guiltily conscious of her laughter and loquacity.

They sat without speaking for some moments. Dominick made no attempt to break the silence when she moved noiselessly to the stove and pushed in more wood. His face was turned from her and she thought he had fallen asleep when he suddenly moved and said:

"Isn't it strange that I have never met you before?"

She was relieved. His tone showed neither feebleness nor fatigue, in fact it had the fresh alertness of a return to congenial topics. She determined, however, to be less talkative, less encouraging to the weakening exertions of general conversation. So she spoke with demure brevity.

"Yes, very. But you were at college for four years, and the year you came back I was in Europe."

He looked at her ruminatingly, and nodded.

"But I've seen you," he said, "at the theater. I was so sick at first to recognize you, but afterward I knew I'd seen you, with your father and your brother Gene."

It was her turn to nod. She thought it best to say nothing, and waited. But his eyes bent inquiringly upon her, and the waiting silence seemed to demand a comment. She made the first one that occurred to her:

"Whom were you with?"

"My wife," said the young man.

She murmured a vague sentence of comment and this time determined not to speak, no matter how embarrassing the pause became. She even thought of taking up her book and was about to do so when he said:

"What was the way you came—half-dead out of the night as if the sea had thrown you up?"

"Oh, rubbish! Besides, it wasn't storming when I left Rocky Bar. It was gray and threatening, but there wasn't a flake falling. The first snow came down when I was passing the Silver Crescent. It came very fast after that."

"Why did you do it—attempts to walk such a distance in such uncertain weather?"

Dominick smoothed the rug over his knees. His face, looking down, had a curious expression of cold, enforced patience.

"I was tired," he said slowly. "I'd worked too hard and I thought the mountains would do me good. I can get time off at the bank when I want, and I thought I'd take a holiday and come up here where I was last summer. I knew the place and liked the hotel. I wanted to get a good way off out of the city and away from my work. As for walking up here that afternoon—I'm very strong and I never thought for a moment such a blizzard was coming down."

He lifted his head and turned toward the window, then raising one hand rubbed it across his forehead and eyes. There was something in the gesture that silenced the young girl.

She thought he felt tired and had been talking too much and she was guiltily conscious of her laughter and loquacity.

They sat without speaking for some moments. Dominick made no attempt to break the silence when she moved noiselessly to the stove and pushed in more wood. His face was turned from her and she thought he had fallen asleep when he suddenly moved and said:

"Isn't it strange that I have never met you before?"

She was relieved. His tone showed neither feebleness nor fatigue, in fact it had the fresh alertness of a return to congenial topics. She determined, however, to be less talkative, less encouraging to the weakening exertions of general conversation. So she spoke with demure brevity.

"Yes, very. But you were at college for four years, and the year you came back I was in Europe."

He looked at her ruminatingly, and nodded.

"But I've seen you," he said, "at the theater. I was so sick at first to recognize you, but afterward I knew I'd seen you, with your father and your brother Gene."

asleep till this night was well spent, the heated seething of her rage keeping the peace of repose far from her. It was only as the dawn paled the square of the window that she fell into a heavy slumber, disturbed by dreams full of stress and strife.

She looked up at the clock; it was nearly ten. Dominick would have left for the bank before this, so the wretched constraint of a meeting with him was postponed. Sallow and heavy-eyed, her head aching, oppressed by a sense of the unbearable unpleasantness of the situation, she threw on her wrapper, and going to the window drew the curtain and looked out.

The bedroom had but one window, wedged into an angle of wall, and affording a glimpse of the green lawn, and clipped rose trees of the house next door. There was a fog this morning and even this curtailed prospect was obliterated. She stood yawning drearily, and gazing out with eyes to which her yawns had brought tears.

Her hair made a wild brush round her head, her face looked pinched and old. She was one of those women whose good looks are dependent on animation and merriment. In this fixity of inward thought, unobserved in unbecoming disarray, one could realize that she had attained the thirty-four years she could so successfully deny under the rejuvenating influences of full dress and high spirits.

During her toilet her thoughts refused to leave the subject of last night's quarrel. She and her husband had had disagreements before—many in the last year when they had virtually separated, though the world did not know it—but nothing so ignominiously repulsive as the scene of last evening had yet degraded their companionship. Bernice was ashamed. In the gray light of the dim, disillusioning morning she realized that she had gone too far. She knew Dominick to be long-suffering, she knew that the hold she had upon him was a powerful one, but the most patient creature sometimes rebel, the most compelling sense of honor would sometimes break under too severe a strain. As she trailed down the long passage to the dining-room she made up her mind that she would make the first overture toward reconciliation that evening. It would be difficult but she would do it.

She was speculating as to how she would begin, in what manner she would greet him when he came home, when her eyes fell on the folded note against the clock. Apprehension clutched her as she opened it. The few lines within frightened her still more. He had gone—where? She turned the note over, looking at the back, in a sudden tremble of fearfulness. He had never done anything like this before, left her, suddenly, out loose from her in proud disgust. She stood by the clock, staring at the paper, her face fallen into scared blankness, the artificial hopefulness that she had been fostering since she awoke giving place to a down-drop into an abyss of alarm.

The door into the kitchen creaked and the Chinaman entered with the second part of the dainty breakfast cooked especially for her.

"What time did Mr. Ryan leave this morning?" she said without turning, throwing the question over her shoulder.

"I dunno," the man returned, with the expressionless brevity of his race, particularly accentuated in this case, as he did not like his mistress. "He no take blackness here. He no stay here last night."

She faced round on him, her eyes full of a sudden fierce intensity which marked them in moments of angry surprise.

"Wasn't here last night?" she demanded. "What do you mean?"

He arranged the dishes with careful precision, not troubling himself to look up, and speaking with the same dry indifference.

"He not here for blackness. No one sleep in his bed. I go make bed—all made. I think he not here all night."

His work being accomplished he turned without more words and passed into the kitchen. Bernice stood for a moment thinking, then, with a shrug of defiance, left her buckwheat cakes untasted and walked into the hall.

She went directly to her husband's room and looked about with sharp glances. She opened drawers and peered into the wardrobes. She was a woman who had a curiously keen memory for small domestic details, and a few moments' investigation proved to her that he had taken some of his oldest clothes, but had left behind all the better ones, and that the silver box of jewelry on the bureau—filled with relics of the days when he had been the idolized son of his parents—looked none of its contents.

More alarmed than she had been in the course of her married life she left the room and passed up the hall to the parlor. The brilliant, overfurnished apartment in which she had crowded every fashion in interior decoration that had pleased her fancy and been within the compass of her purse, looked slovenly and unattractive in the gray light of the morning. The smell of smoke was strong in it and the butts and ashes of cigars Dominick had been smoking the evening before lay in a tray on the center table. She noticed none of these things, which under ordinary circumstances would have been ground for scolding, for she was a woman of fastidious personal daintiness. A cushioned seat was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which

was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her eyes were fastened with an unwhinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Dominick, which was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the fall of thick ecur lace that veiled the pane. Her

YES, THIS IS A CARPET STORE TOO.
We sell Rugs as we do everything else—at the most reasonable prices. The good, serviceable, beautiful kinds that never disappoint. Twice the room given to them here and twice the stock. Carpets for special size rugs too. It will pay you to come here.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

FURNITURE FOR THE NEW HOME
For years this store has held an enviable reputation for quality in fine furniture and reasonable prices. When you are ready to buy new furniture come directly to this store.
PUTNAM'S, South Main Street

Sheet Metal Work of All Kinds
Conductors, Gutters, Roofing, Etc.
Furnaces and Furnace work a Specialty.
E. H. PELTON
213 E. MILW. STREET. ROCK CO. PHONE RED 810.

CHOICE BUILDING LOTS FOR SALE
Many special bargains in Janesville property. Bargains in Northern Wisconsin cut over hardwood timber lands.
H. L. MAXFIELD
Room 2, Central Block. Janesville, Wis.

OUR TIN SHOP
We have a tin shop which we are proud of. This shop is most complete and is in charge of Mr. Bert Billings who is a thorough workman. We do everything in Furnace work, Sheet Metal work, Steel Ceilings and Gutters. We are agents for the Quaker Steel Furnace, nace.
TALK TO LOWELL
Opposite Myers Opera House on East Milwaukee St., Both Phones

W. R. HAYES
BUILDING CONTRACTOR
Jobbing and repair work given prompt attention.
Bell phone 989. Rock Co., blue 226.

WHAT EVERY HOUSEWIFE SHOULD KNOW
That we do the finest dyeing and Perfect Dry Cleaning at a very moderate charge. Work called for and delivered. Lace curtains given particular attention; no pins or hooks used. High grade pressing.
BADGER LAUNDRY AND DYEING CO.
Successors to Riverside Laundry. Both Phones.

Equip Your Home With a Holland Furnace
Holland Furnaces make warm friends. And'll cut a wide swath through your coal bills. I've a lot of interesting information for you. Factory expert here to see that your furnace always works right.
F. F. VAN COEVERN
471 Glen St. Both Phones.

Honesty of purpose and fidelity to it, combined with painstaking workmanship—these are the cardinal principles that enter into the manufacture of Waltham and Warfield Pianos.
THEO. A. CLARKE. At Frank D. Kimball Store

FRED L. CLEMONS
Real Estate, Loans, Insurance
I will sell you the lot, furnish the money to build and insure the home.
Office, 205 Jackman Building

Designing Decorating
BLOEDEL & RICE
PAINTERS and DECORATORS
Fine Wall Paper, Paints, Oils, Glass, Moldings, Brushes, etc.
Estimates Furnished. 35 S. Main St.

Let Us Show You a Water System and Lighting System for your new home.
J. A. STRIMPLE CO.
219 E. MIL.

Carpets and Rugs
Beautiful effects, exceptional in design and in richness of coloring. Exclusive patterns. Altogether the best it has ever been our pleasure to offer. All at moderate prices.
T. P. BURNS W. Milw. St.

Pearl Door and Window Screen Wire Cloth
The many imitations and counterfeits of Pearl Wire Cloth only serve to emphasize its unusual quality. The testing of years has proved it to be the most desirable screen material in modern use.
H. L. McNAMARA
If It Is Good Hardware, McNamara Has It.

Gas Talks For Home Builders THE LAUNDRY

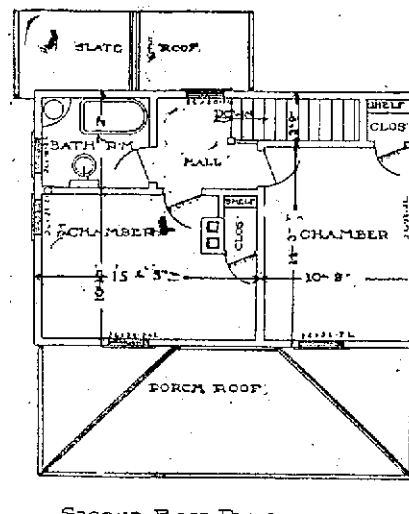

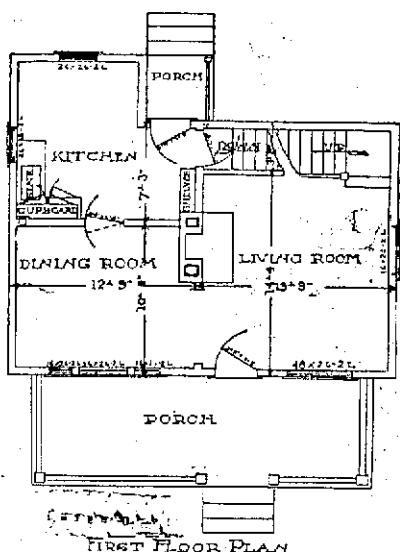

SPECIFICATIONS—GAS LAUNDRY STOVE.

RECOMMENDATIONS—Provision for a 30-inch wall space should be made together with 3/4-inch outlet for Gas Piping.

REMARKS—A GAS LAUNDRY STOVE is an excellent appliance for heating the wash boiler or heating irons. A Gas Laundry Stove should be in every modern home.

NEW GAS LIGHT CO.
Of Janesville.

The Home Beautiful

DESIGN NO. 58

This is a really handsome home for a family with a small purse, who want modern conveniences. Although in order to keep down the cost it is necessary to leave out many things that are found in more pretentious houses, yet we have here more for the money than possibly any other home in "these parts" our Southern friends would say; so instead of looking for what we have not, as too many people do in life, let us examine our possessions and we will be surprised at their abundance.

First the nicely balanced appearance of the house, yet a lack of severity, then the commodious well ventilated Living Room with its cabinet Mantel, and open stairway, the design of which, compares favorably with that of much more pretentious dwellings, and is the pride of its owner. We now pass through the large cased opening into the Dining Room, with its triple window in front that is sure to attract the attention of the passer-by, the appearance of which from the interior is pleasing in the extreme. Passing through the double acting door we find ourselves in the kitchen, the pride of the thrifty housewife, here are to be found the white enameled sink, also ample cupboards and shelves, interior cellarway and rear entrance, all combining to make for the comforts of the home. Returning and ascending the stairway we land in a commodious hall with doors opening into the Bath Room, complete in every detail, and also into the two Chambers, each provided with an ample closet and well lighted and ventilated. Entire house finished and floored with yellow pine. Cost to build, $1400.00. Width 26 feet, length 22 feet 6 inches.

Clip this page and save it.

If You Live In A Home Of Your Own and it is not wired for Electric Light, you should consider the merits of this

Best And Most Modern Illuminant

It brings an air of cheer and happiness into the home. It saves eyesight, is clean, safe and does not consume oxygen. And best of all, Electric Light is—everything considered—the cheapest light.

JANESVILLE ELECTRIC CO.

NEW PHONE 291.

OLD PHONE 151.

IF BUILT BY VAN POOL BROS.
IT WILL BE RIGHT.
Office 17 No. River St. Rock County phone 239 black. Wis. phone No. 7.

WALL BOARD
P. & B., the modern wall covering, the best on the market. Painted and grained. No painting or papering required. Board finished in a fine imitation of plain red oak. See us for samples of anything in the building line.
SCHALLER & McKEY LBR. CO., Both Phones

GREAT FURNITURE SALE
Take advantage of this opportunity to fill your home with new furniture at low cost.
MOSES BROS.
WE WILL BE OPEN EVERY NIGHT DURING THE SALE

Beaver Board
The modern Wall Covering. Most artistic effects are possible through its use. Let us show you samples. Allow us to estimate your lumber bill.
BRITTINGHAM & HIXON
Both Phones 117.

Add To The Beauty of Your Home
We are ready at all times to furnish you with whatever plants or shrubs you need with which to make your grounds more pleasing to the eye. A beautiful setting adds much to the value of the house. Phone us for what you need.
FAIRVIEW GREENHOUSES
B. T. WINSLOW. BOTH PHONES.

F. M. Tanberg
Now is the time to buy your Wall Paper. We are giving a big discount and if you are going to paper this year you had better get in on this sale.
Columbia Phonographs and Records. Come in and hear the new June Records.
11 SO. MAIN STREET BOTH PHONES.

When You Move Into Your New Home
You should install a Rock County Telephone because it reaches nearly twice as many people as the Bell. Residence rate $1.00 per month.
THE ROCK COUNTY TELEPHONE SYSTEM
501 Jackman Bldg.

LAWN HOSE AND ACCESSORIES
We carry a line of the RED MAN brand Rubber hose, 5 ply in continuous lengths which we are selling at 15 cents per foot. Nothing better on the market than the RED MAN brand.
We also have a full stock of Nozzles, Sprays, Couplings, etc.
FRANK DOUGLAS
PRACTICAL HARDWARE. BOTH PHONES 15-17 S. RIVER ST.

A NICE CEMENT BLOCK FOUNDATION
Ask your contractor how much the cost of such an improvement. You will be surprised at how low they can be put in. They are the more sanitary, slightly and are everlasting. We are equipped to furnish all sizes and shapes.
J. A. DENNING
60-62 South Franklin St. New Phone Blue 331.

THIS IS THE SEASON OF HARD ELECTRICAL STORMS
Protect your buildings from destruction by lightning, by having them rodged. Properly rodged with our cable they are practically free from all liability of being struck by lightning.
J. D. & E. G. OWEN
21-23 NORTH FRANKLIN ST. BOTH PHONES.

BUILD A BUNGALOW
You'll not regret the investment; the bungalow is the modern expression in home building. I'll save you money and guarantee workmanship. I'll pay you well to see me before you build a bungalow or before you complete your plans.
WM. J. MCGOWAN
ROCK CO. PHONE 1259 BLACK. RANDALL AVE.

LANDSCAPE GARDENING
Let us make the surroundings of your new home beautiful. Hardy Roses, Ornamental Shrubs of all descriptions. Modest prices.
JANESVILLE FLORAL CO.
Edw. Amerpohl, Prop.

Pifield Lumber Company BUILDING MATERIAL
Sole Agents for Wright's Indestructible Wall Board. It is warmer, stronger and cheaper than plaster and can be paneled painted, calcimined or papered.

WILLIAM HEMMING
Painting, Paperhanging and Decorating
Dealer in Paints, Oils, Plate and Window Glass.
Phones, New 869 Red. Old 1271.
56 S. Franklin St. Janesville, Wis.